

The War Years

During the First World War years the Station was temporarily closed as there were not enough men left in the village to crew the Lifeboat.

A local fishing boat, Willing Boys, stood by to act as Lifeboat and performed one successful service. On May 15th 1918 she landed 15 people from the SS Mars of Bergen, which stranded at Port Quin in dense fog.