All aboard for a second adventure!

For all those youngsters – and mums, dads and grandparents - who joined Will, Fisherman Jack and their dog, Connie on their first adventure aboard the Mary D last autumn, the moment has finally arrived to don their life-jackets, swallow their Kwells and set sail aboard the Port Isaac fishing boat once more. The second book in the series, The Mary D and the Puffins hits the shops this month with Will, his dad and his dog on an important mission to try to catch the thieves who are stealing the puffins' eggs on Lundy Island. With the puffin population on the island at risk of being wiped out completely, can this intrepid trio stop the robbers and safeguard the puffins' future?

The Mary D and the Whale, the first book in this series written by local authors Anne Worrall and Tanya Banks and illustrated by almost-local artist David Webster (whose pictures have been on sale in Secrets for the past six years), came out in September of last year and is now in its second edition. (Those of you lucky enough to have purchased a First Edition are advised to take good care of it as it may be worth a fortune one day.) The stories were inspired by the experiences of Port Isaac fisherman, Cal Greenhalgh when out at sea in his boat, the Mary D, catching crabs & lobsters for the family business, Fresh from the Sea. Based on real-life events and characters, the stories aim not only to engage and entertain children but also to teach them something about what life at sea is like. David's meticulously detailed illustrations add to the realism and invite children to keep coming back to them again and again, finding new things every time.

"We've been thrilled and delighted by the way the first book has taken off," says author, Tanya who is also a local teacher. "The children love the fact that it's set in a real place, that Will's a real boy and that they can go down to Port Isaac harbour and see the real Mary D on the beach." "Yes," adds co-author, Anne, "We're optimistic that this second story will be even more popular than the first. Then we can send David back to the grindstone to spend the winter working on the pictures for a third book next year!" David's comment on that: "Well, if the children enjoy looking at the illustrations as much I've enjoyed drawing them then they'll certainly have a lot of fun."

Poppy Exhibition in St Peter's Church & community workshop

There has been a great response to the request for your poppy creations for the exhibition in St Peters Church on Tuesday 15th July. This is being organised by Port Isaac Chorale to commemorate the soldiers who served in the First World War and remember them through song and poetry.

Several people have paintings and drawings which are larger or smaller than the size specified in last months Trio and these are perfectly acceptable as the more we can display the better.

If you can write clearly on a piece of card attached to the back of your work your name, contact number, price (only if you would like to sell your work) 10% will go to the British Legion plus any Information or story you feel is relevant eg it was painted by an older resident of Port Isaac.

If you could deliver your 'poppies' to St Peter's Church on Wednesday July 9th at 11am they will be exhibited for you .

For those who would like to be involved but don't want to exhibit a single piece of work, a community art workshop will take place on Saturday July 5th in the garden of Thorn House, Port Isaac from 10.30am-12.30pm. There will be a small charge of £3 per person to cover materials. Please wear scruffy clothes as it will be big and messy, but good fun!

For further details about this please contact Caroline Cleave on 0796 6501156.

Parish Council report

supplied to Trio by the Parish Clerk

You may notice a slight change to the way your Parish Council Report looks, and reads. Following the sad death of your Parish Clerk and my friend, Elizabeth, I have now taken up the post of Clerk/RFO to the council. I have been Clerk to St Teath Parish Council for the past six years, Clerk to Lesnewth Parish Meeting for one year, and have stood in as Acting Clerk to Camelford Town Council whilst another colleague was off sick. I live not far away, just outside Delabole, I am married to John and have one grown up daughter, twin Grandsons, three cocker spaniels, and have spent the greatest part of my working life in local government. Whilst still living 'up country' I worked for Winchester City Council, then, soon after moving to Cornwall in 1978, I started work with Cornwall County Council (as it then was) in the Treasurers Department as a debt collector.

Enough about me. On a lovely sunny day in June I was taken around the Parish by the Chairman, and what a stunning Parish it is! I have been to Port Isaac many times in the past, as a visitor, but when one is looking around with a view to working there you see it with different eyes. When I deliver Minutes, agendas and post items on the notice boards, I get back home and feel just as though I have been 'Fell walking'. Those hills!

Parish business: The Main car park is starting to get very busy and negotiations are progressing well for the Parish Council to take over the New Road Public Toilets from Cornwall Council. New pieces of play equipment have been ordered and new signs to aid visitors and keep them safe whilst they enjoy the many attractions on offer, have been put up.

Planning Applications considered:

PA14/02226. Demolition of existing garage. Erection of replacement garage/store area. Demolition of existing single and two storey extensions to house and erect new two storey extension. Addition of front porch. 81, Fore Street, Port Isaac. This application was later withdrawn.

PA14/04128. Notification to fell and clear overgrown trees and shrubs to the South of the property consisting of Cherry, Willow and various other small trees within a conservation area. Khandala, Roscarrock Hill, Port Isaac. This application was later made the subject of a Tree Preservation Order.

Only one planning decision was received namely: PA14/02105. 24, Silvershell Road, Port Isaac. Living room extension to front of property and erection of garage. This application was approved by Cornwall Council.

Planning Applications can always be viewed on the Cornwall Council website.

As the good folk of St Teath, Delabole, Treligga and Treburgett will tell you, I do tend to moan rather a lot. I moan about litter, dog waste and inconsiderate parking. I am of the opinion that Children's play areas are for children to play in, litter bins are to put litter in, doggy poo bins are to put doggy poo in, footpaths are for feet, roads are for vehicles and so on.

Dogs should not be exercised in play areas or car parks, litter bins should never be empty, cars should not be parked on pavements. In an ideal world, owners would not leave their pets 'left overs' on pavements, and their dogs would be exercised in the field below the play area, the disabled and Mums with prams would not have to walk in the road because the pavement is obstructed by parked vehicles, and no hedges would have drinks cans, fast food containers and sweet wrappers festooning them – no matter how colourful these items may be!

Moan over. I hope I will be meeting many of you when you come to Parish Council meetings.

We meet in Port Isaac School on the second Monday of the month at 7pm. Meetings are never boring and they don't go on all evening. See you there?

I can be contacted on:

Telephone: 01840 211790 or stendellionpc@gmail.com

Thank you

I would like to say the biggest thank you to Barbara, Cheryl and everyone who helped put on my special birthday tea party in the Village Hall on Sunday June 21st. It was a wonderful afternoon and it was so lovely to see all my wonderful friends and family.

Thanks to your generosity £200 was donated for the Blind Veterans charity.

I am not saying how 'special' my birthday was but I am thinking that everyone now knows how old I am!!

Thank you all. Love June x

Henry the Hoover

I've got a Henry Hoover, but he sometimes makes me think that he has a balance problem, or is partial to a drink!

See - I pull him round behind me, but everywhere he goes, he trips on his own cable and falls down on his nose!!

I've tried to have a word with him, but all he does is hum which sometimes winds me up so much I kick him up the bum...

He doesn't have to do much I wish he did some more, for while I work the vacuum hose, He just rolls round on the floor

But all in all I'm fond of him, we make a perfect team 'cos once the pair of us are done the floor is nice and clean

He's quite a happy chappy and always wears a smile and never moans at sucking up the things that I find vile!!

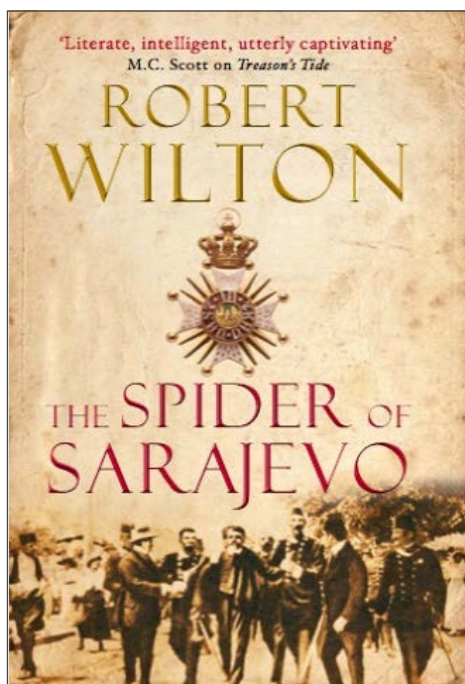

We've had a long relationship I've had him many years and if I ever lost him I might well be moved to tears....

LAST CALL FOR PHOTOS

We have been able to find out quite a lot of information about the thirty 'Great War' names on the Port Isaac War Memorial. What we lack are the more personal details of these brave people who gave their lives in this terrible conflict; things such as photographs, keepsakes and family stories.

If you can help in any way please let Dee know on 01208 880905, dee54@mac.com - we do not keep any of your treasured mementoes, we just borrow them for a very short time to copy them and then return them to you.

For those of you who want a different perspective on the mad summer of 1914, local scribbler Robert Wilton's got a new historical novel out: it's set in the weeks leading up to the outbreak of war, and published on the centenary of the mysterious events it illuminates. The Spider of Sarajevo has had some great reviews and is available through Amazon - in electronic and proper book format - or by bumping into Rob around Port Isaac sometime.

We are hoping that Rob will be in the village for our WW1 Exhibition opening to talk about the outbreak of war and how it impacted on small villages like ours.

PORT ISAAC CARNIVAL

Carnival Week

August 20th -23rd

This year we have really gone to town with an 80' marquee with a 20' beer tent. In the run-up to the Carnival there will be daily entertainment, a market, games and rides, some great catering (no burger vans here) and live music.

Here is the run down of events.

Wednesday, 10am-3.30pm - Music workshop for all children. They will be able to come into the marquee and use any of the instruments provided.

8pm - sample the bar before listening to the Boscastle Buys.

Thursday, 10am-3.30pm - Banner making, arts and crafts. Bring the children in throughout the day and they will be able to make banners that they can either take home, decorate the marquee or parade through the Carnival on Saturday. If they don't want to make a banner no problem - they can use any of the materials to make or build anything they want.

8pm - Rock'n'Roll. Dance the night away to some of the finest Rock'n'Roll from the 50's with the countries premier Rock'n'Roll Disco.

Friday - 10am-12noon & 2pm-4pm - Party Day for the kids. Magic, music, animals and puppets. Both parties are guaranteed to thrill the kids and keep mum and dad happy for a while. See one or see both. the choice is yours.

7.30pm on the Platt - Port Isaacs finest singers - The Fisherman's Friends will be singing and have very kindly allowed us to have a collection. If we get bad weather they will be singing in the marquee. When they have finished why not join us back in the tent for a bit of a disco.

Saturday - THE MAIN EVENT

Market on the Pitch - 9am to 3pm

The football pitch will be transformed into PI's very own outdoor market. This will be your chance to do some shopping and grab some bargains before getting ready for the parade itself. While your shopping why not take a break and enjoy some of the great catering we will have on site and listen to the live band that will be playing throughout the day.

THE CARNIVAL - 4pm onwards

From 4pm the floats will start arriving on the field looking to win a trophy or two. The roads will be closed at 5.30pm and the parade will start at 6pm. We will open the roads again once everyone is back in the field and the roads are clear.

Then its party time for everyone. This year we have a great band who are about to be signed up by a leading record label.

The bar will be open every night as will the catering vans. Sweets and candy floss etc for the kids plus the rides and games will be open till late.

If you would like to book a pitch for the market or would like more information on any of the weeks activities please feel free to get in touch.

HELP WANTED

Our previous pleas for help have fallen on deaf ears, we think this may be to the way it was worded. So, to make sure there is no confusion I will put it a bit plainer for you. The carnival is not an easy event to organise safely with just the committee members trying to fill every roll and police the roads.

We need people to help marshal the procession. It's an easy job and you get to wear on of our exclusive High Viz Jackets. In return we will provide you with our gratitude and a couple of drinks in the marquee afterwards.

WE REALLY NEED YOUR HELP

Royalty

By the time you read this we will have chosen our new Carnival Royalty. We know that just like previous Royalty they will make us very proud. If you would like to know who is this years reigning monarch look on our Facebook page or in next month's Trio.

Raft Race

Sunday 20th July

Time is ticking away. You have less than three weeks to build the winning raft. Don't forget we are also holding a Children's Race this year. To enter the children's race you need a team of no more than 4 children and 1 adult. In the interest of fairness we will only allow one adult per raft. Each child must be wearing a life jacket and should be comfortable both in and on the water. The winning team will receive the Junior Shield and every child that enters will each receive a medal.

Entry is £10 per raft. You can get your entry forms from Nicky B's or from Facebook.

Casino & Music

The Edge Restaurant and Cats Eyes Entertainment will be hosting a Casino and Music Night on Friday 11th July

Tickets cost £25 and include dinner, a cocktail on entry, gambling chips to get you started and some great musical entertainment.

There are cash prizes to be won throughout the night as well as other great prizes including a three course meal and ghost hunting tickets.

Tickets are on sale now at The Edge and are limited. Get yours now as entry is by ticket only.

Carnival Market

The carnival committee are organising a market to be held on the playing field in Port Isaac on the 23rd August. The venue is next to the Main car park and is sure to be busy with Bank Holiday visitors and locals alike.

Pitches cost £10. Set up is from 8am with a 9.30am opening time and will run through until 3.00pm.

To reserve your pitch contact any of the committee members or message us through Facebook.

This is not a car boot sale - stalls only. Charity stalls will be £5.

PLEASE NOTE - all catering and sweet concessions have now been filled

Deb's spent the last six months raising money for The Teenage Cancer Trust ... she tells us how the trip went ...

DUMBALL 7 - Moroc n Roll

for the Teenage Cancer Trust

The most amazing experience ... Life changing ... Life affirming the terrors of the traffic in Casablanca and on the following day Marrakech, there are no rules! We had the opportunity to visit the Medina (souk) in Marrakech, visit a shisha bar and sample local cuisine. With the guides regaling us over the walkie talkies with a collection of phrases including Lovely Jubbly! OMG and some more fruity expressions which became part of our Dumball speak! We ate in some terrifying local dives and hurtled along, virtually, unmade roads with potholes bigger than Cornish ones through the Atlas mountains and into the Sahara Desert arriving in the dark at Merzouga close to the Algerian border. A party by the hotel pool followed by a night under the stars in a Bedouin encampment was our reward for the hard slog.

Many people rose at dawn to take a camel or quad bike ride into the desert to watch the sun rise then breakfast on spiced eggs ,camel butter, jam and flat bread. After a relatively calm morning the madness began again with a 300 mile charge through the Middle Atlas to Fes. Formation driving, walkie talkie silliness and challenging mountain road conditions kept our minds on the job, along with the hope of a comfy bed and a hot shower at the end of the journey!

Our final leg in Morocco was from Fes to Melilla - the Spanish enclave. The journey was touched with a little sadness that we would be parting from our fun but fairly insane guides at the Moroccan border, fortunately, AFTER they had negotiated our release from Morocco which was no easy feat even with their help!

Another port, another party and an overnight ferry journey to Malaga in Spain, minus one antipodean driver Lonely Planet Drew, who was not allowed to travel because he had the wrong stamp in his passport !

Arriving on the dock in the early morning we completed our final journey with our faithful wagons along the coast to Torremolinos, many going via the beach at Marbella on a final fund raising effort.

A few cars did not quite make it all the way but all the drivers were in at the end filling spare seats in other cars. The cars which were not going home were donated to a scrap dealer who gave all monies raised to Teenage Cancer Trust.

The last night party was hosted by our hotel the Sol Principe in Torremolinos where awards were given for fund raising, bravery, entering into the spirit, a great car and many more, including my little star award for putting my first aid kit to good use throughout the trip! (home from home!)

Coming back down to earth has been a challenge but I would recommend this to anyone who is reasonably fit and agile. Grateful thanks to all those who donated to the cause whether on line, or at the vintage fair, you were part of an effort that succeeded in raising well over £100,000.00 for the TEENAGE CANCER TRUST.

I arrived in Brighton on the morning of the start to a bright sunny day, contrary to forecast. Our blancmange pink car, which was being driven down from London by a team mate, was very late arriving so we had a mad half hour sticking it up before we departed for the seafront. An afternoon of sunburn and bubbles with a rousing send off by 'Sonia' and we were on our way to the Euro-tunnel. A mad, colourful raggle taggle convoy of £400 wrecks heading for the Sahara on a wing and a prayer driven by intrepid adventurers in various fancy dress. Excitement and anticipation in bucket loads!

We awoke in France in the early morning to start a gruelling, two day, thrash down through France and Spain. Driving from dawn to dusk to make Jerez by the end of the third day.

On day four the adventure really began with a party on the quayside at Algeciras. Dumball One opened up the back and fired up the disco and karaoke and entertained us until the ferry arrived. After the crossing to Morocco we were herded into holding areas whilst bizarre and illogical security checks were undertaken. Fortunately for us Helen was sporting a most fetching and miniscule top which won the hearts of the border guards and saw us motor through with very little difficulty. We all watched with amusement the faces of those same border guards when they encountered a fellow driver from the Zombie Resurrection Squad by the name of Neil who had undertaken this journey dressed as a woman, and a very fetching one at that!

After we had all finally cleared the border after a long hot wait we met up with our guides who would stay with us throughout our journey through Morocco.

Amar of Morocco Planet guided us with great panache and pigeon English through

This year we are holding Sports Day on Wednesday 16th July. Our field events take place in the playground in the morning and all races will be on the playing field in the afternoon.

Afternoon activities should start at 1.15pm and everyone is welcome to come and cheer the children on.

End of Term Extravaganza

We are celebrating the end of another school year and our Year 6 leavers on the last day of term in the Hall. The children are rehearsing songs and dances, painting portraits and collecting memories and are hoping to make this a marvellous end to another great year in school.

The extravaganza starts at 1.15pm and everyone is welcome.

Port Isaac Poetry Walk

This term year 3 and 4 are studying poetry, in particular "Teignmouth" a poem by Charles Causley. They are going to write a class poem about Port Isaac in the same manner. To gather ideas and inspiration they went on a walk through the village and down to the harbour. They made notes on what they could see and hear and here is the draft for the first verse...

To celebrate the end of SATS and our optional tests week the children brought cakes and buns to share in school during playtimes and after lunch. Thank you to all the parents who provided these tasty treats!

How to be a 'beyond person'

Someone who was an absolute inspiration to me was Michael Ramsey, who became bishop of Durham in 1952 and archbishop of Canterbury in 1961.

And Ramsey made this lovely observation about the famous Cornishman, Parson Hawker: he said that he was "A beyond person in a beyond place" .

St. Peter's Church

Hawker was the Vicar of Morwenstow and beloved here as the author of Cornwall's national anthem – Trelawny. And he really was a 'beyond' person – all those lovely stories of how he used to dress up as a mermaid with a wig, swim out to a rock and wail. I mean, the modern clergy are so boring. Hawker sat in his seaside hut and smoked opium, he revived Harvest Festival and rebuked the wreckers. He dressed in a claret-coloured coat, long sea-boots, a pink hat and a poncho made from a yellow horse blanket, which he claimed was the ancient habit of St Padarn. He talked to birds, invited his nine cats into church and kept a huge pig as a pet.

Ramsey said Hawke was "A beyond person in a beyond place" . In our turn I wonder if we would ever like to get 'beyond' – it's not just Hawker or Cornwall – but in the spirit, in our lives. To me the whole business of Life is not just what we are, where we are and what we do, but it is to live life fully and to go and to be beyond.

Best wishes from John

PS let me know if you've got a spare pink hat!

Rear-Admiral Alec Weir of St Kew died peacefully at home on Monday 23rd June.

He gave distinguished service in the Royal Navy. A faithful Christian, he served as a Church of England Reader, holding the position of Truro Diocesan Warden of a Readers for several years.

He preached, arranged and conducted services in the North Cornwall Cluster and was held in high respect by all who knew him.

His funeral takes place at St Kew Parish Church at 2pm on Tuesday 1st July.

ANNUAL LIFEBOAT SERVICE

Sunshine and a great turn out of locals, visitors and supporters from around Cornwall saw the 145-year history of Port Isaac RNLI once again celebrated on the Harbour Platt with the Annual Sea Service and Blessing of our lifeboat and crew. Father John May officiated as Station Chaplain with the St Minver Silver Band playing Elgar's Nimrod from Enigma Variations as an introduction and Port Isaac Chorale, under the direction of Janet Townsend MBE, leading the singing. This year our station was honoured by the attendance of Col Edward Bolitho OBE, Lord Lieutenant of Cornwall with his ADC, John Sawle, together with RNLI Divisional Operations Manager, Tom Mansall, of whom took part in the service.

Col Bolitho presents an engraved Bronze badge and framed certificate to Christine Clifton in recognition of her valuable six years service on Committee of which four years has been served as Branch Secretary RNLI awards were made to Cheryl Webster, Chris Clifton and Phil Tidey (see photos) and the actual presentation of the British Empire Medal to Bob Bulgin by the Lord Lieutenant, details of which have been published previously in the February issue of Trio. In accepting his medal, Bob emphasised the fact that such awards do not come about without the hard and dedicated work of a great team and all those that support - of which Port Isaac Crew and Committee are second to none. Bob also thanked Father John for his Ministerial support to Port Isaac RNLI over the past five years and wished him well on behalf of crew and committee. Sadly, John will be standing down as Station Chaplain when retiring from the Parish in September - he will be missed by his many friends throughout the area, not least of all by the RNLI.

At the close of the Service the committee and crew welcomed all supporters to celebrate and enjoy pasties, cream teas and refreshments in the Lifeboat Station with Doom courtesy of Sharps Brewery.

Col Bolitho presents Phil Tidey with a fine set of Operational Standard RNLI Binoculars carrying an engraved plate in recognition of his meritorious service to Port Isaac RNLI. Phil has served as a Deputy Launching Authority for five years and Lifeboat Operations Manager and Mechanic for ten years. The responsibility of LOM has now been taken on by Chris Bolton as Phil has moved out of the village but will continue to serve as Station Mechanic.

Col Bolitho presents an engraved RNLI Bronze badge and framed certificate to Cheryl Webster marking six years service on the committee with additional responsibility for branch retail sales and five years as assistant to the Box Secretary

Port Isaac crew and two young supporters ... RNLI crew of the future

CREW NEWS

It has been another quiet month for shouts but the crew have been very active with training. Andy Hallam has been passed off on his basic crew competencies which means we are now able to enrol him onto one of the RNLI's many courses. He will now be funded, through our twinning with Welwyn Garden City, to go up to the RNLI's multi-million pound training facility in Poole and on his return I'm sure he will have a thing or two to teach us.

Over the next couple of months we will be carrying out several exercises which will require casualties who wouldn't mind having simulated injuries put on with makeup and playing dead. If you are interested please get in contact with me either on 07813 036489 or via e-mail damobolton@hotmail.com

Finally a big thank you to all who made it to our annual Lifeboat Sunday Service to bless the boat and crew and also celebrate Bob receiving his very well deserved British Empire Medal.

Damien Bolton, Senior Helmsman

RAINBOWS VISIT

Port Isaac Lifeboat Operations Manager Chris Bolton and Lifeboat Crewman Ben Andrews, pictured here, had the pleasure of welcoming the Treknow Rainbows and their leaders, Katherine Short and Jayne Warton, to the Lifeboat Station.

The Rainbows heard all about RNLI operations and sat in the Lifeboat to get the real life atmosphere of being out on the ocean waves. Chris Bolton explained the various items of equipment carried by the boat and crew and the importance of safety at sea. Chairman Bob Bulgin showed historic photographs from the station archives and spoke about the history of the lifeboat station at Port Isaac.

A highlight of their visit, under close supervision, was the opportunity for each of the Rainbows to sit on the seat of the launching tractor.

At the end of the tour all the children were given a bag of sweets, kindly donated by Port Isaac RNLI supporters Buttermilk Confections. They certainly provided enough energy for them to enjoy paddling on the beach before heading off home, damp but happy.

Rainbows is part of Girlguiding UK for girls aged 5 to 7 years old. At the age of 7 they have the opportunity to go onto Brownies. Treknow Rainbows meet weekly and if you are interested in your daughter joining or for more information on any aspect of Guiding go to www.girlguiding.org.uk

Climate Friendly St Endellion

The latest threat to climate-friendly living in St Endellion Parish is the new, enhanced (?), summer bus service. Granted four buses a day is a 33⅓ % increase over the winter service of three a day, but really! Is that all our area is worth, in the peak holiday period? At least the service doubled for the summer, last year. It may be fine for a visitor staying somewhere else, wanting to visit Port Isaac, but is it adequate for those resident or holidaying here? Getting out of the village at the right time may be possible, but getting back could be a problem. Wadebridge is attainable, as long as one accepts the traditional roundabout journey necessary to serve Polzeath and St Minver on the way, and if one is at the school, or working 9am to 5pm in town. But for those of us using National Bus Passes the 7.54am is barred, and only half-hour, 3½-hour or 5½-hour periods are possible in town, at times inconvenient for just attending an afternoon meeting.

Connections to anywhere beyond Wadebridge or Camelford make return journeys difficult or impractical. It's been pointed out that one can no longer pop over to Polzeath for lunch, unless one starts out at just before 11am, and arrives back just after 4pm. It is possible to spend two or four hours in Padstow or Tintagel, 2½ or 4½ hours in Bodmin, 3½ or 5½ hours in Truro, but are these periods at convenient times for doing things like shopping or having a meal? Three, or even five, hours at Treliske might not coincide with an appointment or visiting-hours. A roughly hourly service between Wadebridge and Exeter is fine for those on the route, but from Port Isaac it is only possible to spend 48 minutes in that Devon cathedral city before having to return!

Perhaps two, or better, four hours at Bodmin Parkway would allow one to walk (good, healthy exercise) to and from Lanhydrock, via Respryn, the public footpaths through the grounds being accessible without payment. The new café and Cycle Hub at the top of the hill are well worth a visit, and the Children's Playground shows what is projected for our own village. There are bikes for hire, and new bike paths of differing types through the woods, away from existing footpaths. Leave Port Isaac at 10.54am to arrive at Parkway 12.25pm; return at 4.30pm from Parkway and be again in Port Isaac at 6.12pm— a recipe for a pleasant day out, if the present good weather holds.

Thinking of weather, we've just been up-country and watched the weather forecast on BBC 1, and how little of it there seemed to be! David Braine gives us, not only the satellite picture with the clouds and sun or rain, the synoptic chart with all the isobars which help one see which way the wind will be and how strong, and the outlook for the next few days, but the times of high-water all round the coast, the surf conditions for North coast and South, a specific forecast for the Scilly Isles and the inshore forecast. No wonder he has to talk fast, we do have so much more weather than they do up there!

One thing they do well, at least in some places up-country, is collection of recyclable materials. In a holiday cottage there was a "caddy" in the kitchen for all food waste, cooked or uncooked, with a plastic bag as liner which could be placed in a box outside for collection. There was also a large bin with a black plastic liner for general rubbish, which could be left out for collection (NO gulls around to wreak havoc!), and a large box outside for tins, bottles (glass or plastic), jars, tetrapacks, cardboard, paper— in fact, pretty well everything! I would imagine that the sorting of this must be by hand, on a conveyor-belt, as in fact our recycled stuff is dealt with, but a bit more complicated. It was certainly a bit easier at the domestic end. Let's hope that segregating our stuff as Paper, Cardboard, Washed-&-squashed plastic bottles, Glass bottles & jars and General Rubbish, which takes so much space at home, helps at the sorting stage.

No space for a walk this month, we'll try and find a new one next time. Wishing you a happy, healthy and climate-friendly few weeks until then.

Strawberry time

It's strawberry time. Perfumed, complex and delicious, strawberries are the superstars of the early-summer British garden, alongside asparagus, broad beans and rhubarb and, like their fellow seasonal celebrities, our strawberries are the best you can get anywhere in the world.

With a raw ingredient this good, it makes sense to make the best of them while they're around, and one of the most wonderful things about strawberries is that they go with an awful lot of stuff. And I mean a lot. For example: spices such as black pepper, pink peppercorns and chilli (yes, really); herbs such as lemon balm, hyssop, thyme, basil; and other summery stuff such as rose-water and elderflower. All that said though, the classic flavour pairing for strawberries is vanilla, and for a very good reason – you won't go far wrong if you just add something sugary and vanilla-scented to fresh strawberries, though to my mind a dollop or two of something rich and creamy is also pretty much obligatory.

Macerated strawberries

Do this to all strawberries, always – it really helps to bring out those lovely, complex aromas. From this point, even just adding a blob of thick cream, yoghurt or creme fraiche makes an excellent dessert; and if you've got a bit more time, use them in a pavlova, tart, ice-cream or whatever. Serves four.

300g-400g strawberries Caster sugar

Wash and hull the strawberries (halve or quarter them if they are on the large side), then weigh those prepared strawberries. Sprinkle with about 10% by weight of caster sugar, stir gently to avoid bruising the fruit (add a couple of teaspoons of liqueur at this stage, if booze is your thing). Refrigerate for at least 20 minutes – the juice that seeps out of the strawberries is packed with flavour, so use that, too.

Frozen strawberry parfait

This is less a recipe than a general guideline for one of my favourite strawberry puddings. Nothing is more welcome on a hot summer's day, and it looks gorgeous, too – like a posh Viennetta. Serves four.

300g macerated strawberries
Whipped cream/thick yoghurt/creme fraiche
Seeds from ½ vanilla pod, or ground black/pink pepper corn
Toasted pistachios and/or white chocolate shards, to finish

Put the strawberries in a bowl, then add twice the amount by volume of either lightly whipped cream, thick yoghurt, or crème fraiche. Mash or purée the two together, then push through a sieve and stir in your flavouring of choice.

Line a dish or terrine mould with cling film (chef's trick: dampen the dish first, then press the cling film into place with a dry tea towel), fill with the parfait mix, packing it in firmly, then freeze until solid. Turn out on to a chilled plate, scatter with pistachios and or white chocolate, and cut into slices at the table.

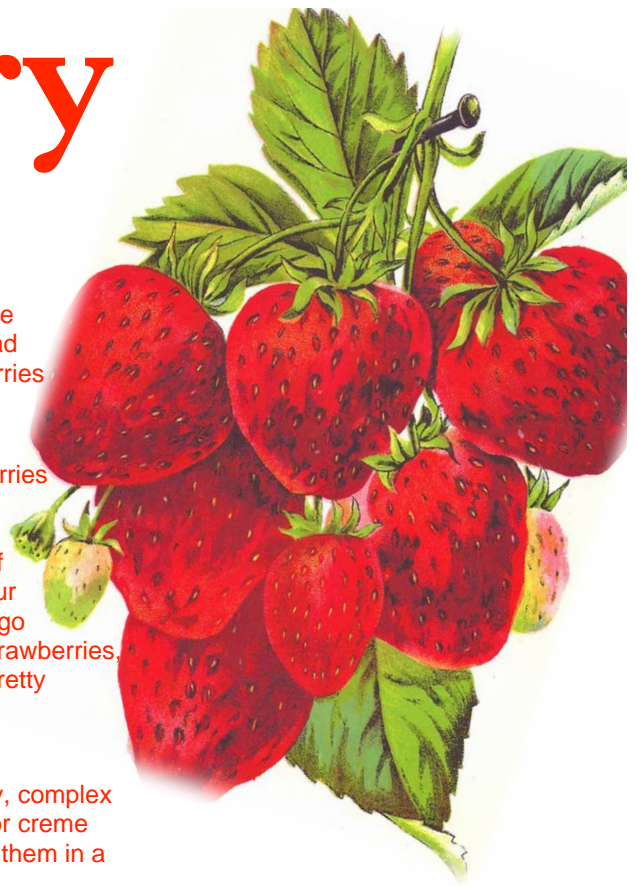

Strawberry pavlova

Another classic. Best not to mess about with old faithfuls like this. Serves four.

50g egg whites 50g caster sugar
50g icing sugar 400g double cream
40g caster sugar Seeds from 1 vanilla pod
300g-400g macerated strawberries

Make the meringue mix as for the Eton mess, but this time divide it into two rectangles/squares/circles on two separate baking sheets lined with nonstick paper. Bake at 100C/225F for 75 minutes to two hours, until crisp on the outside but still gooey in the centre. Whip the cream, sugar and vanilla seeds (or two drops of essence) to soft peaks.

Spread the cream evenly over each cooled meringue, and scatter half the macerated strawberries on top of each. Carefully lift one meringue and place it on top of the other, and eat as soon as possible. This final part of the process is not usually a problem.

Eton mess

The separate elements of this classic dessert (and the following one) can be prepared well ahead of time and thrown together at the last moment. Serves four.

50g egg whites 70g caster sugar
50g icing sugar 200g double cream

Whip the egg whites in a stand mixer. When at stiff peaks, turn the mixer to top speed and whisk in 50g caster sugar until the mixture is smooth and glossy, then add the icing sugar and whip again until stiff and smooth.

Place 50p-sized blobs of meringue mix on a baking tray lined with non-stick baking paper, and bake at 90C/200F for 90 minutes to two hours, until crunchy all through.

Whip the double cream with the remaining 20g of caster sugar and the vanilla pod seeds (or a drop of essence) to soft peaks. Mix together macerated strawberries, cream and meringue in roughly equal quantities just before serving.

Congratulations to everyone who braved the hot weather and took part in the very first 'The Big Run' down the beautiful Camel Trail from Wenford Bridge to Padstow. THE ROYAL BRITISH LEGION

We must be aware by now with all the coverage on the TV and radio that this is the Centenary of the outbreak of the First World War, which PISCES will be covering in their forthcoming exhibition in St Peter's Church. It is also the 70th Anniversary of the DDay Landings during the 2nd World War.

So this brings me to believe that this year's Poppy Appeal should be very special and I therefore ask for your help as past supporters in so many ways.

I really do need some more willing and able people to give a few days or evenings to go around the village collecting, plus we have always had great success with our table in the Co-op displaying all the various merchandise the RBL now offer. It is a great way to have a chance to chat to locals and visitors and a great way to raise funds for such a very vital cause. Not only to honour those that gave their lives for our freedom, but also to all the injured and mentally scared, and I must add for the families of those concerned who play such a major role in recoveries.

So I look forward to hearing from any of you who may wish to give a few hours to help, at the end of October and leading up to Remembrance Sunday in November. My phone number 01208 880386.

ANOTHER REASON WHY WOMEN
LIVE LONGER THAN MEN!

THE FUNNY BIT AT THE END ...

An 80-year-old lady was being interviewed because she had just got married for the fourth time. The interviewer asked her about her husbands occupations. She answered, "My first husband was a banker, my second was a circus ringmaster my third was a vicar and my new husband is an undertaker." "Why did you marry men with such diverse careers?" she was asked. She explained, "I married one for the money, two for the show, three to get ready, and four to go."
