An Ultra-Duathlon for our Cornish Coastline

Hi!

I am Will and on Sunday 23rd August 2020 I will be embarking on an Ultra-Duathlon for Surfers Against Sewage. This event will start in Port Isaac (outside the Boathouse, 8am) with a 20-mile run to Wadebridge. From Bridge Bike Hire I will be cycling (50-miles) in and around the Bodmin Moors ending at the Jamaica Inn. From there I will be running a 10 mile loop up and around Brown Willy.

About Surfers Against Sewage

Surfers Against Sewage (SAS) is a marine conservation charity working with communities to protect oceans, waves, beaches and marine life. It was created in 1990 by a group of North Cornish surfers who were fed up of getting ill when doing the sport they loved. Surfers Against Sewage not only looks at sewage pollution and the cleanliness of our seas but looks into other issues such as climate change, water quality, coastal development and our plastic pollution crisis, all areas which need a lot of attention!

Port Isaac

by Ross Stanton

Winding, tight squeezey belly streets,
Cafes and restaurants with crab sarnies to eat.
Steep inclines that force the heart to beat.

A harbour so quaint it just draws you in,
Ore, corn, fish, limestone and tin,
Created, you know, when Henry VIII was king.

Just stop and behold the scene at your feet,
Rusted old chains used by an antiquated fleet,
Fisherman haul and sell to the street.

If only the grains of sand could speak,
The harbour walls and the fishing fleets,
Sailors have toiled through wind, storm and heat.

Port Isaac, Port Wenn, you can decide,
The waves, the sea spray and the incoming tide,
A beautiful, immersive place to pass the time.

Ross and his family spent a day in Port Isaac in February and he says they all "thoroughly enjoyed the experience".

He sent his poem to Trio, "It has always been a pleasure of mine to write my thoughts and compose a verse, so I wish to share my poem of Port Isaac."

In March ...

March was the first month of the Roman calendar and was named after the Roman god of war, Mars

March was known as Hlyda or Lide in Olde English, which means loud - referring to the March winds!

Up until 1752 March was also the beginning of our calendar year. We then changed to the Gregorian calendar with our year beginning on January 1st.

On March 10 1876, Alexander Graham Bell made the first ever phone call.

On March 29 1886 Coca-Cola was developed and this original recipe included cocaine to give the drinker a bit of a buzz.

On March 25th 1948 Heathrow Airport opened.

Mother's Day is in March but not on a fixed Sunday. It is dependant on when

Another busy and exciting year ahead for the Gulls

The Fishy Friends are away on tour on St Piran's Day – Thursday March 5th – so we have been invited to lead Trelawny in the Golden Lion at 9pm. We feel quite honoured. It's always a great night and, following tradition, we will be singing both before and after Trelawny so come along and join us – we've even printed some Cornish song books so you'll know all the words.

Later in the month we have our friends, the lovely Hummingbirds from Yorkshire joining us for a weekend. On the Saturday night, March 14th, we are putting on a concert for Cornwall Hospice Care in the Hall. We've also invited Lee Chantler to come and join us and sing a few songs and he might even tell a few jokes! Plus there will be lots of opportunities for you to join in and play some games and the chance for you to win a Cornish or a Yorkshire hamper in our raffle. Please come along and help us raise lots of money for the Hospice. Tickets, priced £6 each, can be purchased or reserved from Secrets (01208 880862) or email

gullspi@mac.com

Then, before you know it, an even bigger group of friends, The Magnificent AKs, the singing blokes from Ashton Keynes, are coming down on their 2020 Cornwall Tour. On Saturday April 25th we are joining them in St Endellion Church so it will be another great night of singing and laughter. Tickets, priced £10 each, are available from Secrets (01208 880862) or <https://endellionta.org.uk> and we will be raising money for the Cornwall Air

St Piran's celebrations in Bodmin

Over 400 children from Bodmin and the surrounding parishes primary schools will be taking part in the celebrations on March 5th. Clarinda, Chris, a fiddler, and I go into the schools and run through the three songs for the Mount Folly - 'Bro Goth Agan Tasow', 'Hail to the Homeland' and 'Trelawny'. Each school will also perform a song, poem or play before their pasty in St Petrocs Church. Past Grand Bard of Garsedh Kernow Merv Davey and his wife Alison also attend the schools beforehand to run through the dance for the Mount Folly.

The procession starts at the top of Fore Street at 11am. It stops briefly at the An Gov stone and then on to Mount Folly. There we have a few speeches, sing the three songs and the dancing. We then go through Priory Park to the Church. It finishes around 1pm. Wet weather, we go straight to the Church.

Bodmin has a St Piran's Committee. This is our twentieth year of celebrations. Our National Patron Saint is remembered all over Cornwall, and in Bodmin we feel that the children especially should be taught about their heritage.

Bodmin expects to welcome Cornishmen and women from all over the country to take part and everyone is welcome to join in and celebrate this special day.

Keith Truscott

Gool Peran St Piran's Day

St Piran's Day is celebrated as the national day of Cornwall on March 5th every year and is regarded by many Cornish people as the first day of spring. He is one of Cornwall's three patron saints, the other two being St Michael (St Michael's Mount) and St Petroc (Padstow).

St Piran was born in Ireland back in the early sixth century. He went to Rome to study the scriptures and then returned home and was made a Bishop. He seemed to be a healer and apparently performed many miracles including raising dead soldiers slain in battle but even this did not impress the Kings of Ireland who wanted rid. He was flung into the sea with a millstone round his neck. Miraculously he did not drown but floated over the water and was washed up on Perran Beach at Perranporth. Here in the sand dunes he built a small chapel and people flocked from miles around to hear him preach.

Quite by accident St Piran also discovered tin when a black stone on his fire leaked a white liquid. The Cornish Flag, the Flag of St Piran, of a white cross on a black background, represents the white tin flowing from the black rock, or good overcoming evil. Tinnars adopted St Piran as their saint.

Little is known of the specific traditions of the day other than lots of alcohol was consumed during Perrantide, the week leading up to St Piran's Day. In fact, "drunk as a Perraner" was used in the 19th century to describe people who had overindulged! It is said that St Piran was fond of a drink and he met his end falling down a well – after living for 200 years.

It was in the early 20th century that the day had a revival as a national day for Cornwall and in 2006 the Cornish MP, Dan Rogerson asked, unsuccessfully, the Government to make the day a public holiday in Cornwall. But holiday or not, it's a day for celebration in Cornwall.

crew news

2020 has been a wet and windy start with the boat only going afloat, luckily, for training exercises. I have to say that the crew are delighted with our new boat D-843, Goeth Porthusek. She is well worth the £52,000 price tag and we can't thank you all enough for helping provide us with such an awesome piece of kit.

The coming months will see yet more training and preparation for the coming season which will involve simulated exercises with Cornish Rock Tours and a piloting of a new drone equipped with infra red and search lights. Watch this space for updates and pictures of all of this.

The four elements of the Christian life

I am writing this before the season of Lent begins although Christmas is now long past and we shall soon be turning to look forward to the time of Our Lord's Passion and Resurrection at Easter. During Lent some of us will be reading Rowan Williams' book Being Christian. The former archbishop of Canterbury is now a prebendary of St Endellion which makes the choice particularly appropriate.

In the book bishop Rowan focusses on four elements of the Christian life, Baptism, the Bible, the Eucharist and Prayer. Each of these topics is a fundamental part of every Christian's life, irrespective of the particular church to which they belong. The rite of baptism, which we are told was performed by John the Baptist for Jesus himself, is simultaneously a way into faith, a means of washing away our old selves but also a way of reaffirming our being in the world; not a means of separation from but of establishing our belonging in. To further this we read the bible – or more likely in church listen to its being read. In doing so we realise that the bible is not a set of instructions but rather the record of a series of encounters with God, some revealing the best of human nature, some the worst. As Bishop Williams says, "reading the bible is about listening to God in Jesus".

The Eucharist, or Communion, is the central act of Christian worship, whether we engage with it weekly, daily or less frequently. It is not something we can do individually, we have to share in it and to learn that as Christ welcomes us to himself within the sacrament so we also should welcome others to ourselves. This brings us to Bishop Williams' final topic, Prayer. Prayer is not something we do apart from the world, rather it is a part of our worldly life. Above all it is in the repetition of the Lord's Prayer that we can become more attuned to God's will for us.

Knowing your Herods
Andrew Lewis

We have all heard of the Massacre of the Innocents by king Herod. But how did he become king of the Jews? Weren't the Romans in charge? And how is he connected with the Herod who married his brother's wife and put John the Baptist to death? And who was the Herod who put St James to death and was then eaten up by worms and died? Is the Herod Agrippa who is found trying the case against St Paul a relative? And what can we usefully learn about the writing of Scripture and its message from all this?

Chef Lanyon's sweet and fragrant Malaysian Curry

I must be getting old as I seem to be looking forward after work to " Micheal portillos train journeys" . His latest adventure is Thailand ! Indonesia and Malaysia which sort of got the juices flowing ...

To make the curry paste you'll need:

5 cloves garlic
4 long red chillies
3 lemongrass stalks, outer leaves removed and finely sliced
4 large shallots
1tsp ground turmeric
2/3 tbsp groundnut oil

Put all ingredients into food processor except oil, blitz then scrap down sides then drizzle oil in to make paste.

The Curry:

1kg chicken thigh meat	40ml coconut milk
2tbsp ground nut oil	100ml chicken stock
2 onions finely sliced	1tsp palm or light brown sugar
Sea salt & ground black pepper	2tbsp light soy sauce
4 kaffir lime leaves	2 tbsp fish sauce
1 cinnamon stick	400g fine green beans
3 star anise	Handful of fresh coriander

for the Coconut rice:

300g jasmine rice
200ml coconut milk
5cm peeled ginger
Pinch of sea salt
200ml water

Rinse rice in cold water drain and tip into thick bottomed pan, add rest of ingredients plus water bring to boil then reduce to simmer for 10 mins. Remove from heat leave covered and stand for 5 to 10 mins. Fluff rice with a fork and serve hot.

And this is what you do:

Heat oil add paste and fry till fragrant.

Add onions for 5 mins.

Season chicken add to paste along with lime leaves, cinnamon, star anise, coconut milk, stock, sugar, soy and fish sauce and bring to the boil. Then reduce to simmer for 30 to 40 mins or until chicken is tender.

To finish, skim off excess fat and throw in green beans and cook for extra 5 to 6 minutes.

Finally scatter with torn coriander leaves.

ANSOM

Still got a little bit of room left for something sweet? Try Mrs L's Banana Cake

I've now had enough of being good after Christmas, but not yet feeling bad enough to go mad! This cake uses up left over bananas and having fruit in it must surely contribute to your five a day??

3 large ripe bananas mashed (riper the better but if they are black inside they are past it)
225g (8oz) caster sugar
225g (8oz) soft cooking margarine (or butter if you're rich)
4 large eggs beaten
225g (8oz) self raising flour
1tbs ground rice (stops the bananas making it sloppy)

Icing

2 tsp lemon juice
2 tbs hot water
Icing sugar

Put all of the ingredients into a food processor and pulse until blended - this cake doesn't rise much so get everything combined.

Pour into a 22cm square lined tin and cook at 190° for 35-45 minutes Depending on how hot your oven gets. A metal skewer inserted into the middle will come out clean when cooked

Whilst the cake cools still in the tin, mix the water and lemon juice in a bowl and add icing sugar a tablespoon at a time until you get a nice thick but still runny icing. Pour over the cake and move it around to spread. Cut into nine squares if you can get to it before the rest of your family have cut bits off and nicked it!

Planning Applications

Members considered these planning applications and made the following responses to Cornwall Council:

1. PA19/03215/PREAPP, Kittiwake Cottage, 7-9 Middle Street, Port Isaac – pre-application advice to convert current 1-bedroom holiday let into office space and staff changing facilities for the restaurant next door. Members supported the application.
2. PA19/11215, Beulah, Trelights – conversion of Existing Garage to form a Study Bedroom and Alteration to an existing window. Members supported the application.
3. PA19/11260, Gwel Arvor, Tintagel Terrace, Port Isaac – re-submission of Reserved Matters application PA18/09791 following Outline Approval PA17/09691 dated 12th December 2017 for access, appearance, landscaping, layout and scale. Members objected on the grounds the proposal is contrary to our emerging NDP, Policy 6H (C) which states new development will be supported if design: respects and reflects the dominant window/wall proportions evident within the street.

The proposal introduces balconies onto the street scene, which is not appropriate in the setting and would cause cumulative noise disturbance for the neighbours given the permission for multiple balconies on the rear elevation.

Should the officer be minded to permit Members request the retention of cedar cladding for the reason it would grey and be less intrusive than stained wood of an unspecified colour. If permitted, we also advise chimney flues are black, not stainless steel, minimising impact as per the AONB officer comment.

4. PA20/00284, Yn-Dewetha, Port Gaverne – conversion of existing roof space to residential use. Install new windows and doors. Construct new porch. New cladding.

Members commented: The use of coloured composite cladding in Port Gaverne is contrary to our emerging NDP policy 6Q (h) which states proposal should: 'Respecting and reflecting the existing dominant material palette in the character area when considering new development and understanding a material's practical requirements when maintaining or repairing structures.' If the officer is minded to permit we request the applicant consider the use of cedar cladding, which would fade and is more suited to the material palette of Port Gaverne.

5. PA20/00629, Glendale, Trewetha – proposed demolition of existing dwelling and construction of replacement dwelling.

Members commented: Members are in favour of the new building, but not the car port and urge the applicant and neighbours to come to a reasonable agreement

Planning Applications Approved by Cornwall Council

1. PA19/09694, 92 Fore Street, Port Isaac – single storey extension of porch area between the kitchen and bathroom; removal of porch glazing and installation of flat roof with skylight; removal and re-use of existing kitchen sash window.
2. PA19/09773, 34 Dolphin Street, Port Isaac – renovation works including re-rendering front elevation and internal repair.
3. PA19/06645, 36 New Road, Port Isaac – demolition of existing dwelling and replacement with new dwelling.
4. PA19/09377, Land N of Port Gaverne Hotel, Portgaverne – detached dwelling. The site is outside the NDP development boundary.
5. PA19/10181, Cedar Bungalow, Trewetha – demolition and replacement of existing garage with home office and remodelling of existing dwelling with associated works.
6. PA19/10403, Cairnsmore, Port Gaverne – works to trees covered by a Tree Preservation Order, namely fell the 20 metres high mature monteray pine.
7. PA19/08325, 9 Silvershell View, Port Isaac – erection of single storey entrance porch linking the bungalow and converted garage, Internal re-modelling works including the removal of some internal walls, window and door replacements, re-build sun terrace with privacy screen, new pitched roof on existing kitchen and existing link to garage converted into an ensuite and re-roofed.
8. PA19/08514, 26 Dolphin Street, Port Isaac – reinstatement of brick chimney.
9. PA19/08515, 26 Dolphin Street, Port Isaac – LBC for reinstatement of brick chimney.

Highway Matters

1. Pedestrian Crossing – Members have invited Mr Oliver Jones, Highways to a site meeting to consider a safe way of crossing for children going to the school and playing field.
2. Trewetha Speed Limit – at the site meeting mentioned above, Mr Jones will be asked about a speed reduction for Trewetha.
3. Road Closure Request – road from Long Cross to Quin Cross, Port Quin. 9th March to 9th June 2020 (24 hours, weekends included).

Public Conveniences

1. Vandalism – regrettably there had been a number of incidents:
 - New Road – the coinboxes had been stolen together with a small quantity of cash.
 - Roscarrock – the doors had been vandalised and we are currently awaiting repairs.

Miscellaneous Items

1. War Memorial Additional Names – Members propose to install a new granite plinth with a bronze plaque to list Additional Names to the Memorial. This will require Listed Building planning permission.

St Endellion Parish Council

New Contract & Maintenance Supervisor

My name is Clare Jon and I have been appointed by St Endellion Parish Council as their Contract & Maintenance Supervisor. This is a new role and I hope to be able to assist the Parish Council to maintain St Endellion Parish in good order for the enjoyment of both local people and visitors.

To give you some background about me, I'm Cornish and have lived in St Kew and St Teath for most of my life, raising my two daughters there. I have had family connections with Port Isaac since I was a very young child and over the years have been employed in several establishments in the village. I joined Port Isaac Rowing Club in the late 90s and am still a semi-active member, having also held posts on the committee.

This new salaried position, involves monitoring the public amenities under the parish's control, such as grass cutting, verges, footpaths, public convenience cleaning/maintenance, the Main car park, play areas and public seating.

I am very pleased to be the first person to be employed in this new role, and hope it will give me the opportunity to give something back to the community in which I live.

In order to carry out these duties I'll be in and around the Port Isaac, Trelights and Port Quin on a regular basis. If you would like to contact me my mobile is 07494 589 638 and my email is: clarejonsten@gmail.com

Scott Mann's update from Parliament

Many of you may have read the news stories about little Freddie Jackson, the three year old who needed a special bed which will adapt to his needs while he grows. I was really proud to see how the community came together to support the family, particularly the people of Launceston who raised over £4,000. Many of the issues Freddy's faced with his bed came from the fact that he was born in Derriford, yet his more recent care comes under the Cornwall NHS. The NHS regions do not correspond to constituency boundaries, and many of my constituents use hospitals in Devon as they are geographically closer. Moving forward, I believe we must do better to encourage links in an effort to address these issues.

I raised the issue of Freddy's bed with the Secretary of State in Westminster, and have a further follow up meeting with the Health Minister coming soon. This situation could be resolved very quickly by the Cornwall health organisations if they would meet the cost of maintenance of the bed. It should be done immediately and without the need to involve ministers. However, after telling the Secretary of State about Freddy's case he is keen to get involved. I would urge the health organisations in Cornwall to sort this out now so Freddy and his family can have the best bed available to him. I won't let this issue drop until it is fully resolved.

In Bude many residents were upset to find out that the 6 & 6A Bude to Exeter bus service is being looked at by the operator. I have been clear that I want local people to be able to access connecting and direct transport services to NHS sites and mainline rail stations. I have already met with Stagecoach, responded formally to the consultation on behalf of Bude & Stratton. I would also like to encourage readers in the area to respond to the consultation via the Stagecoach website.

The 2020 budget will take place on March 11th. I have been asked to feedback my financial priorities for North Cornwall over the next twelve months. The Camelford bypass will be one of the key points for me, as I believe we need this project approved this year. Nigel Blackler and Cornwall Council have done a fantastic job so far, and after visiting the public consultation meetings last month I'm really excited to get spades in the ground.

Finally, I was able to brief the Housing & Communities Minister on the Bodmin 2030 programme last week. I showed Robert Jenrick the 2030 document, and told him more about the ambitions which Bodmin has for the next ten years. Bodmin's vision for a central role in Cornwall's future is one I share and I look forward to supporting it during this Parliament.

You can find out more about the work I do on your behalf in Westminster and the constituency on my website www.scottmann.org.uk or on facebook/therightMANNforNorthCornwall. If there are any issues which I can assist you with please contact me via scott@scottmann.org.uk

The Co-op Book Shelf

Huge thanks to the Co-op and to everyone who gives and buys books to support the Stay & Playgroup and Port Isaac Village Hall. If you have any books to donate please leave on the bookshelf.

The support Darren and all the staff at the Co-op give to our community is second to none - thank you all. Port Isaac Village Hall committee

Websites of the month

The film Bait, 2019 has received huge critical acclaim since its release (www.baitfilm.co.uk). Shot on a 16mm black and white film it tells the story of life in a Cornish fishing village. This got me thinking about what you can find online about Cornish life on film. (Note: This was shown at PICC (Port Isaac Community Cinema - see page 3) to a sell-out audience and is being shown again at 2pm on Thursday March 12th and then again in the summer)

Port Isaac, of course, has its own repository of local history, the excellent PISCES project (www.portisaacheritage.co.uk). Many readers will know all about it but there is so much of interest it is well worth visiting again, if you haven't looked for a bit. There are 25 themes to choose from including people, singing and music and the RNLI. There are also oral history videos where people talk about their memories of times past, and lots more.

Over the years people have visited Cornwall for holidays and documentaries and there is quite a collection of old movies online now. A 1930's one has some film of Tintagel Castle, and also of the Bridge at Wadebridge. The rest is of Fowey and the area around it and shows some very nice boating scenes (<https://tinyurl.com/Tintagel-Wadebridge>).

Pathe News has much material of interest about Cornwall, but one short movie of Port Isaac from 1938 (<https://tinyurl.com/Port-Isaac-1938>) makes good viewing. The voice-over starts off by quoting the Charles Kingsley poem "The Three Fishers" (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Three_Fishers) saying

*"For men must work and women must weep,
And there's little to earn, and many to keep,
Though the harbour bar be moaning"*

and that Charles Kingsley was inspired to write his poem about life and tragedy among the fisher people after a visit to Port Isaac. The film shows the 'fine new breakwater' and says Port Isaac used to be a 'hotbed of smuggling'.

The picture that Charles Kingsley's poem paints is rather grim and also historically incomplete – and there are some interesting websites about the role of women in the history of the Cornish fishing industry. The Cornish Good Seafood Guide has some great photos and stories about the way the pilchards were collected and processed – very hard work indeed and largely the responsibility of women (<https://tinyurl.com/history-cornish-fishing-women>). This is echoed in these other two sites that give some accounts of women running businesses as early as 1677 in Newlyn:

"We know of some self-employed female fish curers such as Elizabeth Noye of Mousehole (a Keigwin) whose 1677 inventory included 16 bucklers, 14 pressing poles and 21 pressing stones. Lydia Tonkin was her Newlyn equivalent in the late 1690s-1700s. There was also a large number of women employed to work in the fish cellars from Newlyn and Mousehole fishing families."

(<https://www.victoriacountyhistory.ac.uk/explore/items/fish-women> and see also <https://www.stivesfishingheritage.com/collections/women/> and Port Quin, Port Gaverne and Port Isaac all have similar stories (<https://tinyurl.com/Malcolm-Lee-history>).

Another good film starts off with Truro, where there are some lovely scenes, and has some excellent old film of Port Isaac. A screenshot from it (right) shows the Platt with some fine looking cars lined up (<https://tinyurl.com/Truro-Port-Isaac>).

Tony Wainwright

Gavin Tyler is now heading up the Emergency & Flood Group. He has been down on the Platt at all hours checking the water during the recent storms but luckily we have been fine.

Pencarrow House welcomes local Cornish Olympic champion Annie Vernon

Thursday April 16th
7.15pm
Tickets £10 each

Join us for an entertaining talk from Annie about her rise to become an Olympic Champion and the trials and challenges she encountered along the way. Annie was born in Truro in 1982, went to St Minver Primary and Wadebridge schools and then on to Cambridge University to study History.

She didn't start rowing until she was 17 years old, but by 2004 she had already come 3rd in the under-23 World championships!

Now Annie is an author. Her first book was called Mind Games, which is about the psychology of elite sport.

She is also a sports writer and commentator, and an accomplished speaker and adviser on how to apply the mindset and skills of an elite sportsperson to the world of business.

Copies of her latest book "Lose, lose and lose again" will be available for signing.

Chorale has Record Number of Singers

Despite the dreadful weather we've been enduring, the Chorale have been reliably attending rehearsals at the new St Endellion Hall. In fact, we believe that it is our new location that has added to the record attendances this winter as everyone can park right outside.

The Chorale is now full – we have 45 members, most of whom are regular attendees, so Janet has called time on any prospective new members for the time being.

We have been practising hard to prepare for the Wadebridge Festival of Music and Speech which is a popular event with the choir, mainly because Janet is the President of the Festival and we don't like to let her down! This year we are singing The Snow by Edward Elgar and I'm Beginning to See The Light by Duke Ellington, Harry James, Johnny Hedges and Don George. All the Chorale love to sing these two songs but must make sure that we don't get carried away with enthusiasm at the Festival and forget all the technical bits which Janet has taught us. As she says regularly, 'Don't enjoy yourselves too much!'

After the Festival, we will be preparing for our next concert, which is taking place in St Austell in May. This will be a combined concert with the Restormel Concert Band and should be an excellent event – more information about that to follow.

5 Day 'Freedom in Painting' Course with Ashley Hanson, 13- 17 May 2020

Newlyn Society artist, Ashley Hanson is once again coming to Port Isaac and is very much looking forward to running another painting course at the local village hall. The 5 day course will include spending one day on location in Trebarwith Strand and Bude, in addition to the main source of inspiration, magical Port Isaac. Here artists will make studies that they can bring back to the studio and Ashley will help them transform their ideas into paintings, sharing lots of his tips and technique. In celebration of running courses in Cornwall for 10 years, artists participating on this course are invited to take part in the 'Cornwall, Colour and Coast Exhibition' in Henley on Thames, in June.

Ashley is a renowned colourist and landscape artist and has been selected for the Royal Academy Summer Exhibition, The Discerning Eye and the National Open Art Competition and has shown extensively throughout the UK. The cost of the course is £430, however if you book before 31 March there is a £30 discount for local artists, please mention Trio. To book or for more information see www.ashleyhanson.co.uk or email info@ashleyhanson.co.uk or call 07957 665378.

Popularity of Wadebridge Festival of Music & Speech continues

2020 looks like being another bumper year for this popular festival. It takes place from March 2nd-7th and will feature its usual wide range of classes for all ages and abilities, with over 340 entries in 87 classes.

'Entries have been flooding in as usual, so it looks like it's going to be busy week for us all.' said Phil Blake, President of the Festival.

This year's adjudicators are Bryan Husband FISM, GRSM, AWCMD, for the music classes. He will be making a welcome return to the Festival and Helen Grady BA (Hons) Bristol, who recently performed with the Royal Shakespeare Company, who will be adjudicating our 2020 Speech Classes.

During the Festival, classes will be taking place every day at the Town Hall Wadebridge and the general public are very welcome to pop in and enjoy the performances.

The Festival features classes including school and adult choirs and choral groups, poetry, solo singers of all ages, barber shop and poetry as well as piano, stringed instruments, guitar, brass, woodwind and recorder.

There is something for everyone to enjoy and it's only £1 per day to come in. Audience members are always surprised at the high standard of performance and some have been inspired to take part the following year, so put the date in your diary and come and support these local performers – we look forward to seeing you!
