THE BIG SWIM

A CORNISH BEACH TO BEACH RACE - RAISING MONEY FOR CHARITIES

"All credit to the ever growing community of enthusiasts who have shared their pleasure in the challenge that this uniquely beautiful coastline presents"

The atmosphere was tense, with classic Cornish conditions delaying the starts at all three locations. None the less we are proud to be celebrating the efforts of over 450 swimmers and all their supporters that made this the largest and most successful Big Swim in its six year history, and a great day for all involved!

A great crowd showed up to cheer all swimmers, the kids on their lap of the harbour, those braving the choppy seas from Port Gaverne and the crazy mass of endurance swimmers from Port Quin inclusive!

This years Big Party was rocked by The Fisherman's Friends, Waxx, Jamie Hewett and Freshly Squeezed. Special thanks to John Brays. Yet again the music was epic. All the bands performed brilliantly to an electric crowd. Thanks to Sam Williams for the production.

Appreciation and thanks to Richard Sanders for proving fantastic water safety and to all crew, volunteers and locals for making this happen for the sixth year!

Monies raised this year goes to: RNLI
Air Ambulance
Little Harbour Children's Hospice
National Lobster Hatchery and a smaller donation to thank SLSC (surf life saving club Polzeth) and The National Trust for their support

Lastly we would like to take the opportunity to credit every swimmer who through their individual challenges, raised huge funds for our chosen charities. Your contribution is greatly valued by all.

Updating the sound and lights at the Village Hall

It's never too early to start getting ready for Christmas ... our two fundraising Christmas cards

The Village Hall and the Drekky Theatre Company are working together to raise funds to improve the sound and lights in the Hall. With rehearsals beginning for this year's panto in September the race is on to get things moving and we are extremely grateful to the Doc Martin Fund for pledging us some matched funding.

If you want to support us why not enter our Great Big Panto Quiz for £2 (the winner gets £20) or buy some of our special Christmas cards - quiz entry forms and cards available in the Pottery and Secrets.

It's been a busy Village Hall summer with the Hall being in use most weekends for private functions. The Stay & Playgroup still meet during the school holidays plus the Co-op held a quiz and PISCES put on a slideshow from their archives that attracted a lot of visitors.

During August we held our own fundraising coffee morning that raised us £229 and was a lovely village morning with a few visitors thrown in for good measure. Thank you to everyone who supported us.

Coming up the Hall is going to be pretty busy; panto rehearsals start plus the Chorale and Gulls use the Hall every week. If you want to book the Hall just have a look on our website where our bookings calendar will show you if the Hall is free.

Village Hall wise we have a Carn to Cove event with Canvas & Rum, a maritime theatre and music evening, on Friday October 28th and our first Village Hall Christmas Bingo on Friday December 9th - full details in future issues of Trio.

'An evening with PISCES'

Thank you very much to John Brown for a hugely entertaining evening wandering through the PISCES archive. Hopefully this is the first of a series of events where we invite different 'hosts' to take us through their lucky dip of old Port Isaac memories. For just £3, which includes tea, coffee and refreshments, you can sit back and be entertained by the Port Isaac nobility with first hand stories from our Port Isaac history collection.

This is a treat not to be missed! Watch the posters for more information on future 'Dip into the Archive' evenings.

25 Years of Gig Racing in Port Isaac

This is a lively, fun and current exhibition celebrating 25 years of Gig racing in Port Isaac. Drop into the exhibition and take a look.

The Duchess of Cornwall, Kosovo and Port Isaac!

On July 19th, Port Isaac was proud to welcome Prince Charles and The Duchess of Cornwall to Port Isaac. Her Royal Highness already had a special link with Port Isaac. On an official visit to Kosovo earlier this year, the Duchess of Cornwall visited the Ideas Partnership charity in Pristina, a charity begun by two Port Isaac residents Elizabeth Gowing and Robert Wilton. There, Her Royal Highness learned of a special link between the two communities to support the children and women of Fushe Kosove into education. PISCES is showing an exhibition of this inspiring, exciting link across Europe between two very diverse communities and how a pair shoes can change a life!

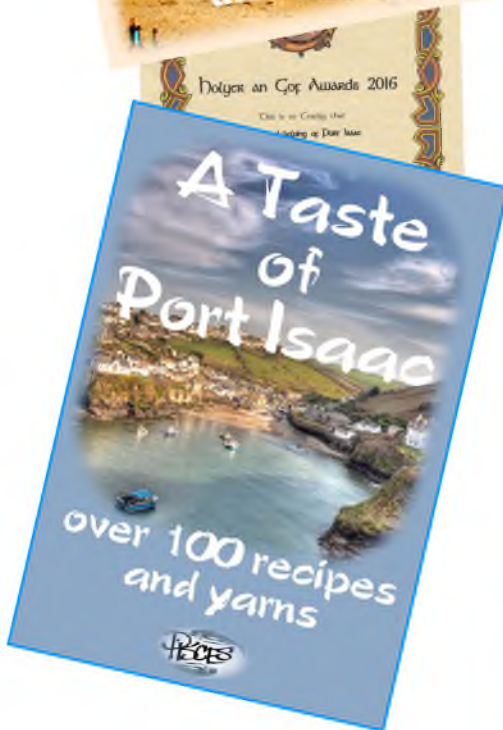

PISCES and the Harvest Fandango! Sunday October 9th at 4 pm Harvest Fandango!

PISCES is very closely linked to St Peter's Church as our hosts. We are pleased to support the 'Harvest Fandango', even though we're not sure what a fandango is! This is a short Harvest Festival service for children and families and everyone in Port Isaac, followed by afternoon tea and a produce sale. We really hope lots of you will come along.

Please bring any harvest festival produce on the day. Everything will be sold at the end and the proceeds given towards local charities.

We are keen to preserve the annual Port Isaac festivals and keep them within the village.

As reported last month, A Second Helping of Port Isaac, PISCES second book that was published in 2015 has followed in the footsteps of A Taste of Port Isaac and been nominated in the Hoyer an Gof Awards.

The sale of both of our cookery books continues to help to keep PISCES in business. Priced £10 a copy, they are available from The Pottery, Secrets, May Contain Nuts, Fresh from the Sea & Trevathan Farm.

Our MP, Scott Mann talks to Trio ...

The final week of Parliament before the summer recess saw some important votes and meetings take place before MPs headed back their constituencies for a few weeks.

As promised in our election manifesto, we held a vote to renew Trident. The current programme runs until around 2030, and due to the extensive planning and resourcing that needs to be done, a vote had to be taken this year.

Although MPs including myself voted overwhelmingly to renew our nuclear deterrent, it's important to also note that the same motion included a caveat to reduce our nuclear stockpile by the mid-2020s. This means we remain committed to multilateral disarmament while having an effective deterrent.

My South West colleague and recently appointed International Trade Secretary, Liam Fox, held a meeting with MPs to outline what the goals are for him and his new department.

Already since the Brexit vote, South Korea, Canada, the US, Australia and Pakistan have revealed intentions for free trade deals with Britain, and it will be the job of Liam and his new department to negotiate such deals leading up to our exit from the EU. Only 9% of UK companies export and I want to work with North Cornwall businesses to tie up those links with other countries who wish to import our goods.

In August I went along to the annual Launceston Show to meet with the NFU, agricultural businesses and food producers. Despite the odd bit of rain, the show was very good and I had constructive discussions with farmers in the NFU tent.

Rightly, they are concerned about a post-Brexit future, and it's vital that we get clarity from the Government for a 'British Agricultural Policy' to address subsidies, sustainability, skills and promoting British produce at home and abroad as we draft trade deals with other economies. Farmers have my full support and I will be their voice in Parliament.

Sticking with farming, after the Show I met with South West Water and the Westcountry Rivers Trust to learn more about their Upstream Thinking project, which aims to clean up our rivers by changing the way farmland is used upriver.

We visited one farm near Werrington which, through match funding from South West Water, has built new slurry pits to stop it washing into the Ottery River. Not only does this help the wildlife, but it also makes the water cleaner for South West Water.

This level of investment, which would be difficult to get from a bank, means the farmer can modernise their farm, become more productive and self-sufficient and help the environment.

The Commons Culture, Media and Sport Select Committee also published its report on "Establishing world-class connectivity throughout the UK", concluding that BT must invest more into its Openreach division which oversees the installation and maintenance of cables.

BT say that investment is 30 per cent higher than two years ago, but the Committee still argue that more needs to be done. This year the Government will also bring forward its Digital Economy Bill which will introduce a statutory obligation of at least 10Mbps for every household.

BOOK FESTIVAL

St Endellion

www.ncornbookfest.org

Do you have a bit of spare time? Do you enjoy the arts?

Endelienta, the arts programme at St Endellion, is looking for VOLUNTEERS, for our year-round programme and for our annual Book Festival in October. Depending on your interests and availability, you could give just a few hours a year, or a few hours a week.

Casual work includes stewarding at events; helping with operations; driving; helping with bar/café; helping with technical and stage management; assisting with our community projects.

If you are looking for something bigger with a little bit more responsibility and satisfaction, we are looking to recruit keen people to support Box Office management, logistics and marketing.

To find out more about the organisation, go to www.endelienta.org.uk and www.ncornbookfest.org. To have a chat about volunteering, please call Catherine or Ian on 01840 214613.

Jam Jars wanted

If you about to recycle your empty jars I would be grateful that instead you delivered them to me at Harbour Way Cottage or telephone me on 880660 and I will collect (even if they haven't been cleaned).

I appreciate that there are a lot of jam and chutney makers in the village but any leftovers would be gratefully received.

Many thanks

Port Isaac Christmas Lights

There will be a meeting at the Pottery on Thursday September 8th at 6pm to discuss this year's events. Please show your support to your Christmas Lights and come along and join in.

Budapest Cafe Orchestra at St Endellion

Following a wonderful Summer Music festival and a memorable visit by the chamber choir Carice Singers last month, we are in for a real treat with music of an entirely different genre in September:

Budapest Café Orchestra - Saturday September 24th, 7.30pm

Electrifying and entertaining, led by jazz violin superstar Christian Garrick, the Budapest Café Orchestra play traditional folk and gypsy flavoured music from across the Balkans and Russia, Klezmer, Romanian Doinas, Hungarian Czadas and beautiful ballads such as the theme to Schindler's List and Waltz Lacrimoso.

Evoking vivid images of Tzigane fiddle maestros, Budapest café life and gypsy campfires – with a few surprises along the way – it's good enough to make you want to book a holiday along the Danube!

"The music is magic in their hands" Sean Rafferty, BBC Radio 3

Tickets are £10 (free to accompanied under-16s) and available from the Endelienta Box Office: telephone 07787 944935 or online at www.endelienta.org.uk Or you can call in at the Wadebridge Bookshop, 43 Molesworth Street, Wadebridge.

The Royal British Legion Poppy Appeal in Port Isaac - 2016

Due to increasing ill health, I had seriously considered resigning as the Poppy Appeal organiser. However, the Royal British Legion relies on all the funds we can raise - last year over £4000 in Port Isaac and district - to carry on all their hard work to look after the families whose loved ones have given their lives for our peace, as well as those still suffering from various horrific wars. So I am asking for you to help me organise the Port Isaac Poppy Appeal; to put boxes together and distribute to shops and hotels, to do house-to-house collecting and collect outside the Co-op. Without your help our Poppy Appeal, which starts on Monday October 17th will cease and this will include the Remembrance Service. If you can help in any way please call me on 01208 880660.

I look forward to hearing from you, Annie Price, Poppy Appeal Organiser

Annebeth Baird

The family of the late Annebeth Baird (née Currie) of Port Gaverne would like to thank all those who sent cards and messages of sympathy, attended the funeral service and gave donations to the Port Isaac branch of the RNLI.

We are deeply grateful to Rev'd Dr Elizabeth Wild for conducting a lovely service at St Peter's Church in Port Isaac and later officiating at the interment and committal at St Endellion. In everything she has done for us Rev'd Wild demonstrated true sympathy, compassion, kindness and understanding. Thanks also to Janet Townsend for playing the organ. To the whole team of R J Bray & Son we also extend our thanks for all their help with the funeral arrangements and their sympathetic professionalism throughout.

We pay tribute with a special thank you to Tina, as well as a heartfelt thank you to the entire, extraordinary and exceptional team of carers who helped Annebeth remain at home, as was her wish, and to the many caring professionals of Port Isaac Surgery who contributed to Mum's care.

Many thanks also for the excellent hospitality provided afterwards by Felicity and Jonney at the Cornish Arms, Pendoggett.

We were overwhelmed and deeply moved by the number of people who came to pay their respects to Mum and sincerely regret being unable to have time to speak to everyone after the service and thank you all personally for your kind words and thoughts. The kindness of so many people has been a great comfort to us at this difficult time.

Our New Children and Families Worker!

Introducing our new Children and Families Worker, Marcus Jones, who we are delighted to welcome to the Cluster as a full time member of the team:

"I am Marcus Jones, 45 and have two teenage children who live with their mother in Falmouth.

My accent isn't easy to place, I was born in Scotland, I've lived in Wales and grew up in Northern Ireland. My English years started at the age of 17 in Taunton, my early adult years in the Black Country and I've been in Cornwall for nine years now.

I have been involved in children's work within the church from the very beginning of being a practicing Christian back in my Taunton days helping with Junior Church and the youth evening service. I've been a Boys' Brigade captain, helped with weekends away events, was a children's worker to a joint Anglican/Methodist venture in the West Midlands and for Churches Together in the Falmouth and Penryn. More recently I have been working for the short breaks services for children with autism.

Ten of my favourite things in no particular order; Bach, bagpipes, Van Gogh, Simpsons, sailing, Pixar films, dogs, curry, and Harry Potter. If I could have one Harry Potter spell it would be "Accio" the summoning charm - not because I'm too lazy to stretch over to the tv remote but because I seem to spend a lot of time looking for something, usually keys. Utopia for me would be a keyless society.

My favourite Joke is: Knock knock – who's there?
Little old lady- Little old lady who?
I didn't know you could yodel.

I do actually listen to yodelling music though I can't do it myself and as you get to know me you'll discover my jokes won't improve!

Working with children and families is a great privilege and a most wonderful thing to be involved in. In it we are answering Jesus' invitation to feed his sheep and his lambs and yet it is in the people we are serving where we meet God reflected back on us and often in quite unexpected ways. I am very much looking forward to serving alongside you within the North Cornwall Cluster. There are many different ways of being involved with children and family work; willing hands to set up and dismantle, kind hearts to provide refreshments, and friendly ears to listen to children and their families are the most important roles to any activity as they are the glue that holds everything together.

I am contactable on marcus.ajones@gmx.co.uk and 0792 3913727."

TRADITIONAL FOOD & REAL ALES

Martin's BBQ menu

So as you read this silly season will almost be over and my thoughts have turned to what to cook for this year's Gig in the Garden. I really love this day (although it is a lot of hard work for all the staff) as it gives us a opportunity to do some thing different and to meet our customers. As some of you might know, I have a new kitchen range and so plan to put this to the test. So here is a BBQ menu for you ... with a Californian classic salad to go as a side.

Texas Barbecue Brisket

about a 5kg/ 11 lb piece of beef brisket	100 ml/ 3½ floz Worcester sauce
500 ml/ 18 fl oz beef stock	75 ml/ 2½ fl oz lemon juice
For the barbecue sauce	2 tbsp brown sugar
1 tbsp sunflower oil	1 tbsp malt vinegar
1 small onion, finely chopped	2 tsp Dijon mustard
3 garlic clove, crushed	1 tsp crushed chilli flakes
500 ml/ 18 fl oz tomato ketchup	1 tsp Tabasco sauce
	1 tsp dried thyme

For the rub

2 tbsp each chilli powder and mustard powder
 1 tbsp each paprika, ground cumin, garlic powder, ground black pepper, caster sugar
 1 bay leaf, crushed

To make the barbecue sauce, heat the oil in a frying pan, then cook onion and garlic for a few mins until soft. Add the rest of the sauce ingredients to the pan with a good pinch of salt and simmer for 20 mins. Use a hand blender or food processor to whizz to a smooth purée.

Make the rub by mixing all the ingredients together with a pinch of salt. Rub the mix all over the beef and set aside. Leave for at least six hours. Heat oven to 150C/130C fan/gas 2.

In a large roasting tin, mix the beef stock and ½ the barbecue sauce. Add the brisket to the tin, cover tightly with foil, then cook for 4-5 hrs until the meat is really tender when you push a fork into it. The beef can be prepared the night before - just leave it to cool in the tin covered with foil, but don't refrigerate.

To finish the beef, get a barbecue fired up and wait until the coals are completely ashen - you want a low, not fierce, heat. Lift the beef out of the roasting tin and place on the barbecue to char. If your barbecue has a lid, close it now. Cook for about 20 mins, turning it carefully with tongs, until lightly charred all over and heated through. Lift onto a board and serve sliced with the remaining barbecue sauce on the side.

Cobb salad

is an American classic of chopped tomatoes, avocado, leaves and crisp bacon
 Sourdough: 1/4 loaf

Avocado: 1 small, peeled and cut into chunks

Blue cheese: 75g, crumbled

Mini plum tomatoes: 100g, quartered

Watercress: 50g, leaves only

Smoked streaky bacon: 4 slices, cooked crisp

Heat the oven to 200C/ fan 180C/gas 6. Cut the sourdough into chunks, toss in olive oil and bake for 10-15 mins until crisp and golden.

Green Goddess Dressing

2 spring onions, chopped including the green bits

1/2 lemon, juiced

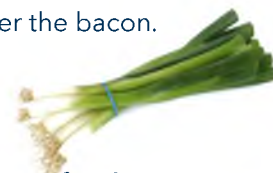

2 tbsp mayonnaise

1/2 small bunch basil, chopped

1/2 small bunch chives, chopped

Whizz all the dressing ingredients to a purée in a small food processor adding 2-3 tbsp water to loosen it (you want to be able to drizzle it) and season.

Arrange all the salad ingredients except the bacon in separate piles on a plate. Drizzle over the dressing and break over the bacon.

Looking forward to seeing you all, and if you like the food, mine is a pint of Tribute Mx

Harry's Marathon for a Defib

Harry Hambly is running in the Bristol Half Marathon on September 25th to raise money for a Public Access Defibrillator for the village. These defibs cost £3100 and, together with CPR, are the only way to re-establish the heart's natural rhythm.

There are collecting tins around the village where you can donate to support Harry or via his Just Giving Crowd Funding page <https://www.justgiving.com/fundraising/PortIsaacPADappeal2016>

CREW NEWS

On Sunday July 31st, Port Isaac Lifeboat had launched at 15-35 hours and was proceeding in a westerly direction towards Lunday Bay, with volunteer crew members Damien Bolton, Tom Brown and George Cleave taking part in a routine training exercise. This plan was interrupted by radio communications from Falmouth Coastguard tasking our boat to Port Gaverne as they were receiving numerous 999 calls reporting an up-turned boat with multiple persons in the water .

Our ILB crew reversed course and reached the area within five minutes of receiving the 'shout', quickly locating a capsized Dory type vessel approximately 4-5 metres long. Two females were seen to be clinging to the hull and two males were in the water. Helmsman, Damien Bolton, decided to retrieve one of the males from the water first. Meanwhile the two females had slipped off the hull so priority was given to bringing them on board, closely followed by the two men. A triage showed all casualties were extremely cold with the teenage girl suffering more. The helm radioed Falmouth to request an ambulance. However, Maritime Agency Rescue Helicopter 924 from Newquay had been tasked by Falmouth Coastguard and was on the scene as our ILB was making it's way back to Port Isaac.

Falmouth requested 924 to land to allow the on-board paramedic to check out the casualties in the station. 924 landed on Lobber Point and their paramedic made his way down to the station on foot. The casualties were subsequently all found to be ok and were collected by relatives. Meanwhile our Lifeboat was re-launched and recovered the upturned boat safely to Port Gaverne, and then returned to station and refuelled ready for service.

What could have been a tragic incident had been averted by the vigilance of those on shore that called the Coastguard and the speedy response and professionalism of our volunteer lifeboat crew.

LIFEBOAT LARKS REAL LIFE RESCUE

Sunday August 7th saw moments of real life drama within the closing minutes of tLifeboat Larks. Our lifeboat, having demonstrated Sea Rescue and Crew Transfer techniques in combination with Maritime Rescue Helicopter 924, was called out at 17-20 hours to launch a real life rescue to a swimmer who had been dragged out towards the open sea by a strong rip current contending with lively surface conditions and backwash after jumping into the sea from the Eastern Harbour Breakwater. The ambitious swimmer was safely hauled on board the lifeboat and returned, somewhat shaken, to the harbour beach, safe and sound and a little wiser.

WELL IT WAS OUR LIFEBOAT DAY!

TREAT WATER WITH RESPECT - NOT EVERYONE CAN BE SAVED

Bookings for the Lifeboat Ball have been coming in thick and fast. There may be some spare tickets but generally new applications will have to be added to our waiting list. Contact to-day 01208 880765

NEXT MONTH PORT ISAAC RNLI LIFEBOAT CREWS WILL BE CARRYING OUT CO-ORDINATED EXERCISES WITH THE LOCAL COASTGUARD UNITS IN ORDER TO DEMONSTRATE KNOWLEDGE AND CAPABILITIES OF 'DEEP SEA RESCUE'

RNLI NEWS

With Port Isaac RNLI approaching it's 150th year celebrations and a Ball scheduled to mark the event on October 15th, the annual Lifeboat Larks event set off with a record attendance with well over 1000 visitors and locals enjoying a warm summer day in the harbour and the wide range of activities on offer.

This event provides a great opportunity for for all ages to meet the crew and committee and see the Lifeboat on exercise, co-ordinated this year for the first time by the newly formed Maritime Agency Coastguard Search and Rescue Sikorsky 90 Helicopter Unit based at Newquay.

St MInver Silver Band set the day off followed by the ever popular Penny Royal Traditional Jazz Band. Activities ranged from face painting including a competition for all age groups, bouncy castle, duck fishing, egg throwing, BBQ, Pimms and Sharp's Bar, cream teas, prints unique to Port Isaac and a wide range of Christmas and note cards only available through the lifeboat station. We also had a well subscribed star raffle for a special edition reproduction of a painting by local artist Sian Fletcher depicting a historic overland rescue carried out by Port Isaac Lifeboat back in 1877 plus our draw tickets for Rosemary Grattan's painting, Christmas Delivery reviewed in past issues of Trio. The Port Isaac Gigs provided an opportunity for some adventurous visitors to try their hand at swinging an oar.

Throughout the event Port Isaac's well known Fisherman's Friend, Jon Cleave was on the PA and kept the day rolling with his own unique humour. His son, George, now a member of the crew and "following in Father's footsteps", gave an interesting and informative narration covering the Lifeboat to Helicopter crew transfer demonstration, carried out by Darren Milner, which took place out just beyond the Harbour breakwaters. The helicopter carried on the long established tradition set by Culdrose RNAS 771 Squadron and left us with an impressive Fly Past over the Harbour.

With final accounts just completed, Chairman Bob Bulgin confirmed that Lifeboat Larks had raised a record breaking total of over £5 000 for the RNLI. Bob also reiterated that such a result would not have been possible had it not been for the tremendous support given by crew, committee and helpers, who had all worked so hard to present a great family day ... not forgetting, of course, the generosity of everyone who came along.

As the event was closing, the Lifeboat was called to launch to a real life rescue bringing a casualty ashore who had fallen off the harbour breakwaters into a lively sea and had got caught in a strong back wash sweeping him around the pier head.

Websites of the month... WINE!

The dramatic improvement in English wines over the past decade is celebrated in the new vineyards we have in Cornwall and the South of England. Some friends reminded me that English wine has a long history going back to Roman times and over 40 were mentioned in the Domesday Book. So this month I thought I would look at what you could find online about local vineyards and distilleries. I was prompted to do this as I had an enjoyable tour of the Furleigh Estate Vineyard and Winery in Dorset recently www.furleighestate.co.uk and tasted some really enjoyable English wines. The vineyard was only established a few years ago. The tour explained how the Classic Cuvée 2011 (Silver medal in the International Wine Challenge 2016) was made and bottled – quite complicated, but the result was excellent! The Rosé was also very refreshing (see photo).

Of course our most local and very famous vineyard is Camel Valley www.camelvalley.com which was established quite a long time ago now, in 1989. The story of its origins when Bob Lindo and his wife Annie began changing their farm to its new focus of winemaking is a good read on www.camelvalley.com/about and gives an idea of how hard it is to produce good wines – how dependent on the climate, for example, and dealing with disease. It is, from what I can gather, the largest vineyard in the County, but others are coming along all the time.

Another to have a look at is Knightor open vineyard www.knightor.com Here, in addition to some discussion of winemaking the site has a page www.knightor.com/history devoted to local history that I found very interesting. It starts off as follows:

"The settlement of Knightor is first recorded in 1305 when it is spelt "Creghtyer". The name is Cornish and contains the elements crygh and tyr meaning 'wrinkled land'. By 1699 Joel Gascoyne's map of Cornwall records it as Nighter, and depicts an important house with what appears to be two ranges and a tower, indicative of a grand building. By 1805 The Ordnance Survey records the settlement as Nightor and by 1842 the St Austell tithe map records the hamlet as Knightor."

One further west is Polgoon Vinyard and orchard Penzance www.polgoon.com They say on their website: "After many years trading as fish merchants John and Kim Coulson decided they needed a new adventure. After meeting an award-winning Cornish winemaker they decided to plant vines and create their own Cornish vineyard. From their first wine harvest in 2006, they created the first Polgoon wine and were subsequently awarded the Trophy for "Best Still Rose in the UK"."

Closer to home, Trevibban Mill www.trevibbanmill.com is near. From their website they say: "Originally the land was home to a miller and his family and the ruins of the water mill where they lived and worked are what first attracted Liz and Engin to the area. The old mill is located next to the Issey Brook and a stone's throw from the beautiful, secluded Trevibban lake...The first wine was made in 2011 and in 2015 Trevibban Mill opened its doors to the public. Within a year of being open, the vineyard has won two gold, nine silver and thirteen bronze awards for its wines."

Bosue Vineyard www.bosuevineyard.co.uk is near St Ewe. They grow grape varieties of Rondo, Regent, Solaris, Phoenix and Orion that are apparently particularly suited to the local climate. Their wines also look very tempting.

Finally I thought I would mention couple of slightly different ones. Firstly the Southwestern distillery www.southwesterndistillery.com located at Higher Trevibban Farm near Wadebridge. They are not yet open to visitors, according to their website, but in fact you can see a lot just by the looking at the website. I can vouch for the very nice gin. The Cornish Pastis is also really good and unusual – an interesting variant on the French anise. They say it is made from foraged gorse flowers from the Atlantic cliff-tops and fresh orange zest, distilled like the gin, and then finished off with a touch of liquorice root for colour!

The other slightly different one is also local to us, Haywood Farm Cider near St Mabyn www.haywoodfarmcider.co.uk/. This is definitely worth a visit. The cider is wonderful.

I have probably missed some vineyards in Cornwall as there are more starting up all the time, but I hope this selection gives you an idea of the range and quality.
