Our regular printer went into hospital for an operation recently and is now convalescing. We wish him a speedy and complete recovery. While he is unable to print Trio for us we shall not have the advantage of his special rapid service so the newsletter may not appear quite as promptly as usual. Please accept our apologies if you experience any delay.

Thanks to Ted Childs for proofreading for us; he was the first to offer to do the job; this is a tremendous help. Thanks also to all the others who offered to do the work, we shall keep them in mind in case we need a deputy at any time.

P.I.D.T.A.

LIFEBOAT

There are three service calls to report:

Parachutists

On Thursday 2nd. July, the Inshore Lifeboat (I.L.B.) went to assist when seven army parachutists landed in the sea off Boscastle. Two men were transferred from a local fishing boat to the I.L.B. and later into a helicopter. A quantity of parachutes and other gear was also recovered and brought back to the station; it was later collected by its grateful owners.

In-coming Tide at Tintagel

On Monday 20th. July, the I.L.B. was called out to go to the aid of a woman reportedly trapped by the in-coming tide in a cave at Tintagel. The boat was re-called shortly after leaving the harbour - the woman was reported safe.

Diver in Difficulty

On Wednesday 22nd. July, the I.L.B. went to Port Gaverne beach where a diver had been brought in after surfacing too quickly; the first-hand knowledge of this type of problem possessed by one of the I.L.B. crew helped to re-assure the man who was later transferred by helicopter to Derriford hospital; the man spent some hours in a special decompression chamber. He was discharged the following day.

MEMORIAL BENCH

We are pleased to say that the memorial bench dedicated to Spike Jones and Mark Brewer is finally in a suitable place overlooking Port Isaac village. We would like to thank everyone who gave generous donations and all who contributed towards the raffle held in the 'Shipwright'.

A very special thank you to Malcolm Lee who helped make it possible and to Robert Sloman who kindly gave us permission to have the bench on his land. Thanks also to Bryan Richards, Dave Dingle, Andy Penny, Chris Everett, and the 'Shipwright'.

Finally we would like to point out to the Port Isaac Posse - the bench is there - let's use it.

Parish Council

At the monthly meeting on Monday 13th. July, Dennis Knight spoke during 'public discussion', about the state of the hedges in the village. The matter will be discussed next month.

Peggy Richards spoke of illegal parking causing obstruction in the village, also about problems of traffic signs obscured by overgrowth, and acres of ragwort which should be destroyed – much of it on District Council land.

Victoria House

The Council is writing to the owner, and the workmen, commending the excellent reconstruction work.

Finance

A proposal by the Treasurer that £2,200 be transferred from the high-interest account to the current account was approved. After payment of monthly expenses this will leave £186 in the current account and £6,554 in the high-interest account.

Chairman's Report

Port Isaac Harbour. He had been canvassed by local people, and a public petition had been circulated, after rocks inside the east breakwater had been bulldozed. He approached the Harbour Commissioners about this as he thought it a matter of courtesy that they should inform the Parish Council of such actions. A letter from the Duchy of Cornwall, owners of the harbour, expressed anger at not being consulted before work was started.

Millennium Project. He had taken no more action on the plan to plant daffodils along the roads approaching Port Isaac as he understood that his proposal had been defeated. This will be re-examined next month

Grass Cutting. A local contractor has cut the grass verges at Mayfield as Cornwall County Highways were not due to do it for several weeks.

Seats

The grass under some seats has been trimmed, a seat on Port Gaverne Hill has been repaired, and a broken seat on 'Letter Box Green' at Trelights has been removed and will be replaced with an undedicated seat taken from the coast path.

Keeping Trelights Tidy

The Chairman had walked round the village recently and had found it very tidy. Letters were read out from Mr. A'Court and Mrs. Payne, residents of the village. These will be answered.

Playing Field

It was pointed out that the recently repaired gate was being left wide open. It was proposed that, if there was no co-operation, a letter will be sent to all users requesting that the gate be left shut.

Trelights Village Pump

A local workman will be asked, if possible, to repair the handle which is seized-up but to advise the Council if the cost is likely to exceed £50.

Absentee Property Owners

The idea that a voluntary list of contact telephone numbers could be compiled for empty properties in Port Isaac and Trelights was dropped since the holder of the list might be suspected if there was a security problem.

Parking on Port Gaverne Beach

A proposal to ask The National Trust to allow visiting diving clubs to park vehicles and equipment on the beach (and so allow others to use the few parking spaces provided) was pre-empted by a letter from The Trust implying that they would not be able to grant such permission. It was also learned that Mrs. Ross, Port Gaverne Hotel, had offered the clubs the use of parking space at 'Cartway' cottage.

Waddy Gully, the Main

Mr. Lee reported that rock falls had undermined the soil at the cliff edge and he had put some warning notices there. A contractor will be asked to remove the soil using a JCB equipped with a 20ft. arm .

Seat in Memory of Spike Jones

Mr. Phelps congratulated all those who had raised the money for this seat. They had asked for it to be placed on Lobber but he was concerned that any necessary protective fencing could be expensive and suggested that a granite slab seat with a plaque on it might be an alternative.

The money raisers requested that the seat be on Lobber, and landowner Mr. R. Sloman had raised no objections so the request will be approved. The seat may be placed just inside the open gateway where it will have a good view over to Tintagel. It was hoped to put it in position on the anniversary of the tragedy.

A member of the seat committee expressed disappointment that it had been thought that they might waste Parish Council money by siting the seat unsuitably.

Clerk's Correspondence and Report

a. Highways are scheduled to patch Hartland Road later in the summer and will 'tar and chip' it next April.

b. The street light on Victoria House has been replaced and is working.

c. Rainwater gullies are not cleared as frequently as they used to be – lack of finance – County Highways rely on the public to report any problems.

d. A leaflet 'Outdoor Basketball Initiative' and the Cornwall Play Association 'Playground' magazine were passed to Mr. Morgan, chairman of the St. Endellion Recreation Group.

e. A Cornwall Rural Community Council questionnaire 'Parish Councils role in the future of transport systems in Cornwall' and a Millennium Festival Fact Sheet were passed to Mr. Lee and Mr. Morgan.

Press and Public Asked to Leave

(The following items of business involved the likely disclosure of exempt information as defined in the identified Paragraphs of Part 1 of Schedule 12A of the Local Government Act 1972)

a. A tender for a new notice board at Trelights.

b. A tender for repairs to the wall at Coronation Park. The Treasurer said that with funds somewhat low it would be advisable to postpone the work until next April and new tenders will be sought in time for this.

Next Meeting

The next monthly meeting of the St. Endellion Parish Council will be on Monday 10th. August at 7.30pm. in the Church Rooms, Port Isaac.

CLERK'S REPORT

Information on some Local Government items of interest.

New Councillor

Peggy Richards applied for the position created by the departure of Henry Stickland and, being the only nominee, she will join the Parish Council at the next meeting without need for an election. She was previously a member from 1987 to 1981.

Cornwall County Council Civic Amenity Sites

There is a list of the revised opening times for the period 1st. April – 30th. September 1998 on the Parish Council boards in Fore Street and at Trelights.

Notice Boards

Due to the number of notices that need to be posted, the Liberal Club Board, Fore Street, will be considered as the 'main' board for the time being. Notices of meetings, statutory notices, etc. will be posted on the other boards but only as many other notices as space allows.

Eclipse Rumours Scotched

Rumours that Cornwall will be caught unawares by the numbers wanting to view the eclipse have been denied by planners. It is impossible to predict the scale of the influx, but planning is well in hand. Organisations responsible for planning ahead realise that maximum numbers must be able to travel safely, experience the eclipse, and enjoy their time in Cornwall. This is the most enormous outdoor party, an unrepeatable 'shop window' for Cornish tourism and business, and a great potential boost for the county's economy.

To avoid possible gridlock on the roads and chaos at camp sites visitors will be advised to book early, arrive early, and leave late to get the best accommodation and have the least travel problems. Only opportunists and 'day trippers' are likely to meet disappointment and frustrating journeys.

HAIRCUT

18 NEW ROAD · PORT ISAAC
MON-FRI 2-7pm · SATS 12-4pm

The County Council is working closely with the Police to minimise problems created by large volumes of traffic. Access for emergency services and the transportation of goods are as important as controlling the flow of tourist traffic. Residents and their guests will be asked to keep motoring to a minimum either side of August 11th, and will be encouraged to walk, cycle or use public transport to get to work or do the shopping.

The District Council is inviting existing camp site operators and the farming community to plan for visitors, far in excess of a usual peak season. Field space can be set aside for camping or used to form an alliance with nearby sites. Special temporary licences are available from North Cornwall District Council Planning Department.

ROADSIDE HEDGES

May I remind all owners and occupiers of properties and land which have hedges abutting the roads and footways that they have a legal duty to trim these hedges in order to protect the safety of road-users and pedestrians. As well as this legal duty, which can be enforced by the County Council as the Highway Authority, people have a moral responsibility to keep the appearance of these hedges and the environment in which they live and share with others, in a tidy and safe condition. Please help me to help you.

Despite the attractions of England playing in the World Cup that evening, many people came to the church on Friday to listen to a delightful concert given by the Bristol University Madrigal Ensemble. In fact the audience was the largest in the Ensemble's experience of annual visits to the church on their West Country tour. The varied programme of madrigals, folk songs, spiritual songs, and Barber Shop, as well as the vitality and enthusiasm of the young singers, created a most enjoyable concert. At the end, much appreciation was expressed by the Curate, who also thanked Mrs. Sandra Warne and Mrs. Pam Richards for providing tea and coffee during the interval.

The event was organised to raise funds for the church and as well as pasties there was a delicious selection of puddings. Despite the torrential rain it was a most sociable and enjoyable occasion and nearly £580 was raised for church funds. The Curate expressed the thanks and appreciation of all present to Mr. and Mrs. Richards and helpers. Raffle winners were Mrs. Jennie Godwin, programme which included Barber's lyrical 'Adagio for Strings,' Handel's Concerto No. 6 for Harp and Strings, the Concerto for Double Bass and Strings by Ridout, Weber's Andante and Hungarian Rondo for Bassoon and Orchestra, some traditional Cornish dances and 'Shosholozza' a South African song. #### ST. PETER'S

On the morning of St. Peter's Day, Sunday 19th. July, the Sunday school portrayed in the church the story of Daniel. The lions were very fierce and deserve their summer break. We thank St. Breward Band for later joining us at 'Songs of Praise' on one of the few evenings when we did not have rain.

Sunday school begins again at the beginning of September. Please get in touch with Rosemary Williams for further details.

The follow-up of the Emmaus Course will begin in the autumn. Please look out for more information.

If you have a key to either the church or church rooms please will you let me know, telephone 880311.

I would like to thank everybody for all their kind wishes, cards, help, and offers of help after my unplanned free-fall parachute jump without a parachute. Also, as Victoria House is almost back to normal and Frank isn't here to say it, I would like to thank the lads who did the work on it, and everybody for help and comments. Special thanks to Mary Reid for afternoon tea from day one.

While I'm on the subject of work I might as well remind everybody that I'm available for all building work at reasonable rates.

Thanks again, John and Jill McDonnell.

ever seen of the cellars, but a small section of the Providence Cellar is still visible along the cliff path behind Dennis Knight's, and a section of the seaward wall of the Mary Cellar can be seen from the cliff path just behind the first group of Overcliff houses. The local history group has a copy of a photograph of part of the Good Intent Cellar just before it was demolished, and rumours persist that photographs exist showing the other two cellars, but none have come to light. These cellars are probably the only significant Port Isaac buildings which are no longer visible, and form an important part of our village heritage. If you have any information about any early photos of this part of the village, the history group would like to know about them to ensure they do not become lost like so many other photos.

THE LOST FISH CELLARS OF PORT ISAAC

Watching Nigel Andrews recently, demolishing a house wall in Alma Place, behind Dennis Knight's, it was clear that he was working on one of our former fish cellars – the cob wall with a slate base being distinctive. Port Isaac had three cellars on the clifftops above the harbour. Their locations are recorded on the Tithe Map of 1840. By 1880 they had gone and few may now realise they had even existed. The Good Intent Cellar was completely demolished in the 1870s to make way for the village school. The Providence Cellar and Mary Cellar were higher up on open ground known as Trewatha Common, or Port Isaac Hills.

Comparison of the Tithe Map with the first large scale Ordnance Survey map of 1880 shows much expansion of Port Isaac into this area during the intervening 40 years, and the creation of the upper part of Fore Street. Apart from the addition of St Peter's Church in 1882, and recent building around Overcliff, little has changed since 1880. The Good Intent Cellar was earlier owned by Lord Grenville, but by 1840 it was owned by Anna Maria Agar of Lanhydrock and leased to the Good Intent Seine Company. Both the Providence and Mary Cellars were owned in 1840 by Earl Fortescue but were not leased out – perhaps the decline in fishing by 1840 meant they were already obsolete. Certainly by 1880 they had been partly demolished, with the seaward end of the Providence Cellar becoming houses (now Alma Place) and the NE arm of the Mary Cellar becoming the Coastguard Station and cottages (now Coastguard Cottages).

Trewatha Common was in piecemeal ownership, but was not separately fenced, as indicated by the dotted boundary lines on the map. Most of this land – see the Tithe Map above – was owned by Earl Fortescue (EF) and Samuel Billing (SB) (who also owned the cottages known as Billings Row, opposite the Good Intent Cellar, demolished in 1911 to make way for the Liberal Club, as well as the cliff-side house and garden to the north). The rest of Trewatha Common was owned by Joseph Glanville (JG), Samuel Kekewich (SK) and Thomas Phillips (TP); interestingly, the unfenced boundaries have shaped subsequent development. Earl Fortescue's central portion was sold off for housing to become Canadian Terrace at the SW end, and North Hill Terrace at the NE end. The boundary north from the Good Intent Cellar became part of Fore Street continuing round to become the footpath to Port Gaverne (it may well have been a permissive path in 1840).

Apart from occasional uncoverings, like those by Nigel Andrews, little is

Japanese Knotweed

Introduced to the UK in the mid nineteenth century as an ornamental plant, this weed has become a serious problem and is displacing native flora. Capable of growing from tiny fragments. It smothers other habitats and has extensive and deep root systems making it capable of causing structural damage. The plant's amazing regenerative powers mean that it can spread very rapidly. Many areas of the County are being choked by Japanese Knotweed which has now been found in the Rocky Valley.

HOMER PARK STABLES PORT ISAAC

How better to see the beautiful coastline and countryside around Port Isaac than on horseback? We can offer safe off-road riding for all ages and abilities on escorted one and two hour rides. For the more experienced, longer rides on Bodmin Moor are available.

For further information and to book call (01208) 880913 and ask for Karen or Claire.

Need for Control

The County Council and the Environment Agency are co-ordinating a Forum in an attempt to control this extremely invasive and damaging weed. They are working closely with other bodies to raise awareness of the problem and to find a co-ordinated approach for its control.

A leaflet has been produced which provides information about the plant, what to do and what not to do with it.

Information Request

We need the help of the public, farmers and landowners to enable us to build a clearer picture of where it is so that resources can be put to best effect. If you know of Knotweed sites or would like a copy of the leaflet please contact us at:

The Customer Services Officer,
Environment Agency,
Sir John Moore House,
Victoria Square, Bodmin,
Cornwall, PL31 1EB.

Tel: (01208) 78301

NB It is illegal to spread Japanese Knotweed and any Japanese Knotweed material moved from a site is a controlled waste.

PORT ISAAC CHORALE

Port Isaac Chorale gave two concerts last month, one at Luxulyan Chapel to celebrate its centenary, and the other at St. Minver Church organised by the St. Minver Scouts in aid of the Children's Hospital.

The Chorale will be singing on the Platt on Tuesdays during August, from the 11th., to raise funds. Hopefully the weather will be more co-operative than last year!

The Chorale is always available for concerts to raise money for local causes and charities; if anyone is planning to put on such an event please feel free to get in touch.
