

Victoria House

This is one of the older buildings in the village but was almost destroyed by a tragic fire in 1997. It was restored to its former glory by Port Isaac builder, John McDonnell.

Rumour says that John Wesley preached from the upper windows overlooking Fore Street and then escaped through the skylight and over the rooftops.

Pauline Stephens (nee Brown) remembers when it was run by her Uncle and Aunt, Wilfred James Brown (eldest son of Reuben & Louise Brown) and his wife Grace. "The shop sold everything from ice-cream to radios and Wilfred was a master at mending anything and everything."

Joan Murray can remember when Reuben Brown ran the shop.
