

MARRIAGE REGULATIONS

After consultation with the Registrar recently I feel it right to make it clear that residence in the Civil Parish of St. Endellion (which includes Port Isaac) does not confer the right to be married in the Parish Church of St. Endellion. Those who reside in the Ecclesiastical Parish of St. Endellion or who are on the Church Electoral Roll are entitled to this privilege. Those who do not fulfil these requirements have to obtain a Special Licence from the Archbishop, and in future residence in Port Isaac as part of the Civil Parish of St. Endellion cannot be regarded as sufficient grounds for recommending the granting of such a licence.

Hugh Fryer, Rector.

MARRIAGE OF ELAINE TO TONY PICKERING

Our thanks to all those who helped make 'the day' for Elaine and Tony.

To Noreen Honey and Joyce Collins who decorated Roscarrock Hill Church, to Mrs. Bertha Blake for giving her time to play the organ, and to the Minister, Revd. John Young, and the stewards of the Church for their help.

The reception at the Old School was excellent, and Pat Collins' cake was a masterpiece.

Finally, to whoever controls the weather, our heartfelt thanks for giving us the only fine day in August!

George and Ann Steer.

A REMINDER

St. Peter's Parish Church Port Isaac - the Parish Eucharist on Sundays is to remain at 10am. until further notice.

CONDOLENCES

We offer a message of sympathy to the family of Mrs. Josephine Provis who died on August 6th.

SPONSORED WALK

We are hoping to have a sponsored walk to raise money for the three churches of St. Endellion, Port Isaac, and St. Kew on Saturday 12th. October, starting from St. Endellion at 10am. and walking to Port Isaac, Port Gaverne, and St. Kew, returning to our starting point. All will be welcome to join us - it is about 11 miles, and you would be advised to wear good walking shoes or boots. Those under 18 will be welcome to join us but it must be on condition that they walk under adult supervision.

Sponsor Forms are available in each of the three Churches, and although it is a good idea to take a little food and drink, we hope to provide light refreshment at Port Isaac and St. Kew. For more details please contact either the Rector or the Churchwardens of the three Churches.

[Apples provide good 'food-and-drink' for a walk. Ed.]

FAMINE RELIEF APPEAL

During the summer a small but very loyal group of helpers have been holding coffee evenings in aid of the Tuesday Evening Fellowship's Famine Relief Appeal, and the fund now stands at approximately £500.

Some while ago we promised another Crossword, and this is due out shortly. Thanks to the generosity of Mr. M. Daly of Port Isaac Relays, the prize will be a brand new 3-band Toshiba portable radio, and we confidently appeal to all for help in making this a very great success.

We would like to thank those who have anonymously sent donations including one by post.

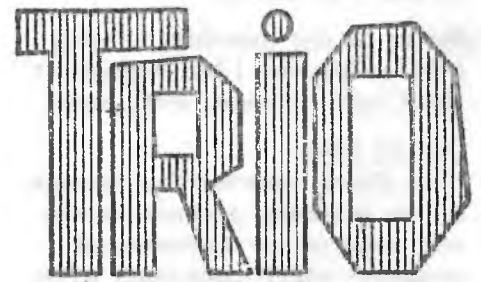

Wesley Blake.

CLOSED FOR ONE WEEK

The Blackthorn Crafts shop and printing service will be closed from Monday 30th. September - Saturday 5th. October inclusive.

TV AERIALS

If a booster aerial is installed, and the 'line' discontinued, Port Isaac could become a forest of TV aerials.

PARISH COUNCIL

Notes of the monthly meeting held on Monday 12th. August, at the Church Rooms, Port Isaac.

Use of Shop

Clr. Dawe reported that change of use planning permission was not required for commercial premises which continued to be retail business, except for certain types of business such as selling meals.

Finance

With £25.77 in the bank and £690 on deposit, £600 to be precepted to meet current expenses. £150 to be paid for footpath work 'on account' and the balance of £110 to be paid later. Mr. Sweet was complimented for his work painting all the seats, but the numbers should have been on the backs. All maintenance work is now up to date.

Public Toilets, Port Gaverne

The users of the various cellars did not want to relinquish them, so, after two meetings between the Parish Council, National Trust, and a representative from North Cornwall District Council, it was decided that one of the car spaces in Rashleigh Cellar could be used. Mr. McNichol to be asked to draw up plans and Mr. Scott to be asked for a rough price, to be submitted to N.C.D.C. by the end of August in the hope that some money may be available for this item. Planning permission will be necessary, and the plans will also have to be passed by the National Trust. Questions were asked, 'Who will pay for the electricity?' and 'Who will clean them and maintain them?'

Port Isaac School Governors

The governors are appointed for a 4-year period and consist of the head master, teachers, parents, and members of the public. The representative of the Parish Council is not a delegate of the Council and can continue to be a governor even if ceasing to be a parish councillor. Mr. Symons said that he didn't feel that more 'teacher' members were needed, but still recommended Mrs Cann for the position for her experience on 'governing bodies', proposed by Mrs. Barron, seconded by Mr. Symons, and carried unanimously.

Seat - The Main - Port Gaverne

Mrs. Grace Cotton (formerly Procter) would like to donate a seat to be placed somewhere at Port Gaverne. The site suggested by the councillors is at the bottom of the track on the Main near the top of Teague's Pit. [Should it be 'Teague's Pit' or 'Tag's Pit'? Ed.]

Light-Hartland Road

The pole behind the houses does not belong to S.W.E.B. and lines would be necessary to supply current and be expensive. Costs would be borne by the Parish Council as it would only be a 'footpath' situation. It was felt that tenants were at liberty to put their own lights on their houses. Mr. Sweet to be asked to whiten the steps down to Trewetha Lane.

Coastal Path

From the car park around to 'Overcliff' there is a splendid new fence but no gate in the gap at 'Castle Rock View' [This has now been wired up. Ed.] and the old wire fence has been broken down, and rubble dumped over it when the tarmac was done. A site meeting of the parish council to be held after this meeting to inspect the problem.

Car Port, Rose Hill

A planning officer to inspect the site where a wall has been broken down to see if planning permission should be obtained for this scheme. It was pointed out that the bollard in Rose Hill had been installed after a car got jammed in the narrow lane some years ago.

'Port Gaverne' Sign

Mrs. Ross, Port Gaverne Hotel, reported that some visitors had difficulty finding Port Gaverne and that it would help if a sign could be added at Port Isaac Turning on the B.3314. The Highways Department have agreed to put a sign up.

Information for Guide

The Polzeath & Rock Publicity Committee want to produce a leaflet giving information about the district around the Camel Estuary, stretching to Port Isaac, and are asking for support from Parish Councils. It was decided to ask the 'local publisher', Mr. Penna, to write a description of Port Isaac.

Garden Help for Elderly

The Clerk said that there was a scheme to help elderly people by improving their gardens on a 'once and for all' basis.

Plans

Modifications to Shop/Store Extension, Trelights. There were no observations on this item.

Mrs. Jackson, Flat 3, Seapoint, The Terrace, Port Isaac. Change of use from private dwelling to flat. No observations but query fire precautions.

K.C.Richards, Erection of Workshop/Store behind Bodannon Bungalow. Considered 'out of sight' - no observations.

North Cornwall District Council, The Wrennery, St. Illicks, Port Gaverne. Erection of two dwellings in lieu of existing ones which are to be demolished. This application is for planning permission to facilitate the intended sale of the site, no council houses are to be built there. Cllr. Dawe said that it could be specified that they were to build bungalows not houses in view of the prominent position. Mr. Symons pointed out that he had raised this matter at the Annual Parish Meeting, in 1983. There were no other observations on this item.

W. Dawe, Re-position Plot 12, Trelights. (Cllr. Dawe declared an interest.) No observations.

Public Discussion

Mr. Penna pointed out that, for a relatively fast stretch of road, Trewetha Lane/New Road is very poorly lighted. Unless you have good headlights, it is not easy to see people crossing the road in the dark.

Some complaints were voiced about problems experienced with telephones since the connection of the new 'switching unit'. False calls were being received, crossed lines were frequent. Chairman John Cunningham said that everybody must complain to British Telecom about this.

The public were asked to leave at this point as the Council were to discuss the Clerk's salary and also had to consider the allocation of a council house.

Next Monthly Meeting

As the Clerk will be on holiday, next month's meeting, which will be at Trelights, will be one week later than usual - Monday 16th. September, 7.30pm.

PORT ISAAC SINGERS IN BRITTANY

The Port Isaac Singers have gone 'foreign' for the first time! We went to the Lorient festival in Brittany as part of the Cornish delegation of musicians, dancers, sportsmen, and artists. At Lorient for the last 15 years, the Celtic nations of Brittany, Cornwall, Wales, Scotland, Ireland, Galicia (in Spain), and the Isle of Man, have met together annually to celebrate their common heritage. It is now an enormous undertaking with some 4,000 taking part. We went with very little idea of what was expected of us but it proved an incredible and highly enjoyable experience, if very tiring - some 11 concerts plus lots of impromptu sessions in the 10 days. Our venues ranged (in one day) from the Open Air Gardens at 12.30am. to a massive tent at 2.30, and to the beautiful Cathedral of St. Louis at 9.30 that same evening! Apart from the music, the social mixing together, particularly at meal times, with all sorts and nationalities, proved especially enjoyable. Often communication was difficult, particularly with the Spanish who spoke no English, but by shouting, waving of arms, and drawing pictures on the table cloth, and, of course, through music, we communicated very well indeed - or at least got the message over. The highlight for all of us was the grand procession on the last day. It had been rained off in the morning, which could have been disastrous as people had come from all over Brittany even further afield in France to take part, all in the most magnificent costumes, with their Pipes and Bombards - a type of oboe. Also spectators, thousands of them, pay to view the march so it is a big source of revenue to the Festival. However by 6pm. it all began in earnest. 2,000 dancers, pipers, musicians, drummers, and the Port Isaac Singers singing all the way! Our new yellow dresses with a Cornish tartan sash made an impressive splash of colour. We did Cornwall proud! The same evening we gave a concert with Brenda Wootton and others of the Cornish delegation to a large enthusiastic audience. Although the festival ended that day we gave another concert in a lovely little 11th. Century church in a village twinned with Stithians, followed by a Mayoral reception and buffet supper. Although two hours late (not our fault) the village square was thronged with people waiting to greet us when we arrived. Everywhere we went we encountered friendliness and a marvelously enthusiastic reception. The song everyone wanted to hear again and again was 'Amazing Grace'! It will never be sung by us again without bringing back lovely memories of Lorient. Janet Townsend.

[Report received 26th. July.]

Summer Fair 'Bonanza'

Our thanks go to all parents, children, and villagers who contributed to the success of our summer fair on Tuesday 23rd. July. A profit of £200 was made for school funds, a great start for the new school year. Once again it was hard work and help freely given by so many people which made for a very enjoyable afternoon. ### Hire of School Premises

May we draw your attention to the fact that the school hall and also the playground are available for hire at a very reasonable rate to any organisation in the Port Isaac area. Further details can be obtained from Mr. Bruce at the school, telephone 880494.

THE HORIZON & LUNDY

There are various ways to get a rough idea of how far away the horizon is from where you are standing, if you know your height above sea level in feet. The simplest is to calculate the square root of the height, then add one third. At 100ft. above sea level, for example, the horizon would be about  $10 + 3.3 = \text{approx. } 13.30$  miles away. Now, Lundy Island is about 40 miles away, as the gannet flies, so you would think that it was

Leavers Service

A leavers service was held in school on Thursday 25th. July and was well attended by parents and friends. Mr. Ken Davies, the Primary Schools County Advisory teacher, wished the children every success in the future and presented books to the fourth year leavers. These were gifts from the school and P.T.A. Cups for children who have shown a high level of responsibility during the year were awarded to necessary to be about 900ft. above sea level to see it (square root of  $900 = 30 + 10 = 40$ ) and nowhere in the parish is so high. But Lundy is 400ft. high, and at that height the horizon is about 26.67 miles away.  $26.67 + 13.30 = 39.97$  (40) so that the island is just visible in clear conditions. It can appear higher when there is moisture in the atmosphere which acts like a mirror reflecting more of the island over the horizon - at least I think so!

Robin Penna.

Summer Tide at Port Isaac, by Eric.

With the schools of England, silent, still,
The human tide foams down
the hill,
The man who's spent his life
on ships, Hears snatches from a thousand lips,
"Johnny's got 'is trousis wet"
"Peter's pinched me fishin' net"
"I think it's coming on to rain"
"Mother wants the loo again"
"Ay say, landlord, two large ports"
"She should never be in shorts"
"How quaint this ducky fishing place"
"Wipe that ice cream off yer face"
"Ou est la café? s'il vous plait"
"Throw that smelly fish away"
On an on until September Safe journey home, and in December,
Softer voices at the meeting
On the hill, a quiet greeting,
"Mornin' Jack, Hello Harold"
"Nice day Mark, How's young Carole?"
The tide has ebbed and gone away,
Welcome back again next May.

LETTERS

Dear Sir, May I, in Trio, say I am amazed at the statement, concerning the St. Endellion bus shelter, that a Church porch should be used as an alternative for the schoolchildren. The Church should not come into this. The porch is kept locked because there have been thefts on these premises in the past. Who is going to supervise these children? To make such a remark is just an easy way out of having a bus shelter at St. Endellion which is just as important as the tennis courts in Port Isaac. I think these will end up like the skateboard rinks which councils spent money on in the past. How many are going to use them? I asked for a bus shelter 12 years ago and we still have not got it. Trelights could also do with a bus shelter for the service bus to Wadebridge and it would also serve a useful purpose for those who go to the Library van. I think also a couple of swings and a slide for the children wouldn't be asking too much, after all, Port Isaac seems to have a good share of money spent on it. Perhaps the County Council will find some money for St. Endellion and Trelights, I hope so.

Yours faithfully,

Evelyn Brown.

Dear Sir, May I, through the Trio, convey my very grateful thanks to the members of the Methodist Tuesday Evening Fellowship for their very generous gift of £25 for the children of the Gambia, where I visited on a Mission last January. I have sent the money to an old African priest who, with his bedridden wife, looks after as many orphans as they can manage at any one time in their, materially, very poor home in Banjul. There is no state provision for these children and they rely entirely on such Christian kindness.

People in the village who supported St. Peter's Church Hunger Lunches in Lent, may also like to know that this week I have received a very movingly grateful letter for the £75 we sent out earlier.

As the long-awaited rains have at last arrived, they used the money to hire a tractor to plough up the land around the school at Banjulinding and to purchase seed and fertilizer to grow maize and rice. This will help to feed the numbers of small children under 8 who attend the school and who would otherwise get no mid-day meal. Any surplus will be sold to raise funds for the out-reach work at the little school up-river at Basse in which we are particularly interested.

We also thank those who have so generously supported the Gambia stall at the Mini-Markets through the summer. Seeds have also been purchased with some of this money and further funds will be sent out in the Autumn to sponsor more children to attend school and thereby qualify to receive something to eat each day. (No State education is available for children under 9.) It costs approx. 25p. a week to send a child to school - far beyond the capacity of a normal Gambian family.

Thank you so much for all your help. If any person (or group of people) would be interested in sponsoring a little boy or girl for some education and a bowl of rice a day, please get in touch with me through the Trio!

Yours gratefully,

Olive Dunford.

Dear Sir, About 12 years ago Port Isaac was declared a Conservation area. It was thought that this would mean that the uniqueness and beauty of Port Isaac would be protected by the Planning regulations and prevent it from suffering the fate of so many coastal villages. This has proved futile. In practice it appears that as long as you don't apply for planning permission in the Conservation area you can do whatever you like, to the detriment of the environment and no one really cares. Port Isaac is becoming less and less attractive. This doesn't matter too much to the second-home owners here who can easily sell, once their investment starts to fall off - but it does matter to those of us who live here.

Less visitors mean fewer summer jobs and less money in the village could lead ultimately to the closing of shops and more people being forced to move away.

It is up to us to protect and conserve what we have here. The planners won't be interested unless we show them that we care what happens to our village. A Conservation area must mean what it says.

Yours faithfully,

Janet Townsend.

COMPETITION

The lucky winner who sent in the correct solution to last month's picture puzzle - it was 'Clematis Cottage' at Trelights - was sent in by C. Saundry of Port Isaac, and wins the £2.00 prize which should be collected from 18 New Road, Port Isaac.

Other correct solutions from: Miss V. Baker, Tolraggott, Antonietta Dawe, Pennant, Suzanne Richards, Bodannon, and Jeremy Coshall, Mrs. C. Gifford, Mr. C. Honey, and D.R.Stroud, Port Isaac.

This month, a sketch of the Port Isaac fishing boats at their moorings. The prize of £2.00 will be awarded to the lucky winner who sends a list giving the name, number, or owner's name, of each of the nine boats. Entries to 18 New Road, before Friday 27th. September.

LIFEBOAT

Due to the adverse weather conditions, the annual Lifeboat Larks had to be cancelled. The event will be planned for next year and it is hoped that the sun will shine on that day.

The Barbecue re-arranged from 17th. July due to bad weather was to have been held on 21st. August but the bad weather struck again causing the event to be cancelled. This is the third event organised by the RNLI that has been rained off.

The Lifeboat was called out on service on Wednesday 21st. August to search for a missing swimmer off Tristram, Polzeath. the search involved Padstow Lifeboat, helicopter from RAF Chivenor, Coastguard Cliff Team, and the Port Isaac Lifeboat. After a search lasting nearly three hours, the Lifeboat returned to station. Crew members were: Andy Walton, Ted Childs, and Mark Provis.

David Castle.

PORT YZAK?

To avoid the common misspelling of 'Port Isaac', I think perhaps we should use the Cornish words 'Porth Yzak' - pronounced 'Port Izzak' - meaning 'port rich in corn' and possibly the origin of the name, anyway. Ed.

ATTENTION

To all cuddly 'Trio' readers who have a few pounds (or a few stone) too many. I am to be the 'Uni-Vite' Advisor in Port Isaac and if, like me, you want to shed some weight, I shall be holding a meeting on Tuesday 11th. September, 10.30am. at my home, 9 The Terrace, Port Isaac, ring 880536. If enough people are interested, a weekly meeting will continue, with a weigh in, where we can all have a chat about our diet, weight LOSS, and why we sometimes break down. I'm looking forward to hearing from you all. See you on the 11th. Ann Cleave.

PLAYING FIELDS

We would like to thank 'The Lions' for organising the Donkey Derby. Before this could take place we had to collect sponsorship for each race and donkey and would like to thank all the local people who responded to our efforts here so willingly.
We would especially like to thank Mr. Ken Richards, Mr. Ian McWilliam and Gang, Mr. Mike Warner (the Old School), and The Harbour Shop, for their help.
We were delighted the evening was such a success. Approx.
£170 was raised for equipment for the playing fields.
It has been suggested by the Lions that we hold two Donkey Derbys next year, so we will be hoping for everyone's support again.

RECIPE

Paté de Liégois

1lb. chicken livers, 1/2 lb. unsalted butter, 2tsps. dry mustard, 1/2tsp. ground cloves, 1tsp.
grated nutmeg (fresh grated is by far the best), 1 medium onion finely grated, 1/2lb. smoked bacon bits.

Put chicken livers, blood and all,
into a saucepan. Cover with cold water, add 1/2tsp. salt, and simmer, not boil, for 20min.
Drain and dry with paper towels, put it through a fine mincer and then put it through again.
Meanwhile grill the bacon bits and, when cooked, put through the mincer, twice, after the liver. The onion can be put through as well. Blend the rest of the ingredients, add liver, and mix well. Butter one or two earthenware dishes and put the paté into them. Cover and put in the fridge - it will keep for a very long time. When you need it, put a little hot water into a bowl and stand the dish of paté in it for a second or two, loosen the sides with a knife, and turn out onto a dish. Forget your lettuce leaves and tomatoes - order watercress the day before you want it and place it round the paté with thinly sliced onion rings. Give each person a wedge of lemon to squeeze. Serve with toast and butter.
