Car Park Charges for 1988

The proposed increase in charges for next year has been the source of much discussion at P.I.D.T.A. meetings and the Association is to give full support to Cllr. Symons in his fight for a fairer way of charging our visitors. It is felt that there could be a short-term fee as well as the daily ticket which can be used in other car parks.

Accommodation List

A questionnaire is being given to all hotels, guest houses, and B & Bs. The information received will be included in a list which will be referred to when enquiries are received. If you offer bed and breakfast accommodation and would like to be included the questionnaires are available at 18 New Road. There is no charge!

Port Isaac Leaflet

The leaflets, with a beautiful colour photograph of Port Isaac Bay supplied by Jim Andrews, have been printed and are being distributed to various outlets. The possibility of direct mailing is also being considered.

Approach to the Government

John Lee Minister for Tourism is to be asked to consider a national scheme to promote quiet, small holiday resorts, such as Port Isaac, which can offer something special but are too small to do really effective advertising.

Robin Penna, Hon. Secretary.

Enid Andrews would like to thank everyone for their kind wishes, cards, flowers, and pressies during her stay in hospital. All is now well.

Mark and Carole would like to thank everyone for their many cards and gifts on the birth of their son Michael.

LIONS' NEW YEAR'S DAY DIP

Help to raise money for your chosen charity on January 1st, 1988 and support Tintagel and Camelford Lions on their New Year's Day Dip at Port Gaverne. Prizes for the best fancy dress. Sponsor forms available from Fund Raising Chairman, Ian Bruce, at Port Isaac School, and Port Gaverne Hotel etc. Hot soup will be served at the Hotel after the plunge.

The Quiet Corner

Sweet is the work, my God, my King,
To praise Thy name, give thanks and sing;
To show Thy love by morning light
And talk of all Thy truth at night.

Isaac Watts 1674-1748

FIREWORK DISPLAY, PORT GAVERNE

A firework display and bonfire were enjoyed by all, thanks to the generosity of Port Isaac and Port Gaverne business men and women who gave us all the money to buy the fireworks. Without their financial help there would have been no 'Bonfire Night' on the fifth of November, something else that would have 'died out', just like the Carnival, through lack of interest or care, the usual 'someone will do it'. All these things take time and money and so we have formed a Firework Committee and we shall raise money during the coming year to finance the 1988 Bonfire Night. Watch Trio for future events.

Thanks to all of you who gave so generously, we had over £200 in fireworks and sparklers, and £41.69 collected on the night to go towards next year's fund. Grateful thanks to John Powell, Neil James, Barry and Norman Cleave, Clive Hester, and John Wiseman and Charlie Julian for their organisation on the beach, ensuring a safe and enjoyable evening for all. Finally thanks to The National Trust for allowing us the use of the Beach.

Ann Cleave,
p.p. The Firework Committee.

I would like to thank all friends and relations for the cards and good wishes also for the help that was given and offers of transport to Truro which was very much appreciated. I am now home again and hoping to make a speedy recovery.

Colin Gifford.

Due to a clash of dates, the St. Peter's Supper at the Cornish Cafe had to be postponed. Watch your Trio for the new date - possibly Shrove Tuesday?

Dilys Phelps.

Older residents of St. Teath and Port Isaac will have learnt of the death at a Rest Home in Truro of Mrs. Margaret Ann Sloggett (nee Auger) aged 92 years. The funeral service on November 4th, was held at St. Teath Parish Church and was attended by relatives and friends. Revd. Michael Pearce conducted the service and the address was given by Mr. Roy Crosley. Mrs. Sloggett was closely connected with the church where her late husband was churchwarden for many years. We express our sympathy to all the family in their bereavement.

The village has lost two more of its oldest residents.

Edwin James Brown (Tinker) aged 82 years, of 23 Fore Street, after a long illness. The funeral service on Friday 27th. November was at Roscarrock Hill Methodist Church and was followed by interment at St. Endellion. Revd, David Easton officiated.

Philip Dean May, aged 80 years, of 23 Rose Hill. He had been in failing health for some time. The funeral service, also on Friday 27th. November, was at St. Endellion Parish Church, conducted by Father Bryan Storey. It was attended by many friends and associates.

We express to both families our sympathy in their time of bereavement.

COMMUNITY NEWSLETTER

PUBLISHED FREE IN AND FOR THE PARISH OF ST. ENDELLION IN NORTH CORNWALL. ISSUED ELEVEN TIMES IN THE YEAR AND DISTRIBUTED [WITHOUT CHARGE] BY THE HARBOUR SHOP AND THE BAY GIFT SHOP, PORT ISAAC, AND BY THE POST OFFICE, TRELIGHTS. ALSO AVAILABLE BY POST FOR £2.75 PER YEAR (CHEQUES PAYABLE TO 'TRIO' PLEASE). PRINTING COSTS ARE MET BY REVENUE FROM ADVERTISING. COMPILED AND DUPLICATED AT THE BLACKTHORN PRESS, 18 NEW ROAD, PORT ISAAC, CORNWALL, PL29 3SB, BY ROBIN PENNA WHOSE VIEWS ARE NOT NECESSARILY THE SAME AS THOSE EXPRESSED BY CONTRIBUTORS.

ISSUE NO. 63

DECEMBER 1987

TRIO WILL COST 10 PENCE

From the next issue, Trio will cost 10p per copy. You should order it in advance from your newsagent who will receive a percentage of the price for the service. The charge has been introduced to meet increasing production costs without putting up our advertising rates which will stay at £1.40 for a single column 'unit' (the advertisement at the foot of this column is 2 'units'). Classified advertisements ('for sale', 'wanted', etc.) will still cost 5p per word. Postal Subscriptions will be £3.30 per year, but the new rate will only apply when your existing subscription has expired. For advertising and subscriptions, please contact Fred Thompson. One advantage of having a charge for Trio is that you can now order it and be sure of getting a copy. We have kept the rates the same for a long time, and we think that asking readers to contribute to the costs is only fair; 10p is only a fraction of the actual cost of a copy of Trio and we hope that it can continue to exist as the local way for all parts of our community in every part of St. Endellion civil parish to keep in touch, not to mention our overseas readers. There still will be no charge for your news items and 'Diary' entries.

Robin Penna.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS

PARISH COUNCIL

A report compiled from notes taken during the monthly meeting held at the Church Rooms, Port Isaac, on Monday 9th. November.

Toilets at Port Gaverne

The layer of chippings could be swept off the path to leave the tarmac surface exposed but users of wheelchairs have reported it satisfactory as it is. The toilets are now closed for the winter and the water has been drained.

Mr. Harris asked for an account of the running costs.

Barbed Wire Gate Coastal Path

There is some danger from the barbed wire which is on the footpath side of the fence and Cllr. Symons offered to telephone Mr. Sloman about this.

Conservation Meeting

Cllr. Symons reported on a meeting where representatives from various organisations spoke about the need to conserve the countryside, improve footpaths, and increase awareness of the unique archaeology and wild life in Cornwall. He also reported that the Heritage Coast area is to be enlarged.

Finance

It was decided to precept for £1,000 of the £1,800 left, to meet expenditure. No details have been received from the National Trust, requested in April, regarding the cost of materials for the doors at Port Gaverne toilets so this payment is to be held over.

Tree Grants

Sites have been chosen for the planting of trees alongside certain roads (for which a licence from the Highway Authority will be needed), in the playing fields and at Trelights.

Seat - Trewetha Lane / Rose Hill

It was suggested that Mr. Godfrey might accept a nominal rent of £1 per annum for the use of his land.

Gates at Playing Fields

It was announced that it would cost in the region of £400 to replace these but further quotations are to be sought for some kind of gate that cannot be removed. The fishermen may not be asked to help with the payment as they might then consider they had a permanent right to use the parking space.

Seats to be painted

At least a coat of undercoat is to be applied to many seats to protect them during the winter. It was thought that they are too wet at present for painting with gloss paint.

Telephone Kiosk, Fore Street

British Telecom have offered to install two of the modern kiosks at Little Hill but would want to remove the existing one in Church Hill at the same time. It was therefore decided to leave the matter for the present and to inform B.T. that the Council would prefer to keep the old type of kiosk in the Port Isaac Conservation Area.

Steps on Cliff Path

Mr. Bolton expressed dismay at the new granite steps which would make it impossible for people in wheelchairs to use the path. A concrete ramp to one side of the path is to be considered.

Christmas Lights

A vote of seven in favour decided that Port Isaac would receive £75 and Trelights £40 towards the cost of their lights. Both schemes are to be extended this year. Mr. Dawe congratulated Mr. Stokes and the people of the village on last year's effort.

Trees - Trelights Farmhouse

In a letter, the Farmhouse Committee said that the old conifers need to be felled before they become dangerous. The Council agreed to this but asked that they be replaced.

Gate on Cliff Path

Mrs. Cann had complained that a gate in the fence of the Port Isaac coast path had been padlocked but it was explained that the land above the cliffs was private and that the landowner was responsible for the public's safety.

Dear Sir, With reference to the suggestion that an extra telephone booth is needed for the village, and that its site would ideally be the turning space outside the Post Office, may I make the following observations and offer a suggested remedy.

- It is most unlikely that British Telecom would install an 'in-keeping' Victorian telephone booth, certainly nothing else would do.
- Its situation would increase the amount of traffic in the already cluttered area.

The remedy is perhaps the positioning of a direction sign pointing out that there is already a public telephone in the Bell Tower hallway of the 'Old School' Hotel, which is available throughout the year and is within sight of the Reception office where advice and information is readily given to villagers and visitors alike.

M.R. Warner.

Have you noticed that the Bell Tower of the Old School now contains an illuminated clock? Ed.

Planning Applications

Mr. A. R. Newton, Tregole, Trelights: Change of use of Agricultural Dwelling. As the occupants now have only 3 acres of land, the Council agreed the application.

New House on site of garage/store, Middle Street, Port Isaac. The plans indicate that the height of the eaves will be approximately the same as 'The Pump' so, apart from a reminder about the Conservation Area, the Council made no observations.

Car Park Charges

The question of charges for the car park at Port Isaac was raised during the 'public discussion'. It was felt that these are too high and a suggestion is to be made to the District Council that meters are installed which will give an hourly as well as a daily rate. Members of the public were urged to write individually to the authorities as well.

P.I.D.T.A.

Cllr. Symons, as Parish Council representative to the Port Isaac & District Tourism Association, gave a report on an 'exceptionally good meeting' at the Church Rooms in October.

Next Meeting.

The next monthly meeting of the Parish Council will be at the Church Rooms, Port Isaac, at 7.30pm. on Monday 14th. December.

OUR VILLAGE

Ted Gundry of BBC Radio Cornwall was here last week to make recordings of local people for the programme 'This is Our Village'.

Dear Sir, On Monday 9th. November in the afternoon, a gentleman drove his pick-up van from Trewetha Lane into Back Hill, past my car (blue Chrysler Sunbeam TDR 647T). As he did so, apparently his door swung open, there was a bang, and his horn sounded. He stopped by Port Isaac Relays and came back up the hill. He met me and said he thought he'd hit my car. We looked at the back of the car - no damage. He left. However his door did hit the near-side wing of my car, damaging the paintwork. Please could the gentleman get in touch with me. Thank you.

PRIZE BINGO

We promised a bumper Christmas Prize Bingo, and the evening in aid of 'The Home Farm Trust' proved to be just that. All the prizes looked very festive and everyone enjoyed themselves, particularly Mr. Dovey who won the star prize which was a wine rack filled with ten bottles of wine. A profit of £280 was realised and this was presented to Mrs. Janet Chadband for the 'Trust'.

To mention everyone who donated prizes, served teas, helped on the door, or helped in any way to make the evening so successful, would fill up the 'Trio', but to all those people - please accept my sincere thanks.

Organising the Bingos is relatively easy when I have friends like Melanie, Julie, Jacky, Sally, Ann, and Sue to help, not just at this one but all the others as well, so special thanks to them. Last but not least thank you to our expert caller, Dave.

A total of £750 has been raised at the five Bingos this year. This has been distributed as follows: Mount Edgcumbe Hospice £130, Port Isaac Brownies £94, Port Isaac Playgroup £115, Port Isaac School £121, Home Farm Trust £280.

May I take this opportunity to wish everyone a Merry Christmas.

Carol Richards.

Gifts of toys, games, and books, in aid of the Radio Cornwall Help Line Appeal, may be brought by the children and presented at the service. There will be a short Nativity Play given by the school children. All are warmly welcomed to the Candlelight Carol Service on the 20th. Revd. Ian Haile, Chairman of Cornwall Methodist District will be the preacher. Please see the 'Diary' for details of times, etc. Mrs. Hooper.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS FROM AFRICA

As you read this, I hope to be travelling by Land Rover along the sun baked tracks of the Gambia in West Africa, renewing old friendships made in 1985 and taking gifts which so many of you in Port Isaac have so generously given for the children there. Balls, toys, pencils, crayons, and books for the nursery school; seeds for the little parched gardens so painstakingly watered from pots carried from great distances on their heads; cotton dresses for the little girls made from materials I appealed for last year; cotton T-shirts generously donated by our own village shop; little babies' night-dresses for the mission hospital way up river; a woolly blanket for a dear lady who has lost a leg with leprosy; woolly vests knitted with care in the village; medical instruments given by an old gentleman whose late wife was a doctor; bandages and syringes for the little remote clinic way up river - and many other things, all given with love. I shall also be seeing the blocks made by the dads and dried in the sun to build the new school at Basse - blocks which many of you have paid for by supporting our Mini-market stall and the Methodist Flower Festival and by your kind donations. We sent out another £317 this autumn to help to build the school - not only for educating the children but to provide a place where they may be led!

I also hope to photograph the children who are sponsored for food and schooling by many kind friends here - including those by our own Methodist Church.

I wish you could all come with to see the joy on the faces as they greet us. And what shall I be bringing back? The loving Christmas wishes of the African children to all of you; the shining examples of their patient happiness and acceptance of so little in life of material goods and I hope a greater understanding of the great world-wide family of God for whom the Babe of Bethlehem was born.

P.S. If there are any others who would care to share in the joy of building that little school - 50p will buy a block!

Olive Dunford.

Don't forget our 24-hour emergency service

Dear Sir, I have recently been subjected to an experience which I feel I ought to share with others, as an indication of what can take place without one's knowledge.

Some twenty or more years ago I planted some trees on the boundary of my garden which adjoins a bungalow with a somewhat nautical denomination, the object being to provide screening and give some privacy to my garden.

Over the years the ash trees grew to some really nice and attractive specimens, providing a pleasant background and encouraging a variety of birds to settle and entertain with their song. There are very few such trees in Port Isaac. They were some eighteen inches inside my boundary, therefore no doubt as to whom they belonged could arise. However, imagine my dismay when on the morning of the 14th. September, to my amazement, the trees had been cut off at about six feet from ground level. All that was left were bare trunks some nine inches in diameter. I was thus deprived of the usefulness of their presence.

Enquiry disclosed that a visitor residing in part of the above-mentioned bungalow had been responsible for the actual cutting which could not, of course, have been done without the knowledge of the other residents therein.

This seems to be a very personal case of vandalism of a serious degree, as, unlike some acts of vandalism, this cannot be rectified within the lifetime of the owner.

My protest to the person concerned resulted in considerable insults and abuse, without one word of apology.

W.S.Godfrey.

BACH CHOIR AT ST. ENDELLION

A large and appreciative audience filled St. Endellion Church for a concert given by the East Cornwall Bach Choir at the end of October. The programme included works by Bach, Berger, and Villa Lobos, and solo guitar pieces played by the outstanding young classical guitarist Denian Arcoleo. The Rector welcomed those present and announced his retirement from the Choir after twelve enjoyable years. Supper was provided for the Choir in the Church Hall before the concert by members of the congregation and coffee was served in the interval. The Rector conducted the late evening service of Compline, sung by candlelight in the church afterwards.

SUNG EVENSONG

Sung Evensong in St. Endellion Church on All Saints Day was well attended and many expressed their appreciation of the re-introduction of this service once a month. The next Sung Evensong will take place at 6pm. on Sunday 6th. December.
