

"We're going on holiday to Port Isaac"

"The most exciting night of every year of my childhood in the 1950s came in July when my parents woke us at 2am and packed us with pillows and blankets into the back of the car for the long journey to Cornwall."

1957 - "Rose and Iris have gone to visit a castle on top of a cliff but it looked too dangerous for me"

"We drove through the dawn on small winding roads until we reached the then narrow A30 - I knew then that there was time for a bit more sleep but that we were nearly there."

1955 - "This is a really glorious spot"

1956

1955 - "The countryside around us is beautiful"

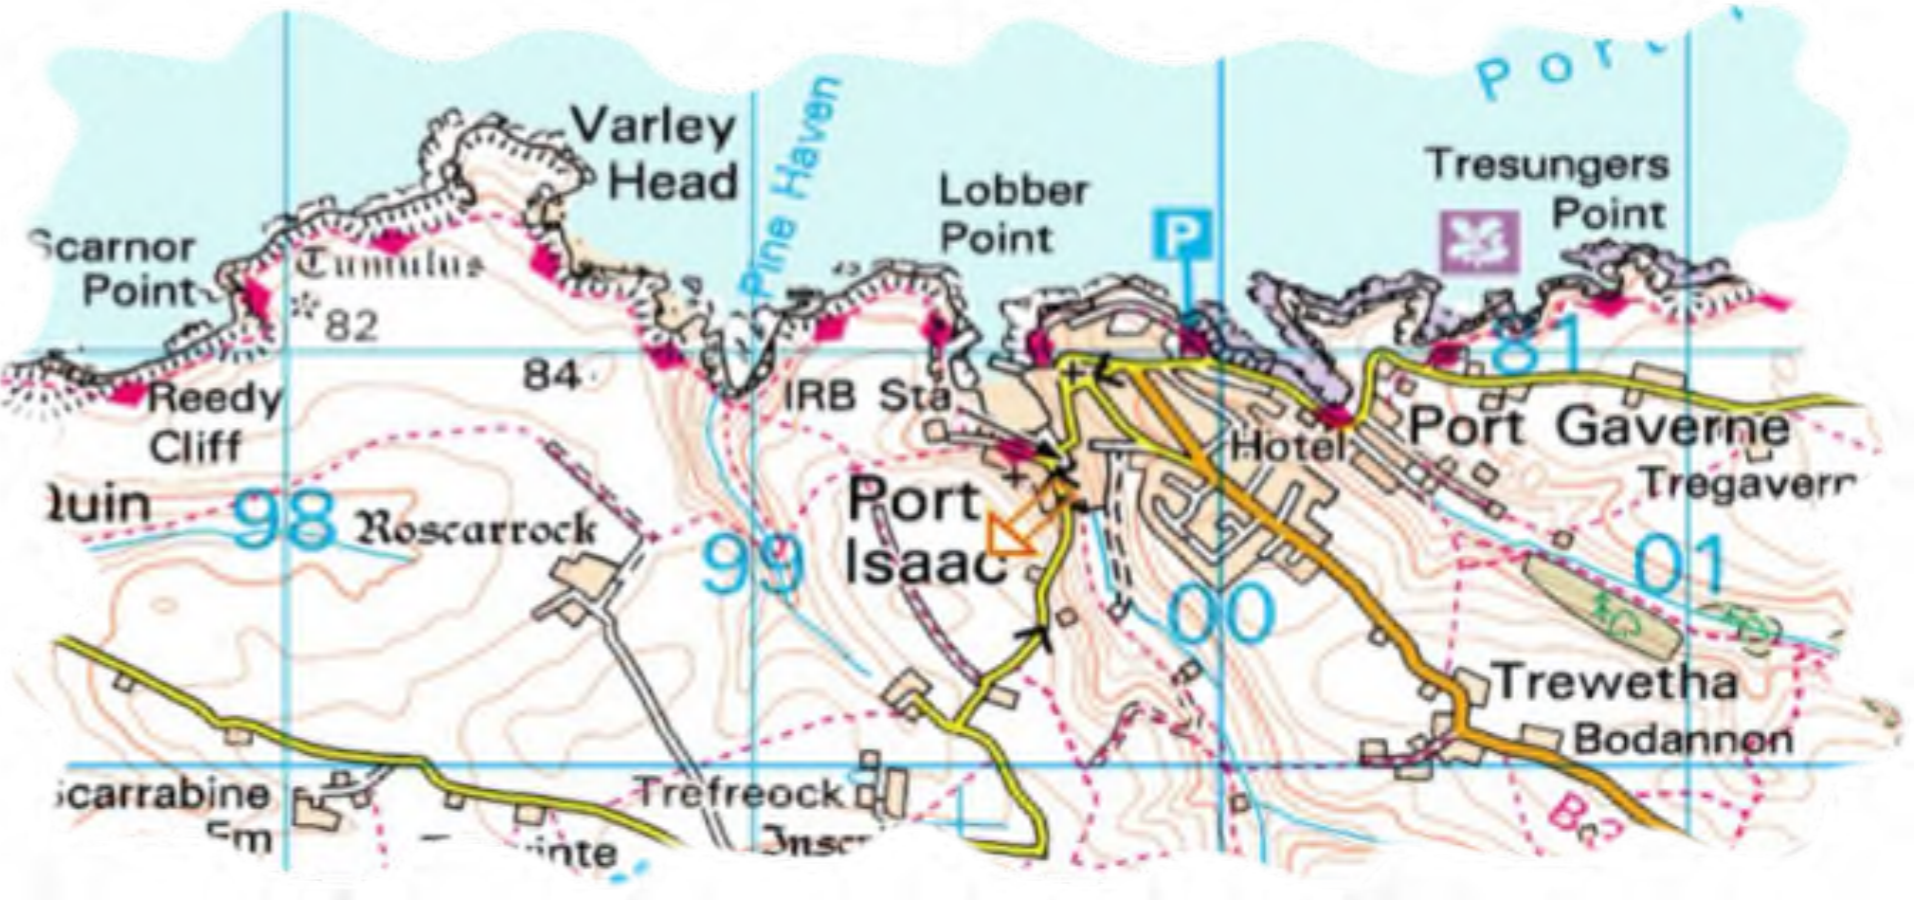

1956 - "we are finding Port Isaac even more lovelier than we had imagined"

1955 - "The cottage is quite nice but oh, the hills, they are so steep ..."

1950 - "our cottage is on this card!"

"We're on holiday in Port Isaac"