

Corsair, decked with flowers for the future King of England

On the 19th July the community of Port Isaac welcomed HRH Prince Charles and HRH Camilla, the Duchess of Cornwall to the village. It was an opportunity for them to be introduced to a variety of organisations of which the Gig Club was one.

On this Royal occasion in Corsairs 25th Celebratory year, it seemed fitting that she should be decked with flowers and dressed to impress the Prince. He was very interested in the size and history of the boat and was also keen to ask the crew lots of technical questions. However, it seemed that the highlight for the Prince was being introduced to Jenny, the Jack Russell. She is the club mascot and a feisty 'old sea dog' who, wearing appropriate safety equipment, accompanies the team out to sea on a regular basis .

Note: Jenny (Cook) has her own Facebook page and having recently brushed shoulders with Royalty her page has now gone viral!!!
