CORNWALL AND DEVON TOUR MAY - JULY 2016

The Zigzag Way is a gripping story which winds through cultures from Cornwall and Mexico and across time to paint a picture of love, revolution and sacrifice. This haunting and arresting tale finally leads you to a night where the veils that separate life and death are lifted and the illusion of time is broken: Dia de los Muertos - the Mexican Day of the Dead. Combining strong ensemble playing and physical inventiveness with a cracking tale, this is storytelling at its most colourful, visual and touching.

Your Hall
for YOU to Use

Thank you to everyone who came to the PISCES AGM. We now have six years under our belt and an impressive collection of memories, photographs and memorabilia thanks to the very generous contributions of the Port Isaac community. We always say that without you all, we are nothing! So well done Port Isaac, we are very grateful for your support. Onward and upward!

We record our visitor numbers and did you know that, on average, there are a regular 1000 visitors a month to our exhibitions.

Exhibitions

Wish you were here

Big thanks to Pauline Stephens and Liz Brown for letting us delve into their postcard collections for this delightful exhibition which will run until August. If you haven't seen it yet, then do pop into the church and have a look.

25 years of the Port Isaac Gig Club

We have another busy year ahead including the 25 year celebration of the Port Isaac gig club. Mark August 6th down as a date to save for the launch of the gig!

34 years of Trio

We celebrate our iconic local paper with an exhibition of all the local issues which have concentrated our minds over the decades ... parking, rubbish, visitors, filming. You won't be surprised to learn that nothing much has changed since Trio first hit the homes of Port Isaac.

Oral history interviews

We have been very honoured to add Muriel Spry and Warwick Provis to our illustrious collection of oral history interviewees. PISCES would love to hear your stories and memories. If you would like to take part, we supply the tea and cake, you supply the chat.

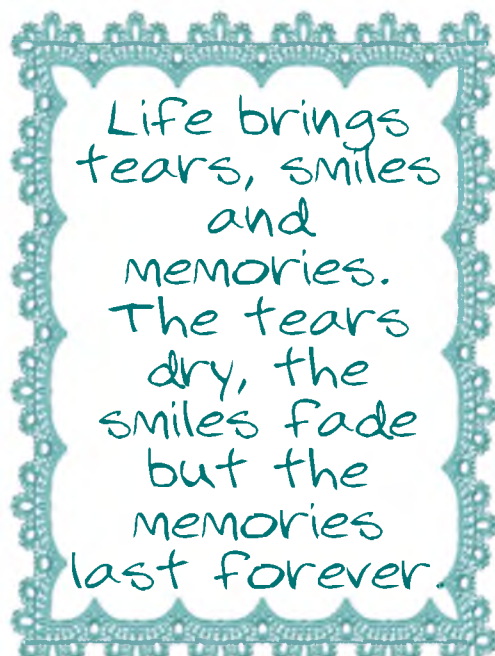

Don't forget to keep looking at our website

www.portisaacheritage.co.uk

It's all about YOU!

We always take copies of any material that is lent to us and we never keep originals. They are always returned to the owner who retains ownership. If you have anything you would like to share, please contact Dee on 01208 880862 (Secrets) or Barbara (Port Isaac Pottery) on 01208 880625.

PISCES next meeting is on Monday July 4th at 5pm in St Peter's Church. You are all invited!

Port Isaac's Scilly Gig success in 25th birthday year

Port Isaac Rowing Club's ladies crew found winning form at the World Pilot Gig Championships, held at the beginning of May in the Isles of Scilly. Tony Cook, former Captain of Cornwall Rugby team, took Port Isaac's ladies A crew the top of their category to win a trophy in the club's 25th year.

This was highest placing for the ladies crew since 1995. From lining up against 152 gigs at the St Agnes starting line, the ladies fought through four heats to take the winning spot in group F, coming 61st overall, beating 90 other crews from clubs across Cornwall, Devon and around the world.

Tony said, "I had every faith the ladies would do it. They are all fully committed to the training programme I designed for them and were able to reap the rewards this weekend. The fact that this year we are celebrating the 25th Anniversary of the Port Isaac's first gig launch made it all the more special".

In addition to the Ladies A crew, Port Isaac entered a Ladies B and a Men's crew, both of whom finished second in their categories. A ladies crew also competed in the Supervets race, coming in the top third -eighth out of 24 gigs.

"Overall it was a great World Championships for Port Isaac Rowing Club and we're really proud of all our crews", added Tony. "Now we're looking forward to doing it all again next year!"

Our MP, Scott Mann talks to Trio

I was pleased to hear that the Government has made a U-turn on its policy to turn every school into an academy. Since it was announced in the Budget in March, I have not been keen on the idea of forcing schools to become academies – especially those which had attained an 'outstanding' rating from Ofsted. I informed the Government that I did not support the policy and would vote against it if brought before the Commons.

I understand the arguments for academies because of the independence that comes with them, but I could not vote for a policy which forced schools to change their status. The Government has said it has listened closely to concerns and that 'Good' and 'Outstanding' schools will not be forced to become academies.

I have visited many schools in North Cornwall in the past year and seen how they work well under different systems, from local authority control to academy trusts. The most important issue with school provision isn't the mechanism of delivery, but the benefits to the child.

Meanwhile, I spoke on the Housing and Planning Bill which was in 'ping-pong' stage as both the Commons and the Lords tried to agree amendments before Parliament rose for prorogation. I welcomed and voted for an amendment to ensure greater protection of high value council houses, which under initial proposals, would have to be sold off to fund the extension of the Right to Buy scheme to housing association tenants.

This greatly concerned me because there are many council houses in coastal communities like Padstow, Boscastle and Port Issac which, through no fault of their own, have increased in value as local house prices escalate. We need to make sure that local people can stay in their communities, and the Government will give local authorities more discretion over what they deem as "higher-value" homes.

There was also much debate on local democracy and neighbourhood plans which are gradually being implemented to properly plan the future of communities. I made a point to the Housing Minister that planning inspectors need to be told to respect the wishes of local people when applications go to appeal which do not fit the locally agreed neighbourhood plan.

It's inevitable that towns and villages grow, but this needs to be in a measured way where local people can have confidence in the change that's occurring in their communities in North Cornwall.

I was also delighted to welcome two North Cornwall community shops to Parliament in the Countryside Alliance Awards - also known as the 'Rural Oscars'.

Padstow Farm Shop won the coveted Clarissa Dickson Wright Award for its work in farming, education, campaigning and conservation. Farm shops are fantastic because they enable communities to buy locally produced food which is fresh and of top quality, which in-turn gives more support to local farmers and strengthens local economies.

St Tudy Community Shop was also shortlisted for the Best Village Shop award, which is a great boost considering the shop has only just celebrated its fifth birthday since being set up by local people.

NEW RNLI BOOK

Port Isaac RNLI staged an evening reception at The Chapel Cafe in Port Isaac to launch a new book, "An Illustrated History of Port Isaac Lifeboats, 1899-2016" jointly written by their Chairman Bob Bulgin BEM and well known author of many books charting RNLI Lifeboat history, Nicholas Leach.

The reception recorded the fascinating story of Port Isaac's historic RNLI Station and the courageous RNLI volunteers as it approaches its 150th year of sea rescue service and also promoted sales of the book which was fully funded by private donation and the Padstow based print company, TJ International in support of the RNLI.

The beautifully crafted 120-page book contains a wealth of information and first hand gripping accounts of rescue work carried out throughout the years. Enhanced by 198 photographs in monochrome and colour, many of have not been published before. Further insight into the station's vibrant activity is covered within the pages with details of events supporting the station by dedicated committee members and local artists. A selection of full colour reproductions of Port Isaac lifeboat in action are included in a seven page section.

Seen here, co-authors Author Nicholas Leach left and Port Isaac RNLI Chairman Bob Bulgin BEM right present an individually engraved, special edition RNLI Shield to Angus Clark, CEO of the Padstow based printers and book binders TJ International to mark the occasion and in appreciation of the dedicated support given to the project by this leading Padstow based book printing company, both technically and financially.

Readings from the book were given by leading members of the current lifeboat crew Damien Bolton, Andy Cameron and past Hon Sec Jon Cleave plus past crew member David Sumner.

At the close of the evening, which included the sale of over 50 of the books, donations and raffle, there was the sale of a special limited edition run of personally numbered and named hard back editions of the book, raising a further £1000. The unique one-off limited edition publications were in fact hand crafted by TJ International Business Leader, Peter Leach bringing together both traditional book binding techniques with special individual embroidered images and titling created by Wovina, Bodmin.

Details of where to obtain copies of Port Isaac Lifeboats - An Illustrated History, priced £9.99, can be found on Port Isaac RNLI Facebook page or by email to reb7@btinternet.com

- ii. PA16/02428, Signal Post, 12 New Road, Port Isaac – replacement rear extension accommodating shower room. Enforcement Cases – for information only

Friends of Port Isaac School (FOS)

Members have agreed to grant permission to the FOS to use the playing field on 18th September 2016 for their Annual Summer Fair fundraiser. This year this will include a dog show, provided a written scheme is provided to the Parish Council setting out how the dogs are to be controlled and how dog waste is to be disposed of.

Little Hill Wall

Members have agreed to carry out re-pointing work to the wall at a cost £394+VAT.

New Road Public Conveniences

Building work on the New Road WCs to convert the existing toilet block into three separate disabled WCs (for use by all) and retail units continues. There have been a couple of hiccups, but it is hoped this project will be open for use in the near future.

Public Benches

Further work is to be carried out to the public benches in the parish, namely repairs to the benches at Mine Pit Corner (Opposite St Peter's Church).

Main Car Park

A quantity of mulch has been purchased and will be spread around the newly planted saplings in the Council's Main car park by volunteers. This should give the young trees the best possible start.

Padstow Lobster Hatchery recognised in national governance awards

Padstow based marine conservation, research and education charity, the National Lobster Hatchery, was nominated for a Governance award in London on May 12th.

The inaugural Charity Governance awards 2016 were organised and funded by the Clothworkers Company, a livery company that supports trusteeship initiatives and was supported by New Philanthropy Capital, Reach and Prospectus held in the Clothworkers Company Hall in London. The awards aimed to shine a light on the best of the Charity sector and raise the bar of governance, to ensure higher standards of quality, outputs and outcomes.

The National Lobster Hatchery was one of just three shortlisted Charity's for the improving impact (4-25 staff) category. Over 100 Charity's entered the awards, from all over the UK and the event was attended by some of the most important names from the UK's third sector. The National Lobster Hatchery were sadly pipped to the post in the end by Sport for life UK, a Birmingham based charity

Port Isaac Chorale news

We would like to thank all of those who supported and enjoyed our Spring Concert at St Peter's Church on Sunday May 15th. The amount of £225 was raised for our charity, Hope for Tomorrow. We are proud to support this worthy cause for a mobile chemotherapy unit; ours is called 'Dorothy' and is one of only ten in the country. Some American visitors were particularly interested to learn about this innovative idea, as this 'local' facility is not available in America.

Another organisation we have supported for many years is the RNLI and once again, we will be singing on the Platt on June 12th at 12.30pm for the annual service.

Forthcoming dates include our Summer Concert, together with the Atlantic String Orchestra on July 8th, this time at St Endellion Collegiate Church at 7.30pm.

We have recently been described as 'a lively lot' so should you wish to come and enjoy good company and laughter whilst learning a wide repertoire of songs or would like a local choir for your event please contact our Secretary Pat on 01208 880969 or Musical Director Janet Townsend on 01208 880505. We rehearse on Tuesday evenings at Port Isaac Village Hall (excepting holidays).

Betty Shenton

(1925-2016)

"Betty Shoebox"

After a short illness, Betty sadly passed away on May 5th. The funeral service was held on May 20th at Glynn Valley Crematorium and the presiding minister was Rev David Michael. The service was so very well attended by relatives and friends, so many of whom were from Port Isaac. We were so pleased to receive your support and we would like to thank you all very much indeed, both those who attended and those who were not able to come but sent such encouraging and happy memories of Betty. Thanks also to David Bray and his staff.

Donations for Cancer Research UK, in lieu of flowers, have already reached £1300 (donateinmemory.cancerresearchuk.org/0006998).

This is the eulogy, written by Betty's daughter, Mary.

with love

Betty was the youngest of five surviving children. Her father was a farmer and she was brought up a country girl. When she was 12 her mother died so she went to live with her older sister and her family. She worked in service as a maid and during the war was a member of the Land Army. She met her future husband at the end of the war and moved to the West Midlands. There were three children, Mary, Mark and the youngest son Matthew who sadly died at the age of 35. Hers was a hardworking and productive life and throughout good times and bad Betty's character always shone through.

Family, friends and strangers all felt the warmth and magnetism which Betty exuded. The transference of energy and love were instantly felt in that impulsive hug - even the doctor was included! Rooms lit up with her charismatic presence. She loved colours and combined them beautifully in her unique style of dress - this could be casual and 'way out' or breath-takingly different.

Betty was practical, artistic, musical, loved gardening, cooking, baking - and JOKES! She loved visiting and one could often see her walking round the village, going into different homes or standing chatting in the street. If anyone was ill or upset she would be there with some cakes and was always able to support, boost confidence and lighten folks' lives.

During her life she learned Italian, had typing and piano lessons. She became qualified as a beauty therapist and during her study course, although she was by far the oldest student in the class, was a favourite with everyone. Most of her female friends were told, "You need plenty of blusher to keep you looking young." She also enjoyed knitting, sewing, cycling, yoga, badminton, walking and swimming - indeed she went swimming regularly. Until very recently she kept fit and was active - "Let's all go for a picnic today!" or "I'm walking to art class, I must keep my sugar levels down!" Letter writing was something she also always enjoyed - sending cards too, of her own design and beautifully printed and presented by Michael, all with the familiar pretty stickers on the envelopes.

Mother, Nan, Great Nan and Aunt, her family meant so much and she was very much loved by them all. She would really play with her grandchildren when they were young and they always enjoyed visiting or staying with her and Michael. She was the centre of a family who adored her.

Michael and Betty were together for 51 years and theirs was certainly an everlasting love - a 'Cathy & Heathcliffe' or a 'Romeo & Juliet' - it was a strong bond as either of these. They have had a varied, exciting and happy life together, including quite a lot of travelling - going on holiday, here or abroad, and visiting family. Once could feel the magnetism between them and this has never waned. They would make spontaneous decisions, Betty being probably the more impulsive, but it led to a fulfilling and varied time together.

So many remember Betty - 'a one-off character', 'the life and soul of the art class', 'a good friend to me', 'always full of fun, she made us laugh a lot', 'a special lady', 'unforgettable', 'such a warm and cheery lady, I loved having chats with her on one of her "keep fit" walks', 'she always had time for me', 'her passing will leave an enormous void in all our lives', 'her spirit will always be around us in everything beautiful'.

Betty's husband Michael and her family

My Mother

I loved her very much and I know that you did too,
but she loved us first because for her it was a natural thing to do.
Gregarious and warm
with empathy and charm -
never wanting anyone
to come to any harm.
The centre of a family
enriched
through her long life,
a friend, a mother, aunt and nan
and a loving caring wife.
There's so much more that I could say -
but for me up to the end she'll always be my mother and a VERY special friend.

Mary

Music at St Endellion

Our first concert this month at the end of half term week sees a very welcome return of the vibrant early music ensemble, K'antu, last here in 2014.

'Come now, a roundel and a fairy song' – K'antu Ensemble

Friday 3 June, 7.30 pm, St Endellion Church

To mark the 400th anniversary of Shakespeare's death in 2016, K'antu Ensemble have been touring internationally with engagements including Craiova International Shakespeare Festival (Romania) and the Bibliotheca Alexandrina (Egypt). These award winning multi-instrumentalists and singers will be exploring the popular music of Shakespeare's lifetime. Ben Mitchell of Wadebridge has been playing with the ensemble since 2013.

The concert will be interspersed with some of the Bard's sonnets read by Cornish author Patrick Gale. Suitable for all the family, K'antu's lively programme of sonnets, popular songs & dances will appeal to folk, classical and world music fans alike. It promises to be a rather special evening.

Later in the month we have a concert comprising a series of recitals from young American singers and musicians.

'The Songs of Folk and Legend' – Cornish American Song Institute

Friday 24 June, 7.30pm, St Endellion Church

From the Cotswolds of England and the Fjords of Norway, to the forests of Russia, folk culture and legend have been inspirational for artists, poets, and composers. These beautiful and moving songs will be performed by students from many of America's top schools of music at the end of their three-week course of study with their director and head of vocal studies David Sadlier. An opportunity to hear some of the up and coming talent from across the pond

Tickets for both these concerts are £10 (free to accompanied under-16s) and available from the Endelienta Box Office: telephone 07787 944935 or online at www.endelienta.org.uk

Between these two Endelienta concerts we will also be welcoming the Bristol University Madrigals Ensemble, this year celebrating their 30th annual tour to Cornwall on Friday 17th June at 7.30 pm. Entrance is free. Come and hear a short programme of acapella part songs and madrigals.

Cornwall Wildlife Trust & Polzeath Marine Conservation Group

National Trust and many others are joining forces to bring you a marine day you'll never forget! Come along and celebrate our seas in Polzeath, learn fun and fascinating facts about our amazing marine life, create beach sculptures, go on a rock pool ramble, help create a marine themed animated film, and so much

Lundy Bay BioBlitz

From 1pm Saturday 2 July to 1pm Sunday 3 July

Definition of Lundy Bay BioBlitz: finding and recording as much wildlife as we can in 24 hours at Lundy Bay.

Become a wildlife detective by seeking out plants and animals whilst discovering facts about them from the wildlife experts. There will be bug hunting, rockpooling, butterfly hunt, wildflower walk, small mammal discovery, reptile search, bird watching and so much more, all at Lundy Bay near Polzeath, North Cornwall.

Whether for an hour or 24, the choice is yours, get involved with as much or as little as you like, but come along and discover the wildlife on your doorstep.

Year 6 SATS

Our year 6 children have done their SATs and they all put in maximum effort.

Well done to them!

Walk To School

A day was picked for this event but the weather was not kind so the walk which was originally going to have several starting points was condensed. Everyone who wanted to take part met at The Pea Pod or joined the walk as it passed through their street, Heading along Hartland Road, up New Road and finally picking up in Hilson Close before making their way to school.

Year 3 & 4 Farm Update

All our seeds which were planted and kept inside have now been planted out in the beds outside the classroom. The children have a watering and general care rota to look after them.

Our beans did not like the windy conditions over one weekend but we are hopeful that they will recover.

Overnight Stay in School

In preparation for camp there was an overnight stay in school for the younger children to experience a little of what it would be like.

Homemade curry was the dish of the day and after lots of games and general merriment the children settled down to watch the movie Home before bedtime.

news & views from Port Isaac School

Class 1 - Rainforest

Miss Martin's class have been learning about the rainforest. They know that there are 4 layers, forest floor, understorey, canopy and emergent. The children learned about the plants and wildlife that live in each of the layers and they all made their own mini rainforests out of boxes which were stacked one on top of the other to represent each layer. Inside they painted foliage and made leaves and animals to place in each layer.

Shakespeare Topic

Class 2 spent a week learning all about William Shakespeare in honour of the 400TH anniversary of his life and times.

After a fact finding mission they produced some information posters and then studied A Midsummers Night's Dream. They had the chance to watch some clips, think about the characters and produce their own dramatic versions of some scenes from the play.

Art competition

Ms Weatherhead held an art competition for the children in her class. The theme was electricity, which is the current science topic, and she received several entries of an extremely high standard. There were two overall winners, Robert and Kailyn and the judges were impressed with Robert's attention to detail and Kailyn's imaginative interpretation of the theme. Well done to everyone who entered.

PORT ISAAC CARNIVAL

The Party in the Village Hall on 3rd September has been cancelled.

The 2015 Port Isaac Carnival Crew have had a shuffle and there is now a new reformed crew for this year. Chris and I have retired and Kat, Charlotte and Nicki will be joined by some new younger (than us) members. The 2015 Crew managed to raise some good funds last year from the Duck Races, Auction, Treasure Hunts and of course the Carnival, which will be used by the new crew to move forward. We have had fantastic support from all of you at all the events and we hope that you will continue to support the new crew in all their endeavours.

Watch this space for the new events. Or join Port Isaac Carnival Crew on facebook to offer your help and support.

Martin's Mackerel ...

Slowly but surely the water around our coast is getting warmer and for me that means one thing ... mackerel.

Mackerel is a beautiful oily fish and with its iridescent, striking skin, and distinctive flavour, it looks stunning on the plate. Mackerel is a comparatively sustainable fish though the Marine Conservation Society recommend only buying line-caught, UK-landed mackerel where possible and to eat it only occasionally.

Mackerel can be cooked in many different ways, though baking, barbecuing, grilling and pan-frying are the most common. Arguably the simplest way to cook mackerel is quickly pan-frying the fillets; just remember to remove the pin bones first by cutting a V notch down the middle of the fillet and pulling the pin bones out.

Barbecuing is a fantastic way to cook mackerel fillets as the high heat gets the skin super-crispy and the flesh is cooked in no time.

Pan fried Mackerel Fillets

Heat a dash of olive oil in a frying pan to a medium/high heat; fast and quick is the key! Dry the mackerel fillets with kitchen paper, season the flesh with salt and add to the frying pan, skin-side down. As the fillets curl up away from the heat, gently apply pressure to the fillet to ensure that the fish stays flat and all of the skin comes into contact with the pan.

Cook for 1-2 minutes, depending on the thickness of the fillet. Once the skin is crisp and golden, turn the fillet over and remove the pan from the heat. Leave the mackerel in the pan to cook through, for 30 seconds (no more or the fish will over cook!).

I will do more Mackerel recipes as the summer warms up, but if you need your fix now get down to the Fish Cellars, as line caught fish are great at this time of year.

and one last Asparagus recipe!

As some of you will know, Asparagus season is one of my favourite times of the year. So as the season is about to end I thought I would combine my love of quiche and asparagus and salty Parma ham.

Asparagus and Chervil Quiche

1kg asparagus, peeled and cut into 6-8 cm lengths

140g of Parma ham

1 bunch of chervil, chopped

1 pinch of chives, chopped

100g of spring onions, chopped

350g of mascarpone

2 eggs

4 egg yolks

1/2 tsp salt & pinch black pepper

Shortcrust pastry

400g of plain flour, plus extra for dusting

200g of butter, cold and diced, plus extra for greasing

1 pinch of salt

1 egg

1 egg yolk, for brushing the pastry

ice cold water

Place the flour into a bowl with the salt and the diced butter. Transfer into a food mixer set to a low setting and mix until like fine breadcrumbs – about 1 minute. Alternatively, you could rub the mixture between your thumb and forefinger until it resembles breadcrumbs.

Add the egg and then add the iced water, little by little, until the dough comes together (it should not be too dry, otherwise it will just crumble when you roll it out). Place the dough in cling film and transfer to the fridge to rest for 30 minutes.

When the dough is ready to roll out, preheat the oven to 180°C/gas mark 4, and grease and flour your quiche tin. Roll out the pastry to a 0.5cm thickness and lay this into the tin. Line the pastry with a sheet of foil and fill with baking beans. Blind bake the pastry with the baking beans in the oven for 20 minutes, or until the pastry achieves a light golden colour. Remove the baking beans and foil, and brush the base of the tart case with egg yolk. Bake for a further 5 minutes, then remove from the oven. Allow the pastry to cool while you make the filling.

Reduce the oven temperature to 170°C/gas mark 3.

Blanch the asparagus in boiling salted water for 3 minutes and then refresh in iced water for two minutes. Drain and dry well. Mix the chervil, chives, mascarpone, spring onion, eggs, egg yolks, salt and pepper in a bowl and set aside. Lay the asparagus spears in the cooled pastry tart, pointing outwards in a circular pattern, then lay the ham in between the asparagus. Pour on the chervil and mascarpone mix. Bake in the oven for 25–30 minutes, until it is light brown and firm to touch in the centre. Allow to cool to room temperature, slice and then serve.

So that's it for this month, have a good one, and let's hope no one takes the P.I.S.S!
