The bonfires back!

The Fireworks Crew are pleased to announce that the bonfire will be back on Port Gaverne beach at this year's Parish Firework Night. However, it will not be on the scale of previous years and no materials for the bonfire will be accepted on the beach without prior consent from Richard Cook. Richard, who is now the Vice Chairman of the Fireworks Crew, along with other members of the committee, will be building the bonfire.

The fireworks will be let off, as usual, from the Main and the best view for those watching will be from the Port Isaac top car park.

If you feel the need to drive from Port Isaac down to Port Gaverne - DON'T! Leave your car in the top car park and walk down - or get a taxi! The fire brigade have laid down certain regulations about parking in Port Gaverne and our stewards will be in attendance to make sure these safety precautions are enforced.

The bonfire will be lit at 6.00pm on Saturday November 6th and the fireworks will start at 6.15pm. They should last about 20 minutes. The barbecue and hot soup will be available on Port Gaverne beach from 5.30pm.

Jan's Pudding Club

Just imagine a meal with seven, yes seven, different pudding courses. Does this sound like your idea of culinary heaven? Then 'Jan's Pudding Club' evening is right up your street. Of course there will be a main course - either fish pie or beef casserole - but the main attraction has to be the seven puddings.

Organised by Jan Kane The 'Pudding Club' will take place in the Village Hall on Saturday October 16th. Tickets, priced £10 each to include a glass of wine, are available from Jan on 01208 880934, Dennis Knights at Rock or Secrets. All proceeds from the evening will be donated to the Brooke Hospital for Animals.

The Brooke helps make life more bearable for some of the hundreds and thousands of horses, donkeys and mules working overseas. In some of the world's poorest communities, with families struggling to survive, these working animals provide the power for industry, agriculture and transport. There is no money to pay for their care and their life is brutal, exhausting and relentless. But, for over 70 years, the Brooke has been making a direct and practical difference by delivering free veterinary treatment to working horses, donkeys and mules in Egypt, India, Jordan, Pakistan and Afghanistan. It was started back in 1934, by Englishwoman, Dorothy Brooke who was so we speak, rehearsing for this year's extravaganza.

This year it's Aladdin. However, this is largely irrelevant as it is simply an excuse to over act or, in the words of dear, dear Johnny (Gielgud, darlings), "Acting is merely shouting loud on stage in the evening". With this in mind, and employing the well-known 'Method Acting' technique, you may well encounter one or two local males in full make-up and frocks (and don't they just love it just a little bit too much!!), in mental preparation for their new roles.

This theatrical onslaught will once again take place in the Village Hall and the dates are December 28th, 29th and 30th and January 2nd. So, if you've got nothing better to do (you sad lot), you are invited along to remind yourselves just how lucky you are that Christmas only comes but once a year.

We are back

Port Isaac Village Hall will once again resound to the pitter patter of tiny feet! The tradition of having a Playgroup in the Village Hall will continue on Tuesdays 10.00 am until 12.00.

Whether you have a babe in arms and would like to drop in for a chat and a cup of tea (and sympathy), or the toddler who needs to burn off that endless energy, or the pre-schooler who gets bored at home all day, you are all welcome!

A word of warning, we need a certain number of tots to attend to cover the cost of hiring the hall etc. so as they say, 'use it or lose it'!

For any further information contact Nicky Thomas on 01208 880383.

One of the organisers, Judith Sharp, said: "We have had fantastic support from local companies and we are very grateful for this. It is going to be a great day. We hope lots of people will come along and join us to raise funds for everyone affected by floods in North Cornwall, not just Boscastle but also all the other villages that were flooded."

Judith is still looking for a puppet show for the afternoon and anyone who can help is asked to ring her on 01840 250401.

The Village Hall Grand Auction raised the amazing sum of £3039 for the flood relief funds at Boscastle and Crackington Haven. A huge thankyou to everyone who was involved in any way, either donating their bodies, time, skills or goods or by spending their money so generously on the night.

A special thankyou to our two 'guest' auctioneers Jon Cleave and Mark Rowe - you really managed to squeeze the last pound out of the bidders. What we are all now waiting to see is, 'Is Chris Lanyon really worth that much?'

Port Isaac Snooker Club

This year we have encouraged younger people to join by asking a half-price membership fee from our youngsters. As a result we were very pleased to have a few more younger members.

Sadly, other youngsters have been going into the Snooker Room and the damage done has been unprecedented in the Club's long history. This includes several broken cues, balls stolen, rubbish left lying around the room and the table lights meter broken beyond repair. The room is not supervised and is open daily and we operate entirely on trust. As a result we have no idea who the culprits are.

At a committee meeting to be held shortly, we will have to make some hard decisions concerning the running of the Club.

Another committee?!

Dear Trio

Is Port Isaac turning into the committee capital of the World? I only ask because, considering the size of our village, we seem to have rather a lot of committees. And now it seems that we need another committee to liaise with any future film or TV companies wishing to use our village as a location. I suppose this will require yet another public meeting to ensure we have a balanced representation of all parties interested!

In the interest of all concerned, and to make absolutely sure that one viewpoint is not represented more than another, I have an idea. Let's have a committee made up of business owners in favour of filming and one of business owners against, and a committee of residents in favour and one of residents against, and I suppose we should have both for and against committees for the organisations in the village, not to mention similar committees for the parish council. All these committees could discuss their views in great detail and formulate a policy that they feel deals with the problems encountered while filming takes place. They could then elect a representative to a master committee that could discuss the issues further and then liaise with the film crew representative, Johnny Bamford. This would ensure that everybody's opinion is taken into consideration.

Or an individual could just phone Johnny Bamford direct if they had a problem.

Dear Trio

As you all know, 'Cornish' was the native tongue of Cornwall. Its demise can be traced to the Reformation. Prior to the Reformation, Cornwall was, of course, Catholic and was in fact one of the last outposts of the Catholic faith in England.

The Cornish were slow to accept the new Church of England. In particular, the refusal of the authorities to allow Cornwall a Common Book of Prayer in Cornish was probably the defining moment in the loss of the Cornish language (at that time Latin would have been more familiar to the Cornish than English). This refusal led to the 'Prayer Book Rebellion'. Humphrey Arundell led the rebellion against the imposition of the English Prayer Book and the Cornish marched to Exeter where 5000 Cornish men were killed by the English army. This meant that one in nine of the Cornish speaking population were killed. The decline in the language dates from then.

In later centuries Cornwall suffered various economic hardships such as the collapse of the mining industry in the 19th century. Cornish folk emigrated in their thousands. However, the Cornish language lived on with odd words and phrases together with the jargon of mining, fishing and farming communities. Also, of course, place names remained as a reminder of a bygone age.

Now in the 21st century we have 'Doc Martin' with its portrayal of the Cornish as yokels, pathetic Cornish accents and the sight of row upon row of quaint holiday cottages.

It is obvious that the time is now ripe for a new rebellion. There will be a pre-rebellion meeting of all local Port Isaac Cornish people in the telephone kiosk in Church Hill on a date to be fixed. There should be plenty of room so any strangers who want to witness the meeting are welcome. The special guests will be the Vicar of Boscastle and her family who obviously understand the damage caused to small coastal communities judging by the television series.

Everything you need to know about aromatherapy

a wonderful way to stay healthy and happy through the long winter

Aromatherapy is a modern name for the ancient knowledge of healing and improving health using fragrant, natural plant oils. These are called 'Essential Oils' and are found in herbs, plants, flowers, fruits and the bark, roots or resin of some trees.

Essential Oils give the aroma to the plant but they also contain dozens of complex chemicals that seem to do everything from beautifying the skin, treating common ailments and emotional well-being. These powerful essences are nature's gift to mind and body.

Even if you think you have never come across these oils before, they affect all of us each day. Every time you peel an orange the essential oil spirals out of the tiny pockets in the peel and, because it's so volatile, instantly evaporates into the air, releasing its bitter, sweet, tangy citrus smell; whether you notice it or not, the common orange peel has a refreshing and relaxing effect.

When you take flowers to someone in hospital, you're using aromatherapy to help them feel better since the essential oils that give the smell to a bouquet of, for instance, roses, geranium, jasmine and lavender all contain chemicals that relax the nervous system, aid healing and instantly improve spirits.

Aromatherapy Massage is the classic aromatherapy treatment – a wonderfully relaxing experience that triggers the body's natural healing process by using massage and essential oils to promote the flow of blood and lymph that improves the nervous system and loosens tight muscles.

The aroma also acts upon the emotional centre in the brain (the limbic system or 'smell brain') that governs the way we feel. This phenomenally active system is connected to other vital parts of the brain – those involved in controlling heart rate, blood pressure, breathing, memory and reactions to stress. The massage works on the body and brain at the same time, calming jangled nerves and stimulating the energy flow that relieves tension and depression and eliminates toxins while building healthy tissue.

An Aromatherapy Massage does nothing less than bring new life to the body, which means you not only look and feel younger, you 'become' younger.

A Holistic Facial Massage is one of the best non-surgical facial treatments and a wonderfully relaxing experience.

Baths are the most relaxing way to use essential oils. Simply add a few drops of oil to your bath. The steam and warmth evaporate the oils and intensifies the aroma – a wonderful way to relax after a hard day, dispelling stress and soothing aching muscles.

Steam Inhalations for treating respiratory problems, colds and congestion (not to be used by asthmatics) are also a great way to deep-cleanse the face. Body and facial oils, creams lotions and gels can be used on a daily basis to nourish and rejuvenate the skin with added essential oils. Only pure and natural bases should be used and preferably with no ingredients in the manufacture or finished products which have been tested on animals.

Fragrancers are attractive pots, also known as diffusers, and are a wonderful way to transport these beautiful smells around your room.

Essential oils can also be added to pot pourri, humidifiers, wood fires, and candles and to make room sprays, and can also be used for hot poultices and cold compresses. Some essential oils are powerful natural insecticides and others have powerful anti-bacterial and antiviral properties. The list is endless.

In aromatherapy there is so much for us all, from babies to the elderly and I hope I have inspired you to enjoy aromatherapy and some of these amazing potions that come in little bottles.

Writing an effective argument

Last term the children in the senior class were learning how to do this in their Literacy lessons. Their task was to write a letter to Trio expressing their opinion about the proposal to build on the playing fields. Their opinion had to be supported with valid reasons. Here is one of the letters

Dear Trio,

I am writing to give my point of view on the altering of the playing fields to build houses and a Sports Hall.

Firstly it would give us somewhere to play after school and meet up with friends. Everybody knows that children need more exercise and this is a perfect chance for them to do this.

Secondly, there would be more children to come to this school and more friends for us. People may say that children living in the new houses might not come to this school. I would argue that the sports hall would boost the school.

I hope that you have enjoyed this letter.

Yours sincerely

A message from Father Michael

St Peter's Church

We celebrated Harvest Festival at St Peter's in early September and once again it was a splendid day. Congregations were large and the gifts for Harvest were massive – especially Alan Chadband's leeks and onions. I don't know how he does it. I suspect it's with a lot of hard work, plenty of tender care and ample blessings from the Almighty.

The Sunday evening Harvest celebration was greatly enjoyed in the presence of Bishop Roy, who returned to Truro laden with enough fruit and vegetables to feed the five thousand (Bishops are often called upon for miracles, but need back-up every now and then). The 'Fisherman's Friends' entertained in their inimitable style and were much enjoyed and everyone heartily sang favourite harvest hymns. The Manx fisherman's song was much appreciated.

After supper, which was provided by Janet and her helpers – wonderful as ever - we had the auction. This year Roy Davey auctioned the goods and sold them off at remarkable speed and at considerable profit. So much was for sale that we thought we'd be there all night. But in true style all was soon sold and we went home tired but happy, a good sum having been raised. £150 has been sent to the Boscastle appeal. Thank you everyone.

Past times

October 1986

RNLI Shouts - The lifeboat was called out following a report of a submerged boat off Varley. On arrival at the scene the object was found to be a floating chest freezer - but it did look like the top of a boat's cabin. The freezer was towed back to the harbour and collected by the council. Crewmembers were John Coshall, Mark Provis and John Young.

RNLI Fundraising - The four-legged race back in July raised £845.98. The team with the most sponsorship was from the Valley Caravan Park, Polzeath.

RNLI Shouts - Whilst out on exercise on August 15th, the lifeboat spotted a becalmed yacht, 'Harry O', a mile off Pentire Head. The yacht was towed into Rock. Crewmembers were Nigel Andrews, Kevin Dingle and Andy Walton.

On August 21st, at the request of the RSPCA, the lifeboat was launched to help recover a sheep that had fallen over the cliff near the Rumps. The sheep had scrambled from the water onto an inaccessible ledge on the waterline. The lifeboat went alongside and the crew managed to get the sheep on board and landed at Port Quin. Crewmembers were Steve Hudspith, Chris Scott and Andy Walton.

The lifeboat was launched on August 31st to search for a missing child in the Camel Estuary but was recalled as the child had been found. Crewmembers were John Collins, Mark Provis and Andy Walton.

On September 10th, due to severe sea conditions in the harbour, the lifeboat was launched to stand by 'Mako III'. John O'Connor had gone aboard to secure his boat and the lifeboat crew went to his aid and brought him ashore. Crewmembers were Mike Daly, Mark Provis and Andy Walton.

SCOPE - Daisy Hicks thanked Jon Cleave for a donation of £50 to 'Scope' and all those who have left books to sell and to all buyers.

Port Isaac Garden Society Annual Show

Many thanks to all who came to support the Port Isaac Flower Show held on Saturday, 4th September. Although entries were down on last year, we think you will agree there was still an attractive display of entries. Several regular exhibitors were unable to show and the wet weather restricted flower and vegetable entries.

Emily Brown once again judged the cookery (she has now completed her term as a judge and we hope will enter as an exhibitor next year). Margaret Birchwood's delicious chocolate cake was The Best Cookery Exhibit and this year Ann Prouse gained Most Points for Cookery and was also runner up for Most Points Overall.

Colin Meneer, who has been an exhibitor at the Show for many years, was this year invited to be the vegetable and fruit judge. Allan Chadband swept the board with 17 firsts in vegetables - collecting Cups for Most Points Vegetables, Longest Carrot and Most Points Overall. Once again Allan's leeks impressed the judge and they were awarded Best Vegetable Exhibit in Show.

This was the first year of the Port Isaac Best Tray and Vase classes with Trelawney Vouchers as prizes and there were some lovely flowers and vegetables entered. The Best Tray was Allan Chadband's and the Best Vase was by Yvonne Cleave. Ellen Percy won the Best Flower entry in Show with her beautiful Dahlia blooms, and Margaret Birchwood also gained Most Points for Flowers and Fruit.

Gwen Hambly continues her reign as handicraft queen. Judge Alistair Rivers appreciated the hours of work she had put into her beautifully embroidered picture of Port Isaac

Once again there was a delightful display of paintings and handwriting by the children from Port Isaac School with many of them entering the other children's classes. James Edkin's painting was awarded Best in Show and his painting, together with the runners up, will be framed by Sam from Secrets. Daryl Old gained most points in the Children's classes and had the best handwriting for ages 5 - 8. Our thanks once again to Dee and Sam for judging the children's classes and their support of the Flower Show. Also thanks to the staff and pupils of the School for their continued support. The children's prizes and cups will be presented in a School assembly.

This year we asked 'Ross' Roskilly to present the cups - and what a proper job he did. Ross has been a loyal supporter of the Garden Show for many years (especially with the washing up and other kitchen duties!) and he also now looks after the Show's entries postbox for us.

Finally, thanks to everybody who helps the Show run smoothly, including Rex, Margaret & Roy, John & Ann, Anita & Ross, June, Alan (and anyone we have missed out) and all those who exhibited and visited.

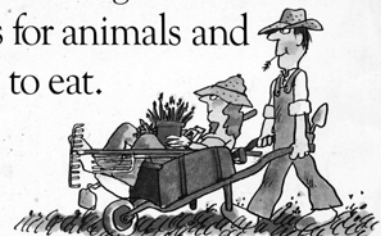

Perhaps next year the weather will be kinder to growers and some of you may have found inspiration for an entry.

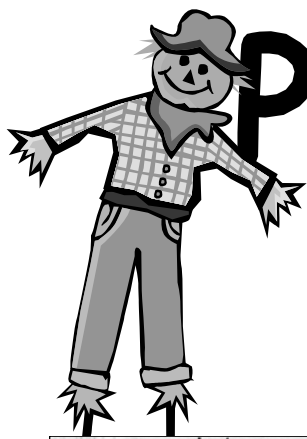

There was a collection for the Boscastle Flood Fund which totalled £30 and this will be matched by a donation from the Garden Society.

Robin Elgar

Port Isaac Rowing Club

Hi folks, sorry for the silence last month. I was unable to keep you updated due to personal circumstances. They also kept me away from the re-scheduled Gig Day, but I hear it all went off well with six gigs competing. Weymouth (dear of 'em) made a repeat trip all the way down here in order to row. If you remember last time we were unable to cancel them on time, as due to the distance, they left well in advance of our decision to cancel, but they had a very nice time in the Port Gaverne!

Our annual row-off against the London Gigs has come round again, the weekend of October 1st. Rowed over at Fowey, three London Gigs will compete against us and the home team. It's a convivial week-end of good-hearted competition, with crews mixing up and swapping boats, sometimes with hilarious consequences!

We heard this month that we have been awarded a £2,000 grant and a £10,000 interest free loan towards the cost of our new gig! The award was made by the Sports and Recreational Council. We are extremely grateful for their support, without which we would have had to wait a lot longer to fulfil our dream. So the pressure is really on us now to maintain the momentum to raise more funds. To this end we have, for your delectation, the swansong of that fabulous band Low Hangin' Fruit at the Village Hall on Saturday October 30th. Sadly the band are breaking up and this will be their last gig in their present format. As such the tickets will be at a premium, due to the fact that half of North Cornwall will want to say goodbye. So you have heard it before, and you hear it again, BOOK YOU TICKETS EARLY!! Tickets are priced at £5 and are available exclusively from me on 01208 880834. It's Halloween, or as near as damn it, so you are welcome to come appropriately attired - there will be a prize for the best dressed ghoul and ghouless!

I know Christmas seems an awful long way away yet but, given that we are going to have a very big bill to pay come the Spring, it behoves us to think on the season before the green tomatoes are picked. Now although I have enjoyed our Christmas do's in the recent past, being less formal occasions, I have missed the excuse to spend a silly amount of money on something entirely impractical, and definitely not suitable for walking the dog in. My Christmas soir e ideas are still in gestation, but the date and venue are picked - Saturday December 11th at the Village Hall (yes, I know it doesn't sound that special, but believe me, if it comes off this will be a night to remember). More news next month.

See you on the October 30th to catch those Fruit before they fall.....

Nicola

Thai Mussels

The wonderful Thai flavourings in this recipe add a different dimension to the more traditional way of cooking mussels in white wine, onions and parsley. It is easy to prepare and enjoy in the comfort of your own home.

Ingredients, serves four

- 5lb mussels, scrubbed and debearded
- TIP: If you find an open mussel, give it a knock. If it doesn't close, throw it*
- a bunch of fresh coriander
- 2 tablespoons of fish sauce
- 200ml coconut milk
- 250ml white wine

for the Thai flavour

- 5cm piece of fresh root ginger, peeled and sliced
- 6 spring onions, chopped finely
- 3 green chillies, seeded and chopped
- 2 stalks lemongrass, chopped
- 6 lime leaves * juice of 2 limes * 1 clove of garlic

Method

Put the finely chopped Thai flavourings into a large saucepan. Add the white wine and bring to the boil. Add the mussels, put the lid on the pan and steam the mussels for about 8-10 minutes, shaking the pan from time to time. When all the shells have opened, add the coconut milk, lime juice and fish sauce. Give the mussels a good stir and warm the sauce for about 5 minutes.

Serving

Serve the mussels in big bowls. Pour over a generous amount of the sauce and top with freshly chopped coriander and fresh limes. Great with warm, crusty bread to mop up all that lovely, fragrant sauce.

Note: Thai ingredients are widely available in supermarkets and delicatessens these days and have a long shelf life.

I hope you enjoy this recipe as much as I do. Have fun!

New tourist attraction for Port Isaac

TV Tours UK* are pleased to announce the setting up of its new South West Division, TV Tours South West. It will commence trading early next year. It will be offering guided tours around the village and surrounding area, visiting the locations used during recent filming.

To this end, a planning application will shortly be made to NCDC for a coach parking area at the top of the village which will feed a minibus Park & Ride scheme, offering transport to and from the heart of the village as well as to other locations in the area.

This new company will create several new employment opportunities for local residents including parking control personnel, minibus drivers and pedestrian guides. TV Tours UK has set up similar operations around the country at locations used in Heartbeat and The Bill to name just two, and would like to reassure Port Isaac residents that any inconvenience will be kept to a minimum. Representatives from TV Tours will be arranging a public meeting to discuss any local concerns. Any traders interested in selling the only official range of merchandise should attend this meeting.

TV Tours feel that the new service can only be good for the village as past experience indicates the potential to increase tourism by 37% which would obviously benefit existing businesses as well as encouraging new investment in the area. As the first episode of Doc Martin achieved top slot in the weeks viewing figures, exceeding 10,000,000, (more than the opening ceremony of the Olympics!) there will almost certainly be a second series which will undoubtedly generate even more interest. TV Tours believes the possibilities look very exciting and look forward to working with the people of Port Isaac and towards a mutually successful and profitable future.

Trethorne Golf Club

A general vibe of "will we play in bad weather?" syndrome had fallen over a few of our fair weather golfers but even when bad weather is all around, PIGS yet again get the rub of the green and booked a six hour window which allowed us to play one of our favourite golf courses in the county. Even with a few noticeable absentees, there was a very credible 19 golfers taking the reputation of Port Isaac Golf Society onto the course (a very worrying thought for all concerned).

As usual, Trethorne offered us a very warm welcome with bacon butties and coffee and a course which was in fantastic shape. The quarter finals of the Matchplay Competition were played with wins for Billy, Karl, Nigel and Simon (Bye). The rest of us poor mortals were left playing for the Stableford Competition.

Due to two of our players arriving late (Kev and Simon – by the way we are collecting for a clock, calendar and a diary for these boys who seem to have an inability to arrive on time).

Unfortunately for Dave 'The Gundog' Philp, he drew the short straw and got to play with me and also managed to get into a few strange positions which, luckily for everyone else, I have remembered. So I apologise to Dave in advance (yeh, right!!). I won't go into too much detail, but I will say he has been reported to the RSPB after a shot into the short eighth that dispersed a family of ducks who were minding their own business in the MIDDLE of the pond. Another of his shots involved a short iron, a bank, slippery shoes and the Richter scale – kindly work out your own story! Finally, if you ask Andy 'The Adonis' Penny if he knows anywhere to park his bike at Trethorne, he may be able to tell you another story!!!

It seems that Richard 'The Ball Boy' Hambly is taking an entourage around with him. He attracted a small army of ants and worms on to his putter. A little bit of advice, Dr Doolittle, play a little quicker and they won't have time to climb aboard!

Table manners were impeccable, albeit for Nigel 'Foggy' Andrews who intimidated our waitress so much she relented and ended up giving 'Foggy' her last bit of 'Heaven and Earth'. This, I am reliably informed, is a pudding.

The Stableford results were:

- First - Tony 'The Diver' Dyer
- Second - Mark 'Its not a Skoda' Forbes
- Third - Billy 'The Turtle' Hawkins
- Longest Drive – Billy 'The Turtle' Hawkins
- Nearest the Pin – Dave 'The Gundog' Philp

Our next match is at Bowood Golf Club, Camelford on October 11th, tee off 10 o'clock. November's event is on Cornwall's premiere golf course, The Nicklaus Course at St Mellion on November 1st, tee off 12 noon. Please be EARLY.

Frank McNichol Trust: Port Isaac 'Art Days'

With the first 'Art Day' under our belt, we are looking forward to a wonderful variety of themes for our monthly get-togethers. Penny MacBeth achieved the near impossible by getting us all to draw in virtual silence for 20 minutes. It's a left brain, right brain thing! However, as the women amongst us already know, we are all pretty good at multi-tasking anyway. So, drawing, chatting, drinking tea and eating a biscuit all at once is water off the proverbial duck's back to us!

We all loosened up in the afternoon, thanks to a helpful glass of wine with our lunch and happily splashed paint around for the rest of the session. We had a great time exploring Penny's 'colour mixing' themes.

The next 'Art Day' is with Katie Childs on October 13th. Numbers are limited. As this is proving to be very popular, there are only a handful of places left. If you want to come along and haven't already put your name down, give me a ring on 01208 880625. The cost is £5 which includes materials, morning coffee, lunch and afternoon tea ... with thanks to Frank!
