Richard's running for a Defib for Trewetha

On May 7th, Richard Hambly is running in the Great Bristol 10k 2017 to raise money for a Public Access Defibrillator for Trewetha.

Richard told Trio, "I'm taking a leaf out of Harry's book and running to raise money for a defib, this time for Trewetha". Harry is Richard's son and ran last year as part of his successful fundraising to raise money for two defibs in the village. He did so well we now have them on Secrets corner, outside John Brays and outside the Port Gaverne Hotel.

"Whilst I realise that 10k is not a huge distance, it is for a man of a certain age who has only really been used to standing between the sticks or prancing around behind the stumps! So please support if you can." continued Richard.

The easiest way to give your support is to go to the JustGiving donation page www.justgiving.com and search for Richard Hambly's page and then make your donation.

GOOD LUCK RICHARD!

Our Co-op's continued support for the Village Hall, Stay & Playgroup and other charities

Darren and staff are delighted to announce that we (the Port Isaac store) have raised a total of £4500 for various charities this year.

£2500 was raised for the Co-op's 'Charity of the Year', the Red Cross, to help in their bid to tackle loneliness in the UK. We did really well, beating our target of £1600.

We have also helped to raised £2000 for local charities with raffles, cake stalls and the majority coming from the Co-op members community fund as follows:

Port Isaac Stay & Play group - £408

Port Isaac Village Hall - £429

Wadebridge Concern - £336

Thank you to all our customers for the wonderful support you have given us.

Our next event as a raffle for the Avalon Theatre Group in Wadebridge on Friday and Saturday April 7th & 8th. The group started in 1994 to give talented youngsters, aged between 7-18, a chance to show their talents and keep them off the streets.

The money raised from our instore book sales will, for the next year, be divided between our three nominated charities, Port Isaac Stay & Play Group, Port Isaac Village Hall and a youth charity, yet to be confirmed.

If you would like to have a space in store for a raffle or cake stall, please contact Darren at the store or Mel, the store community Pioneer on 01208 880544.

Thank you once from the entire staff.

Thanks to Helen Wrapson of Trelights for this month's cover photograph - Blossom at St Endellion

Fundraising for your Hall

This year sees a big fundraising effort by the Village Hall committee to raise money for the next stage of our new kitchen, disabled toilets and baby changing facilities in the new extension to be built on the side of the Hall. The footings have been dug and as soon as we have the money the next stage will begin.

A huge thank you to our Co-op for their continued support. Don't forget you can support us every time you shop at the Co-op. For every £1 you spend on Co-op branded goods you get 5% and another 1% goes to the local charity you have selected.

We are also supporting the work of the National Lobster Hatchery who undertake research, interventional conservation and education programs relating to Cornwall's coastal fisheries.

We have asked all of our charities to restrict the use of funds raised from the swim, to projects specifically relating to living in Cornwall's Coastal Communities.

Our MP, Scott Mann, talks to Trio ...

I was delighted to join my neighbouring MP Geoffrey Cox to meet with farmers from Devon and Cornwall recently for a Q&A session on agriculture and Brexit. Understandably, this is a challenging time for farmers and it's important that local MPs including Geoffrey and I take feedback from farmers to give to the ministers and provide assurances wherever we can.

Farming is one of three Brexit priorities for me as North Cornwall's MP, the others being fishing and regional funding. The EU's one-size-fits-all Common Agricultural Policy has hindered farmers and I am lobbying for a domestic policy for both farming and fishing which puts Britain first and promotes our fantastic produce.

I am saddened to hear, however, that NHS Kernow and Ramsay Health Care have been unable to reach an agreement on continuing non-emergency treatment services at the Bodmin Treatment Centre. In early March I chaired a public meeting to discuss the closure of the Centre with Bodmin residents, patients and staff. The announced closure is a real blow for the people of Bodmin, North Cornwall and many others in the county, and I was disappointed that neither Ramsay nor NHS Kernow attended the meeting to explain why a contract could not be agreed. It simply doesn't make sense to close a purpose-built facility which has short waiting lists and a high level of satisfaction amongst patients. I hope that this is just a short term measure and that NHS treatments can be re-introduced in the near future. I am meeting with NHS Kernow in the near future and I will be seeking assurances about the future of the Treatment Centre.

Sticking to the NHS, on April 23rd I will be running the London Marathon and am currently training hard to run the 26 miles around London. I will be running in aid of the Friends of Bodmin Hospital, the Launceston Hospital League of Friends and the Stratton Hospital League of Friends. All three charities and the hospitals they help do amazing work and are essential the provision of community-based care in North Cornwall. I've had a lot of support from people making donations and if you'd like to contribute, then please visit my fundraising web page via this link: <http://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/fundraiser-web/fundraiser/showFundraiserProfilePage.action?userUrl=ScottMannMP>

In Parliament I recently took part in debate and scrutiny of the Bus Services Bill, which will pave the way for Cornwall getting a much better bus network. The Bill will introduce new partnerships for local authorities and bus companies, as well as an option for local authorities to have franchising powers if they need them. The Cornwall Devolution Deal includes these same franchising powers, and by the mere fact of Cornwall being given the permission to use them, we are seeing better cooperation between Cornwall Council and bus companies.

If the bus companies can deliver on giving us more buses, more services and better integration with other public transport, then the franchising powers will not need to be used, and the Transport Secretary recognised this positive step in the debate. It has been hard to deliver quality public transport in rural North Cornwall, and I'm looking forward to seeing the contents of this Bill coming to fruition on the ground to provide better services for us all.

In the last Trio we asked for any first size knitted baby clothes, baby blankets and any size children's shoes in good condition for the newborn babies and young children in the community that Port Isaac has been supporting in Pristina, Kosovo via Elizabeth Gowing's charity TIP (The Ideas Partnership). Thanks to the incredible response we are pleased to say that two 10 kg boxes have already been sent.

Someone may recognise the shoes in the photo that they very kindly donated. Having a decent pair of shoes means that the children can walk to school and get an education.

Thank you everyone who has dropped off clothing, knitting, shoes and school rucksacks into the Port Isaac Pottery. Please keep them coming. (If you need any wool, please let us know.) We will send everything to Kosovo and it will be given directly to the families.

We are hoping to get hold of Elizabeth for an afternoon tea in May when she can tell you more about the children and their lives in Kosovo.

Sunday March 19th saw a special gathering of the entire operational crew of Port Isaac RNLI Station to welcome and record a visit of Victorian Camera specialist and long standing RNLI supporter Jack Lowe. He is travelling around Britain and Ireland to all 237 lifeboat stations and Port Isaac is the 81st. Jack is taking a step back in time to create a unique photographic record using an original period camera, equipment and techniques dating back to the 1850s, around the time the RNLI was incorporated under Royal Charter. The actual photographs are recorded directly onto glass plates with selected hand finished prints available to order. At the conclusion of the project a high quality book will be published, combined with an exhibition of the completed portfolio ... all raising funds for the RNLI.

Jack, grandson of Dad's Army actor Arthur Lowe, grew up with a love and respect for the sea gained from visits to his grandfather's Victorian schooner yacht at Ramsgate and on the Thames. His father, who is an experienced seafarer, introduced him to the wonders of the lifeboat service. Jack says, "From an early age I knew that I wanted to either be a photographer or a lifeboat crew member when I grew up. Now I'm following my heart and uniting the two dreams."

Apart from using his impressive Victorian camera to capture glass plate photographs of the crew, coxwain and lifeboat location, a further dimension to the day was provided for crew members and family to step inside his mobile darkroom, a converted ambulance, to view the expertise in controlling light and chemicals and the pure magic of the early photographic process in the production of unique and distinctive individual artworks dedicated to the RNLI.

Websites of the Month

Getting around Cornwall can be quite tricky but there are some good resources online to help. The best place to start is the Cornish public transport information website www.cornwallpublictransport.info. It is designed to provide full timetable information on all bus services operating in Cornwall, as well as on rail, coach, air and ferry services. It is well organised so easy to find your way around the site. For the bus system you can download various pdf's including one that gives you an alphabetical list of all the places the buses go, together with the bus numbers. While the downloaded list is a bit difficult to search, you can do online searches very easily. It also has a good list of visitor attractions and how to get to them on the bus. So timetable, bus maps, places to visit are all there. There are links to similar information for trains and coaches, but these are to the companies concerned.

One useful page for people of my generation and others who can get a subsidised fare is www.cornwallpublictransport.info/gen_senior.asp and this has up to date information on what is available. On the same theme you can find out about railcards of various types – including the Devon and Cornwall Railcard, that provides cheap travel on rail and buses throughout Devon and Cornwall – see www.gwr.com/plan-journey/tickets-railcards-and-season-tickets/railcards for details. And for those of you who might want to save money and help the environment there is a very good car -sharing scheme supported by Cornwall Council called Liftshare. <https://liftshare.com/uk/community/cornwall>

If you do decide to do a tour of Cornwall by car, you can get a ticket so that you can park at a very large number of car parks. The ticket isn't cheap, but if you do a lot of miles in the week and use a lot of car parks it may be useful www.cornwall.gov.uk/transport-and-streets/parking/car-park-tickets-and-permits/countywide-rover-tickets/

Many railways in Cornwall provide wonderful views and a really nice website is the Great Scenic Railways of Devon and Cornwall <http://greatscenicrailways.co.uk>. It has a very clear layout with photos of the different trains. The ones for Cornwall are the St Ives Bay line, the Looe Valley Line, the Maritime line and the Atlantic Coast line. Apparently a popular page on this site is for Rail Ale Trails <http://greatscenicrailways.co.uk/great-days-out/rail-ale-trails/> – another version of a pub-crawl, but you get to sample real ale. Great idea. For some reason the Bodmin Wenford line isn't on this site, perhaps because it has its own company, but can be found here www.bodminrailway.co.uk and a trip on this old 'puffer train' is very memorable.

If you decide instead, and are fit enough for all the hills, you can find a complete list of all the cycle routes on the Cornwall County Council website www.cornwall.gov.uk/environment-and-planning/countryside/cycle-routes-and-trails/

Sadly a lot of transport systems in Cornwall are memories now, but the web has some nice places to look them up. One nice site shows the disused stations from Bodmin North station to Wadbridge https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Disused_railway_stations_\(Bodmin_to_Wadbridge_line\)). It has an old photograph of the Bodmin North station from 1964.

Port Isaac Road station used to serve our area very well and while writing this I was talking to a friend who has lived here for over 40 years, about the history of the Port Isaac to Otterham Road railway – you can read about it here www.northcornwallrailway.co.uk/route4.html with links to an old OS map of the station area. She told me that in the old days there was a bus that Mark Prout ran from his Trelawney Garage to Port Isaac Road station and was a really wonderful service. Sadly it was all closed down by Dr Beeching, and initially was used for grain supplies (Rush Agricultural merchants) and coal, but finally was converted into some very pleasant houses. The description of Port Isaac Road on the website is not all that complementary, but gives a good flavour of its important role:

“Port Isaac Road, as the name suggests, was a long way from the village it purported to serve, some four miles away! Even the station was isolated, being about a quarter of a mile from the St Teath-Pendogget road up a narrow access road. It was Port Isaac that was the reasoning for building the station, with its fish traffic and the potential for tourist traffic, with wagon loads of mackerel and shellfish depatched by overnight train to Billingsgate. Flowers and fruit were also important traffic at one time, with the early daffodils very important to the Cornish economy until the advent of low cost air freight meant they could be brought in from overseas even earlier. The station was connected to the port by horse drawn vehicles that were not replaced by buses until the 1920s. Privately operated with the aid of a subsidy from the Southern Railway, this arrangement ended in 1930 when the railway withdrew its subsidy in favour of the newly formed Southern National Omnibus Company, in which the railway was a shareholder.”

Port Isaac Road station in the 1940s - from the PISCES website

How our transport system will fare over the coming years is an open question, with resources being so tight. You can read about the proposals here <https://www.cornwall.gov.uk/transport-and-streets/transport-policy/local-transport-plan-connecting-cornwall-2030/>

From darkness to light and the story of Easter

As I write this I am sitting in fog, dark fog. "It's supposed to be Spring!" I cry pathetically. As a person who is seasonally affected it feels as though the winter will never be over and the spring time will never arrive. The fog clings to me as though winter is holding me back in its dark grip and yet spring time is beckoning. The shops are filled with Easter eggs, the fields with lamb's, there are signs of hope, but where is the light? Where is the Sun on my face? Will it ever arrive? After a long day at work and driving home bemoaning my predicament suddenly there comes a shaft of light, the clouds separate and the sky is blue, the grass is green and the daffodils look glorious. It has arrived, at last and what a difference a day makes!

It causes me to think about the unpredictability of life, with all its ups and downs. Our times of fog, darkness and difficulty, when hope seems lost and it feels like it will never end. And yet all can be changed in a day when there is a breakthrough and suddenly we can be built up, strengthened and encouraged and hope returns once more.

As Christians we are reminded as we go through lent of Jesus' dark times through the wilderness and even darker time through Holy week as he went through the humiliation and pain of the crucifixion and death and hell. It encourages us that we are not alone and that he understands everything we go through and more. We also think about the bewilderment and grief which paralysed Jesus' disciples and the fear that their fate would be the same. We walk with them through their waiting from Good Friday to Easter Sunday as they pray and fast and grieve their loss.

Then with great joy we join with them and millions of others around the world praising God because Jesus, our Saviour is alive! He doesn't stay dead! There was breakthrough, from darkness to light and from death to life! What a difference a day makes! And yes, we celebrate the feast. Not only at Easter but everyday thereafter as we walk in faith and the new life that we have because of Jesus.

It is a reminder for us all that there is hope and a new Season. The winter is gone and the Spring-time is here and the darkness, however it may feel, doesn't last forever.

The fellowship of believers at St. Peters in Port Isaac and the North Cornwall Cluster of Churches would like to wish you a very happy, blessed, chocolate-filled and hopeful Easter and invite you to share with us in our services.

Blessings
Geraldine Ashton

New toilet and kitchenette for St Peters Church

With lots of ideas for the future of St Peters church, the PCC with the support of PISCES, felt that the facilities desperately needed to be improved. St Peter's is one of the few churches in the parish cluster that doesn't have a toilet, and this limits the scope of the activities that can be held there. A toilet would open a whole world of new possibilities for the church's use as a community building; things that are all in keeping with church activities such as:

Music concerts

Cream teas and coffee mornings

PISCES local history events

Craft fairs and art exhibitions

Port Isaac School events

Becoming part of the St Endellion music Festival and Literary Festival itinerary

Kevin Honey has very generously offered his labour for free so that only the cost of materials needs to be found. St Endellion Parish Council and the Doc Martin fund have both offered to support the venture. St Peters PCC and PISCES are very grateful and will hold some fundraising events to add to the total amount needed. Watch this space.

Do you, or someone you know, need a listening ear?

Tel: David Foster on 01208 880008

St Peter's, our simple seaside church, is open to everyone, every day until about 4pm. We have a service every Sunday morning at 9.30am to which you will be warmly welcomed. You will also find our Church is a lovely quiet place to just sit and reflect and be peaceful.

The Church is also home to PISCES (Port Isaac Shared Community Exhibition Space) and you can enjoy the silence and take a look at the current PISCES exhibition - a regularly changing look at life in Port Isaac in days gone by, up to the present day.

Aladdin

We were very lucky to be invited along to Bodmin College to watch the dress rehearsal of the musical Aladdin.

The sets and costumes were amazing. The singing, dancing and acting was very polished and the flying carpet took our breath away.

Comic Relief

This year we had a bake sale, wore funny clothes, held a humorous talent contest and brought in donations in exchange for red noses. It was a very funny day.

news & views from Port Isaac School

Class 2 History Day

We are learning about Royalty past and present and we started with William the Conqueror, the Battle of Hastings and the Domesday Book. We then skipped through time to King John and the Magna Carta. We learned lots of fun and gruesome facts about both kings and their reign.

Our next history day will lead us from Queen Anne to our present day Queen.

The Bloodhound Challenge

Class 2 took part in this challenge to build their own version of the racing car. It had to be built to very specific requirements and resources were limited to five cars. The children were very inventive and produced five different cars. They will be taken to a hub centre to be raced and their times recorded. Many schools are taking part and the prize for the winning car is a trip to South Africa to watch the bloodhound attempt to break the land speed record.

World Book Day

We celebrated World Book Day in school with a reading afternoon. The children could choose from lots of activities and everyone took part. We had a quiet reading room, a café where the children could have a snack and write about favourite books, a storytelling room where they could listen to a story, a story sack room where they could read a story and act it out with the props in the story sack and finally an active reading place where they could read to each other whilst sitting on our gym equipment.

Let us show you Lanhydrock

Every Thursday afternoon you can join our Ranger team on a stroll around Lanhydrock. We'll stop and chat about the landscape in front of us, its history and its wildlife and tell you about the amazing conservation work we do here to keep this place looked after for ever, for everyone.

The National Trust

The walks take up to two hours and we'll stop frequently to chat about what we can see. You'll need good walking shoes or boots.

Walks begin at 2pm and start from our main Reception building. If you're coming by car, park in the main car park and head down the historic carriage drive until you reach Reception.

Walks are free and as a conservation charity, we always welcome donations to our work

The beginning of Spring means that Winter is finally over, the daffodils and snow drops are out, and so is the wild garlic. Wild garlic is prolific in the parish and can be found easily all around. The type found most easily is sometimes called three-sided leek as the stem that holds the flowers has three sides. The other type of wild garlic is often called 'ramsons'

The characteristic white flowers, however, are perfectly edible – and pretty too – although the plant is at its best before too many flowers appear, signalling tougher leaves and a more bitter flavour. In April, when wild garlic is at its peak, you are more likely to find delicious tight buds than open flowers. The true test of wild garlic, however, is the scent. Usually you will smell it before you see it. It perfumes the woods. So follow your nose and break a leaf to check. It will remind you of a powerful spring onion. Chose plants in sites that are, ideally, on a slope - these are less likely to have had any human or animal traffic – and pick healthy leaves from far down towards the ground, keeping the stems long. This will be useful if storing the garlic as you can pop it in a pint glass filled up with water and it should last three or four days without losing any freshness.

Eaten raw the leaves are at their most pungent and fiery, but they come into their own when cooked. In fact they are almost endlessly versatile: quickly blanched or wilted in olive oil they make a delicately garlicky alternative to spinach (but bear in mind they perform the same trick that spinach does of turning a carrier bag stuffed full of leaves into a measly side portion for two).

The season for wild garlic leaves is short – they're gone by June – but they are one of the most abundant wild foods and come into their own when paired with other spring ingredients.

Leek and Wild Garlic Quiche with Cornish Jack Cheese

Pastry
 250g plain flour
 125g butter
 1 egg
 a splash of water
 a pinch of salt
 a grind of pepper

In a food processor add flour and diced butter and pulse until, it looks like crumble topping, add the egg, season and add a splash of water, pulse until it just forms a loose ball, tip out into a bowl and gently kneed into a firm ball. Do Not Over Work this way of making pastry works only once and doesn't take kindly to being over worked, but it will let you roll it out really thin to make a nice crisp pastry base.

Chill the pastry, if you want but I use it straight away, roll out until thin but wide enough to line your tin, allow a good couple of cm extra to give you room to work when lining the tin. Cover with baking paper and fill with baking beans blind bake 15 mins at 180c remove the beans and bake 5 mins

 a large handful of wild garlic leaves a bunch of spring onions -finely chopped
 1 large leek -finely sliced and chopped
 300ml double cream
 150g cream cheese
 4 eggs

In plenty of butter and olive oil, sauté the onions and leeks until soft and golden, then add plenty of salt and pepper, turn the heat off, place the washed wild garlic into the pan and place the lid on and let it wilt until soft – just like spinach.

Whisk the eggs, add the cream and cream cheese and whisk again.

Once the pastry is cooked, trim the ridges of the pastry off to make a neat shell, tip in the sautéed filling mixture, spread it out on the base and pour on the egg and cream mix.

Cover with a generous amount of Cornish Jack and bake in a hot oven (190) for 25 – 30 minutes until golden and risen.

Cornish Jack is a handmade cheese produced by artisan cheese makers River Amble Creamery, based near Port Isaac, that I first met at the Padstow Christmas Festival last year. Their award winning cheese is inspired by Swiss Emmental. Cornish Jack is slightly sweeter, less nutty and has a tangy fruitiness to the finish. It is made using Cornish milk and observing the original farmhouse recipe only uses traditional animal rennet. It is available to buy in Trevathen Farm Shop at St Endellion and you can try it at the St Kew Inn.

Here is to Spring my friends and next up Summer, Happy Dayz. Mx

Parish Council report supplied to Trio by the Parish Clerk

Planning Applications

The following applications were received and Members made the following responses to Cornwall Council:

1. PA16/00071, Plot on Trelights Farm – three bed live / work dwelling (including florist studio). Cllr. Dawe left the meeting whilst this item was discussed. Members considered the applicant's business proposal for the work element of the unit to be strongly evidenced, and agreed it is possible to condition Live/Work usage in perpetuity. Some discussion focussed on design, but broadly it is accepted the barn-like design is a low profile solution, which will do negligible harm to the AONB in terms of the distance views. Members also consider Trelights to be a sustainable location given the permitted development at Undertown, Trelights. Members voted unanimously to recommend SUPPORT for the proposal.
2. PA17/01318, The Cottage, Plain Street, St Minver – change of use from domestic garage to tea room with extension. Members were unanimously in SUPPORT of this proposal.
3. PA17/01244, Trewartha, Port Isaac – notification of proposed works on site to erect a free standing H pole configuration to enable erection of a new pole mounted transformer. Members made NO COMMENT on this proposal.
4. PA17/00344/PREAPP, Land NW of Trecreege, Trelights – pre-application advice for the proposed construction of an agricultural dwelling. Cllr. Williams had spoken to the applicant, who aims to return to the countryside to support her brother in running the farm. Members were unanimously in SUPPORT of the principle of this proposal given a suitable location and design being achieved Planning Applications Approved by CC – information only.

- i. PA16/11404, Springside Barn, Trewetha – construction of ancillary accommodation to the main dwelling to replace existing garden room.
- ii. PA16/11786, 13 Middle Street, Port Isaac – LBC for proposed works on the roof, replace the rotten timbers; felt battens and replace all lead work; reslate as existing; insulate the roof space.

YOUR CHANCE TO VOTE FOR WHO YOU WANT

All seats on Cornwall Council and all parish and town councils in Cornwall are due for election on Thursday May 4th 2017. Our polling station is the Village Hall.

If there are less than 11 candidates for our Parish Council there will be no need for an election and we will not need to vote. However, if there are more we will get the chance to vote for who we would like to see on our Parish Council. If this is the case, Trio hopes to include a bit about each of the candidates in the May edition. You will be able to vote for (but don't have to) up to eleven candidates.
