

Jan Green

Two of Jan's paintings: above Pentire Cottage and a beach scene to the right

"I first came to Port Isaac in the 1960s and knew straight away it was a very special place. Although work and family circumstances have made it necessary to move away several times we have always returned and wouldn't want to live anywhere else.

Frank McNichol inspired us all and even those of us who had not picked up a paintbrush since our schooldays found we could produce something with his encouragement and guidance."