

Amy Foster

Amy Foster is a short story by Joseph Conrad, written in 1901. In 1996 it was made into a film that was later retitled Swept from the Sea. The film starred Vincent Perez, Rachel Weisz and Sir Ian McKellan as well as a large number of people who lived in Port Isaac as is shown by these photos. A lot of the filming took place in and around Port Isaac and Port Quin.

The transformation of Port Quin

Hedley Venning Philp

CourtesyAnnie Philp

A collage of the filming - lots of local faces and Elizabeth Childs is pictured in the blue skirt with Nigel Andrews

Courtesy Marion Andrews

Left: the transformation of Victoria House. Above right: John Redex and Spike Jones. Below left and right: Spike Jones and Katie Childs

Courtesy Dee Littlechild

Harold Brown, Mark Townsend and Noreen Honey

Mark Townsend, Warwick Provis, Bernard Baker, Bill Spry and Jim May

Mark Townsend, Noreen & Ian Honey and Bill Spry
Courtesy Janet Townsend